Coach Schmidt Turns Attention to Track Men

Central Mentor Has Material for Well-Balanced Team.

Coach J. G. Schmidt of the Central High school spiked-shoe performers, last night turned his optics on the track candidates for some promising representation in the field events, where the Hilltoppers seem to be weakest. The Purple mentor is being assisted by "Will" Adams, former Drake university trackster, who is giving special instruction in the discus prospects.

Central seems to be well stalked with sprinters, and after few workouts with the field events the Purple should have a well balanced crew ready to compete for state honors at Lincoln. Schmidt will give his proteges a chance to run against them as soon as possible, and start competing for the state pentathlon ribbons on home grounds.

Galloway, Howell, Hartman and Reiff have been heaving the shot a fair distance in practicing for form, while Marrow and Galloway are best in handling the discus. Captain Pope, who won his letter in the high jump, will likely do the aerial work for the Purple, while Hughes, Amos and Marrow all do well over the bamboo at five feet.

Torrison, also a letter trackster, stands out in this event. Broad jumps are as good as made at the Hilltop school and when distances are measured within the next few days, some good accounts are to be expected. Central trackmen will work out Saturday afternoon, according to Coach Schmidt, to prepare for the inter-coach meet April 27.

Golf Team Sails in May.

New York, April 11.—Three and probably four American professional golf stars will sail from New York on May 3 to compete in the British open championship, to be held at Troon, Scotland, June 11 to 15.

This was revealed today when Gene Sarazen, American open champion, announced he would leave on that date accompanied by Walter Hagen, present holder of the British open title, and Charles Hoffer of Philadelphia. At the same time it was reported that Jim Barnes, Pelham Manor "pro," and former national open champion, also would join the invaders, but Barnes declared he had not yet reached a definite decision. The fact that Hagen and Sarazen would seek new laurels abroad has been known for some time, but the addition of Hoffer and probably Barnes to the invaders was unexpected.

Boxer Killed.

Canton, O., April 11.—Albert DeRose, 20, known to fight fans throughout northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania as "Rabbit" DeRose, is dead. Martin Perath, 28, may be fatally injured and three other men were seriously burned early today at the plant of the United Alloy Corporation when a tank of molten slag exploded. DeRose died within a few minutes after the accident. The men were accompanying the car to the slag dump.

Collins Leaves to Meet Kearns

HICAGO, April 11.—"Mike" Collins of Minneapolis, Minn., representing 120 American Legion posts of Montana and who have offered Jack Dempsey $200,000 to box Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, Minn., left tonight for Salt Lake City, Utah, to meet Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion. Collins desires to get Kearns' acceptance or rejection of the offer, which expires Saturday noon. He said that Dempsey would be paid $50,000 the moment he signs articles. In the event the match is not staged, Dempsey will get an additional $50,000, Collins said. The $200,000 guarantee to the champion has already been raised, according to Collins.

Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, accompanied Collins to Salt Lake City. Kane has accepted the terms in behalf of the St. Paul heavyweight. The proposed match is 15 rounds to a decision.

Amateur Mitt Champs Crowned

Boston, April 11.—A new list of national amateur boxing champions is on the records today. As a result of the 15th bouts of the last two nights in the Boston arena among the pick of the amateurs of this country and Canada, three Boston men, two from Cleveland, and two from Pittsburgh and one from New York hold the titles in the various classes for 1923.

The 1st of champions follows:
 115-pound class, Al Bender, New York.
 125-pound class, Harry Marcus, Cleveland.
 135-pound class, Terry Parker, Boston.
 145-pound class, John (Terry) McManus, Boston.
 155-pound class, John Rint, Cleveland.
 165-pound class, Homer Robinson, Pittsburgh.
 175-pound class, Harry Fay, Pittsburgh.
 Heavyweight class, Tom Kirby, Boston.
 California, whose entrants are Los Angeles and San Francisco had been picked as favorites in the 125, 135 and 147-pound classes, were eliminated in the national counts, partly as result of unfavorable breaks in close bouts.

Benny Gould Breaks Jaw.

New York, April 10.—Benny Gould, Canadian featherweight, was taken to a hospital with a broken jaw tonight after he had lost one technical knockout to Mike Dundee of Chicago. Gould's seconds tossed a towel at the beginning of the ninth round in a 12-round match. Each weighed 125 1/2 pounds.

They Wish Him Luck.
 Success as an American league umpire predicted by admirers of Clark Rowland, former manager of the White Sox, Rowland has been officiating at the spring practice games played by the Athletics, and reports from the south are highly favorable.

Yankees to Play in Greatest Stadium

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY. By Universal Service.
 New York, April 11.—A little more dabbling and brushing on of paint, some sweeping and gathering up of the leavings of stupendous loads of steel, concrete and wood and the Yankee stadium, great edifice of baseball, will be ready for the opening of the season on April 18.

and is the biggest money maker in the game.

Business acumen, of which the purchase of "Babe" Ruth for $150,000 from the Red Sox in 1920, is an outstanding example, is the reason for the colonels' success, of course, but it is not to be overlooked that they gambled in red sporting fashion.

For that matter, they are gambling now, looking to baseball to reach new heights in popularity, and to be ready

Half-Volley in Tennis Requires More Perfect Timing Than Any Other Stroke

By VINCENT RICHARDS. National Indoor Singles Champion. Universal Service Staff Correspondent.
 We hear much nowadays in the tennis circles are of the opinion that the future generation of tennis stars will depend a great deal on this valuable stroke. The half-volley might be termed the climax of tennis skill. In the terms of the average tennis fan, the half-volley is nothing more than an ordinary pickup.

The half-volley requires more perfect timing, eyesight and racquet than any other stroke in the tennis game. The ball simply meets the ground and the face of the racket at almost the same time, the ball bouncing off the ground onto the strings. The shot is made with a stiff wrist short swing, very much on the order of a volley, only one does not use the following.

Mostly Defensive Shot.
 The young tennis player who is just learning the half-volley should remember that this stroke is essentially a defensive shot. It should only be used as a last resort, when you are caught out of position by your opponent's shot. I could offer no better advice to the ambitious young player than to tell him never to half-volley unless he is trying to extricate himself from a dangerous position without retreating.

But notwithstanding the above statement there are certain players who are able to turn the half-volley into a point-winner. Perhaps the greatest half-volleyer that the game of lawn tennis has ever had, has been Richard Norris Williams. The popular Dick has achieved remarkable results with this stroke. He turns a defensive into an aggressive attack with the result that he is known as the wonder man with this shot.

Advice to Beginners.
 But how many of us do care to do the things that Williams does with

Scrambled Sports

EDDIE ROUSH, the Cincinnati player who demands half the state of Ohio before signing a Red contract, is about to jump to independent baseball.

Yesterday the officials of the Cincinnati club held a meeting. Roush was present and informed the moguls that he wanted a three-year contract and $16,000 a year to appear in a Red uniform. Did the Red officials consent to give Roush his demands? They did not. They told Roush he could have a one-year contract and 15 grand a year. Eddie refused to sign and he remains a holdout.

If Roush doesn't come to terms, and it looks as if he won't, George Harper, former Oklahoma City player, may get a chance to fill Roush's shoes. Harper got in the game with the Reds a little last year and showed up pretty good, enough to show the Cincinnati club that he was keeping on the roster.

Remember George Hale, catcher for the Omaha club in 1922? George jumped to semi-pro ball because he was refused a boost in salary. Well, Hale is back in organized baseball and he's with the Omaha club. George will tell you that baseball independence isn't what it is supposed to be.

JUST at the present time Jess Willard is attracting about as much attention from sportdom as any other athlete, or near athlete. Big Jess, as everyone knows, is trying to "come back." He says it's the glory he wants; not money. Willard is said to have money he received from his oil leases and farm lands.

Recently a report blew out of Willard's training camp that Jess had hurt his arm so badly that he would not be able to fight Floyd Johnston in May. Ray Archer, manager, and Willard raved about it and you can't blame 'em. There's a lot of money involved in the coming bout and Jess and his manager will be there to collect their end, you can bet your Kelly on that.

REGARDLESS of the possible injury, a man the age of Willard is bound to find trouble getting into shape. Jeffries was five years younger than Willard when he tried to stage a "come-back" against Jack Johnson. The story of the battle is history.

Willard's followers will tell you Floyd Johnston isn't the polished fighter by a long way that Jack Johnson was when he fought Jeffries. That may be so, but Willard isn't another Jeffries, either, so that squares things.

JULIAN MEE, former Buffalo shortstop, is having a tough time trying to land a place with the St. Louis City Packers.

Early last season Mee was shipped to the Buffaloes from the Detroit Tigers. He was praised to the sky by the Tiger bosses. He was

DETROIT, Mich., April 10.—Eight hundred baseball fans stood in line in a snowstorm today to get their choice of seats for the American League opener here April 26. One Tiger booster took up the stand at 11 o'clock last night and waited beside a bonfire for the honor of purchasing the first ticket. The advance sale was approximately 8,000 tickets.

STEPHEN BEATS USHER.
 Ralph Stephens defeated William Usher, 35 to 33, in 68 innings, last night in the state three-cushion tournament at Holmes' billiard parlors. Harsch played McNeil tonight.

1922 Home Run Records to Fall?

New York, April 11.—Following the "Sheiks of Slam," i. e., baseball home-run hitters, has come to be one of the most interesting of the fans' hobbies. League home run records last season were shattered like eggshells under pliedrivers. They say, in the training camps, that 1922 records will go the same way.

Contributors to the home run records last year in the majors and leading minor leagues included four first basemen, two keystone sackmen, one catcher and 17 outfielders.

Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis Cardinals' second baseman, led all circuit swatters with 42.

Kenneth Williams of the Browns topped the American leaguers with 29. Three Pacific Coast league outfielders led their mates—Strand of Salt Lake with 28, C. High of Portland with 24 and Poole of Portland with 22. Yank Davis of Tulsa led the Western with 15. Lamb of the same club potted out 32 and East of Wichita accumulated for 30.

Tigers' Park Enlarged.
 The Detroit American league club will be in a position to entertain a world series crowd next fall, provided, of course, that the Tigers are returned the victors in the 1923 race. The Tiger Jungle, the only downtown baseball plant remaining in any major league city, is the scene of feverish activity these days to finish building an additional deck to the grand stand. The added space will care for 8,500 spectators, bringing the total capacity of the stands to 27,500.

Postpone Amateur Smoker.

The smoker for all Omaha amateur ball players which was scheduled for the Auditorium tomorrow evening had been postponed, according to an announcement made last night by Jake Isaacson, secretary of the Mundy association.
