

School Must Be Informing Force for Electorate

New Needs Demand More of All-Around Training, Says J. H. Beveridge to Club Members.

"The Little Red Schoolhouse" makes an excellent topic for conversation, particularly for legislators, but as an educational institution it is obsolete," said J. H. Beveridge, superintendent of schools, before the Triangle club at Hotel Fontenelle Tuesday.

"It may have been all right for our fathers and for some of us, but the queer part is that no one of us chooses to send his children to the little red schoolhouse to be educated," he continued.

"We talk about it in an appealing tone, but the education of the little red schoolhouse and the education of today are not to be compared any more than the washtub on the farm is to be compared with the modern electric washing machine."

Outlining the requirements of a successful school superintendent, Mr. Beveridge declared that such a man must not only be trained professionally for the work which he is doing, and be a good business manager, but almost must persuade the public to support what is good for it.

He declared that progress and improvement are accompaniments of the life of today. Schooling, he submitted, figures to prove, is an active deterrent of crime.

Effort of the schools, he emphasized, must be to dignify the manual arts. The safety of the universal ballot, the speaker asserted, lies in universal education of the electorate which yields that ballot.

"If we do not wish to grant that each man owes his brother something, then at least cold-blooded logic will tell us, if for no other reason, that the protection of America requires a fairly well educated and informed electorate."

C. F. Schwager Is Elected Head of Alamito Company

Herbert S. Daniel, Receiver, Voiced Large Block of Dairy Shares at Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

Charles F. Schwager was elected president of the Alamito Dairy company by a unanimous vote at the annual meeting of the company's stockholders held in the Alamito plant yesterday afternoon.

Herbert S. Daniel, receiver for the Waterloo Creamery company, voted a large block of stock which was owned by the Waterloo concern in the Alamito. Leroy Corliss, former president of the Waterloo and Alamito companies, who held approximately $110,000 worth of shares in the Alamito company, was not present at the meeting. A decision by District Judge Fitzgerald cancelled the stock held by Corliss, on the grounds that he had not paid for it. The meeting, which by virtue of Judge Fitzgerald's decision, was attended by preferred as well as common stockholders, was closed to outsiders. C. R. Snyder, who has remained as general manager of the company, explained the financial situation of the company to the stockholders.

In addition to Schwager, Frank L. Kernan, who was manager of the company until two or three years ago, and Mr. Daniel were elected directors. Henry Kohlf, who has been acting as president during the past few weeks, asked before the formal opening of the meeting that he be relieved of his duties, due to ill health. He urged that Snyder be elected president.

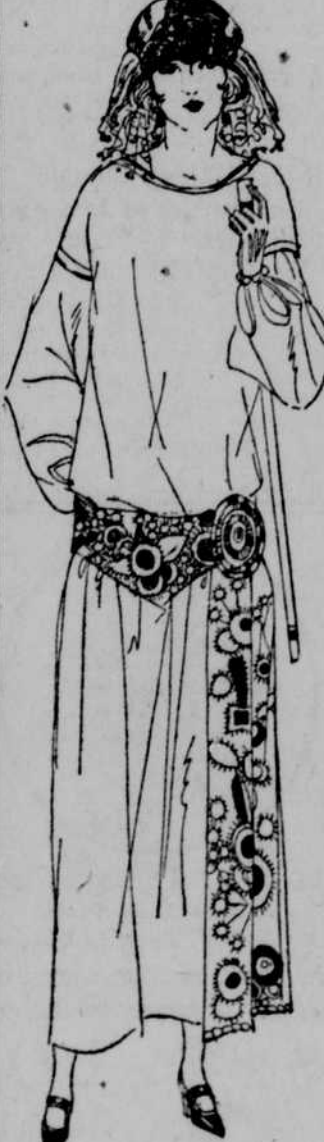

According to Mr. Daniel the Alamito company is in such financial condition that its business will be carried on successfully and without interruption. A. S. Ritchie, former vice president, presided at the meeting. Mr. Kernan was made a vice president and Mr. Daniel secretary and treasurer. Mr. Schwager was for many years president of the company and left the company in about 1917.
