The Newest Novelties Ivory Cordelieres $1.95

Since fashion reverts to the prehistoric for inspiration, these ivory pieces are of unusual interest, for they are as old as the rock strata from which they are mined.

Thousands upon thousands of years ago the Northland waters were inhabited by great herds of walrus. The tusks of the animals have remained there until today, buried under the layers of earth, rock and coal that cover them. Only occasionally a piece of tusk is unearthed, beautifully colored by the minerals of the rock in which they were embedded. Each year men are finding fewer and fewer of them.

Various shapes and sizes of ivory pieces hang from a black cord that is fitted with ivory slide. Rose, lavender, cream, green, tan and brown shades.
