Joe Prejean, righthanded hurler, was released to Omaha today by the local Texas League club. Prejean, a representative Frenchman of this section, was signed last year while pitching esimpro ball for the Gulf Reinery team of Port Arthur. He has had no profesisonal experience, but his performances in local circles justified the prediction that he was a brilliant future. He has been i the local camp for two weeks, but rain has forced inactivity to such an extent that Manager Edington has been unbale to de-

Bob Meusel a Changed Ball Player

Young Yankee Outfielder Showing Lots of Improvement in Training

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY,

New York, April 4 .- The other day we watched Bob Meusel, young out fielder of the Yankees, make brilliant reaches of Heine man park, New Or-It was as tonishing to see player, frequently slovenly and lazy in action, showing unmistakable inter est in his work. And, it was only a practice game. He was in left field, and the sun's rays struck at him directly. Distinctly not an easy place to gobble flies. But Meusel caught them, including sev eral hard ones, in a fashion causing voluble praise from onlookers. There was judgment, grace both in receiv ing the ball and running for it, and to finish off, a rifle-throw. Here, we thought, is a player with the equipment for true greatness in baseball. He can slug terrifically, harder than any Yankee, except 'Babe" Ruth. His throwing arm has no equal in the game. And, strange enough, in comparison with his work in the past, he seems to have the requisites for fine outfielding.

It was that Miller Huggins, the manager, was highly pleased wih Meusel as he worked that day. Inclined to laziness and indifference at the most inopportune times, Meusel has angered Huggins frequently in the past, and never more so than in the last world series when he failed to run out an infield smash that might have given the Yankees victory. Meuse today is much changed.

82 and Still a Champion

Dan O'Leary, 81 years old, undefeated as a heel and toe walker, says he 'too young" to play golf. However, O'Leary expects to shoot a good game before he's 102, for he has made a match to be played with President Hardng at Washington in 1942.

O'Leary is in Omaha this week and will endeaver to walk a mile in nine ninutes while three youths on skates go three failes in relays in a race to be staged Sunday at a rink at Twenty-fifth and Farnam.
