

Harding to Wage Fight for Court

U. S. Entry in Body to Be President's Aim, Observer's Impression From Recent Developments.

Preparing for Campaign

By MARK SULLIVAN. Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Washington, April 11.—A setting down of the more important impression Washington has got since the return of Harding and his party would lead with the impression that the president will fight within the limits of his temperament for his proposal that America join the international court and that he will authorize the members of his cabinet and his friends to go as far as they like in pressing it on the country.

Harding Prefers Silence.

Harding prefers not to make any announcement on this subject until, let us say, next December or January, and when he comes to a decision on the point, he will make the announcement himself: "An earlier announcement has not been, and will not be, countenanced by Mr. Harding." Most of the republican leaders agree that it would be inexpedient and politically dangerous to fail to nominate a president for a second term; but that there is considerable number of republican leaders especially among the senators who have a contrary notion and would like to put forward another candidate, and finally, that there are at least three men as to whom their friends have made moves of one degree or another of definiteness looking to putting them in the race in certain advantages.

Hays to Manage Campaign

As to the organization of the republican party, it is clear that among some republican leaders, but not necessarily including President Harding, there have been definite moves looking to bringing back into the management either Will H. Hays or some one with the equivalent of Hays, as a resourcefulness.

Not Entering League

To go into the court, Mr. Hoover said, would not be "entering the league in any sense," on the contrary, he argued, it would aid in placing international relationships on a basis of law rather than politics and would at the same time continue the American policy of conciliation and good will.

Work for Everybody.

As to issues, the republican leaders say that if the present wave of prosperity continues for a year and seven months, they want need any issues. They point to the fact that there isn't an unemployed man in the country who wants to work and they cheer each daily announcement of wages increased by steel mills and mines. They celebrate it all as a triumph of republican management of the country.

U. S. to Probe Curative

Hot Springs, Ark., April 11.—"Dr. Uncle Sam" may be added to the nation's other titles if an investigation of the curative properties of the Hot Springs in the national park here discloses they have definite healing qualities. Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, announced last night. Before leaving for Washington, Dr. Work, in private life a physician of Pueblo, Colo., said he would confer with the surgeon general of the United States to determine proper methods of determining the medicinal qualities of the waters.

Electric Light for Farms

Topic at St. Louis Meeting. St. Louis, Mo., April 11.—Means of supplying electric light and power from central stations to farms were discussed at the first annual convention of the middle western division of the national electric light association, which opened today.

Nicolai Lenine Improves.

Moscow, April 11.—Nicolai Lenine's condition has become so satisfactory that daily bulletins will be discontinued, it was announced today. Hereafter bulletins will be issued only when they are warranted. The latest bulletin stressed the improvement of Lenine's nervous system.

Interviewers, Mostly Women, Keep Herbert Hoover Busy

Secretary of Commerce Answers Every Question Put to Him at Meeting of Voters' League.

By MYRTLE MASON. Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Des Moines, Ia., April 11.—Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, was probably the most interviewed man in the United States Wednesday. He arrived in Des Moines in the morning to speak at an evening session of the National League of Women Voters. During the day, he was the target for every writer here, and of scribes there are many, mostly women.

Navy Is Vital.

"A navy is vital to foreign trade and the whole basis of international comity," said the secretary. "International commerce and foreign trade are necessary to the maintenance of American standards of living."

Hoover Makes Opening Defense of Harding Plan to Enter Court

Des Moines, Ia., April 11.—American membership in the permanent court of international justice, organized by the league of nations, was advocated by Secretary Herbert Hoover here tonight as "an essential step" in the direction of world peace.

Bedlam Reigns in House of Commons as Chancellor Attempts to Counteract Defeat of Tuesday.

Adjournment Is Favored

By Associated Press.

London, April 11.—Perhaps never since the days of Parnellite obstruction has such a scene of violent uproar been witnessed in the house of commons as that which today transformed the ordinarily placid and dignified chamber into absolute bedlam.

Power of States.

"The states have greater price fixing powers than has the District of Columbia," he said, suggesting that states might enact minimum wage laws which would be in a stronger position than those of the district.

Wield Big Stick.

The laborites clearly felt that they had a big stick to wield against the government in the interests of ex-service men, which was the question originally before the house. In this attitude the labor members are likely to receive the support of the whole laborite electorate.

Speaker Ignored.

All the speaker's efforts to pacify the recalcitrants appeared only to inflame them still further. The speaker protested that it would be "very bad thing" if the members should force an adjournment on account of grave disorders, and begged them to refrain. All to no purpose—"we demand an answer," was shouted on every hand by the angry laborites.

Other Nations Stronger.

"No other nation can summon us into court except with our consent. The court itself cannot summon us either in any manner or degree exert upon us any kind of compulsion, not even moral. Our proposal to enter the court and the act of adhesion to it which President Harding has asked, is based upon the assumption that compulsion is not necessary for peoples of good will and a sense of justice."
