

Uni Regent Says Inquiry Welcome

Frank W. Judson Asserts Nebraska Institution's Upkeep Low Compared to Others.

Frank W. Judson, regent of the University of Nebraska, believes that the special committee appointed by the legislature to investigate affairs of the university worked hard and conscientiously.

"Our state university, or any other state institution should be open to such investigation at all times and I am sure that the regents welcome a fair and impartial investigation," Mr. Judson said.

"As it is true of every large institution of this sort, there always exists some feeling that changes should be made in the methods of operation, of instruction and in personnel. Naturally, the moment this committee was appointed, those who had criticism to offer became active in furnishing information to the committee, while those who felt that the university was operating along satisfactory lines made no effort to express their feelings or commend the institution or those actively in charge."

Mr. Judson expressed the hope that all members of the legislature will read the committee's report relative to the growth of the university and the handling of its increased appropriations. He does not believe those in charge of the university have been guilty of extravagance.

"I have figures showing the per capita cost of the leading state universities of this country, including Nebraska," Mr. Judson added, "and I find that our own is the lowest as compared with 10 or 12 others operating in states nearest to us. Some of the well known state universities show a cost per student double that of the University of Nebraska. The salaries being paid the officials and faculty of our university are below the average. In my opinion the board of regents should thank and express their appreciation to the special committee for their efforts."

Wife Gives Away Husband; He Is Held for Bigamy

Beatrice, Neb., March 28.—H. L. Gore of Republican county, Kansas, was arrested here last night on a charge of bigamy and will be held pending the arrival of a Kansas officer. Mrs. Gore resides here. It is alleged she gave her husband to another woman whom she met while the two were in the state reformatory at York. The law interfered and Gore was arrested.

Central High Clubs to Act on Resignations of Eight Juniors

Club members at Central High school have been notified to attend a meeting Friday afternoon at 3 to discuss the situation caused by the eight juniors who voted Monday afternoon to resign from all clubs and societies.

Members of the faculty are hopeful that the expression of the juniors will result in curbing the ambitions of some of the clubs to use their memberships for personal benefits.

Gilt Big at Birth.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Central City, Neb., March 28.—In a litter of pigs farrowed on March 14 on the farm of R. C. Riley, breeder of purebred Durocs residing five miles north of here, one gilt measured 16 inches in length over the back, stood 12 inches high, had a girth of 11 inches, a 3 3/4-inch bone and weighed 4 3/4 pounds. It is of Pathfinder and Sensation breeding.

A Queer World

Plan to Erect Statue of Bulldog on Yale Campus Ruined—Not in Tune With Esthetic Effect.

New Haven, Conn., March 28.—Prospects of Yale's traditional bulldog appearing on the campus in bronze disappeared today with the announcement by the Yale Daily News that 23 of 25 class secretaries canvassed were opposed to the prospect. Caustic comment on the esthetic effect of placing the bulldog's statue on the campus with that of Nathan Hale and other famous Yale men accompanied most of the letters. It had been proposed that annual raise $8,000 for a statue of the bulldog.

Dies in Vain.

Van Nuys, Cal., March 28.—A dog owned by A. W. Sastian lost its life while searching a burning barn for its master's baby, safe in the house at the time. The dog had been taught to search for the child when asked the question, "where is baby?" Some one asked that question while the flames were destroying the barn, and the dog dashed into the burning building.

Hope Blasted.

New York, March 28.—The hope of passengers from abroad that each could be his own doctor, engendered by the ruling of Thomas W. Whittle, surveyor of the port, that passengers may bring with them one quart of liquor for medicinal purposes, was dispelled last night by E. C. Yellowley, acting federal prohibition officer for New York, who said any person leaving a ship with liquor in his possession would be arrested.

Telegraph Pole Knocked Down When Auto Hits It

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Bostwick, Neb., March 28.—When George Callahan, local stock feeder, attempted to turn his auto on the station grounds here this morning, he backed into a brace wire to a telegraph pole. The shock snapped the pole about the middle, where woodpeckers had drilled holes in it, and all the cross-country wires were left dangling until a new pole could be put in.

Would Oust U. S. Government

St. Joseph, Mich., March 28.—C. E. Ruthenberg, one of the 22 radicals accused of syndicalism, is anxious to bring about the overthrow of the present "capitalistic government" and substitute a communist regime. He testified here today in the trial of William Z. Foster, with whom he is a co-defendant. Ruthenberg is executive secretary of the Workers' party.

Aurora Charities Unite.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Aurora, Neb., March 28.—The Associated Charities of Aurora was organized Tuesday at a meeting held by representatives of most of the civic societies. Mrs. Mel Daniels, was temporary chairman and W. C. Eloe, C. E. Goman and Mrs. F. E. Edgerton were named to prepare a constitution. Heretofore each church and society has been conducting its own charity work. Hereafter they will be combined for the entire city.

Missing Son Sought.

Police have been asked to search Omaha for Elmer McMillan, son of Mrs. F. A. McMillan of Portland, Ore.

Next Sunday, Easter, The Stepper has been invited to take dinner at Jane's. They'll meet at 10:30 and first enjoy the Easter Services

"The Stepper"

Says, I'll want a new spring hat, it may be one of the new grays, or a spring shade of tan; but to be seen on Easter with a winter worn "felt" would be about as bad an offense as could be committed.

Come in today; see the new Spring Hats The Stepper is talking about. This is The Stepper's Headquarters.
