

Limitation Bill on Tax Levies Is Advanced

Amendment by Mathers Wins Sufficient Support to Pass Measure to Third Reading.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 12.—After a five-hour argument, the lower house advanced a bill to third reading limiting tax levies in towns of more than 1,000 population up to the metropolitan city class to 12 mills, unless a special election is called, in which event the people may vote to impose a levy not in excess of 18 mills on actual valuation of property.

The bill, as considered yesterday, made it impossible to vote more than a 16 mill levy. This morning Mathers amended the 16 to 18 mills.

"The real enemies of the schools are not the men who want to see their expenditures kept within bounds and thus gain confidence of the people," Speaker Mathers said. "Instead, it is the people who refuse to countenance any curtailment in expenses of our educational system and by so doing lose confidence of the public."

A number of members voting in favor of the bill announced they might change their votes when it came up for third reading if they heard criticism of their stand.

Following are those who voted against it: Amspoker, Auten, Bailey, Baldrige, Boushousen, Burke, Davis, Gallagher, Garber, Hughes, Jacoby, Johnson, Lamb, Mears, Orr, Armstrong, Parkinson, Regan, Smiley, Smith, Whitehead, Yochum of Otee.

Mrs Ford Says She Would Not Live in White House

Mrs. Henry Ford, m.

The Henry Ford boom for the presidency, while yet a bit undefined, received a severe jolt when Mrs. Henry Ford told people in Georgia, where she was visiting with her husband, that she wouldn't live in the White House and that if Mr. Ford were elected he would have to go to Washington alone.

Woman Democrat Says That World Court Is Administration 'Feeler'

Des Moines, Ia., April 12.—That the Harding administration is using the international court as a "feeler" of public opinion with respect to the league of nations was the contention today by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the democratic committee, who is here to speak at the fourth annual convention of the National League of Women Voters.

The question in the minds of the last night on the international court, and Judge Florence L. Allen's plea that war be declared outlawed by all nations, discussion is rife among the leaders of the nation who are meeting here. Opinion is divided as to the worth of Mr. Hoover's suggestions.

Feel Court Futile. There is a general feeling that the international court plan is not going far enough, that some association with definite power to legislate would be potent and that an international court would be futile as no nation would present itself, of its free will to budge.

In an interview Mr. Hoover admitted that there are questions of political differences between nations which are not judicable. The questions in the minds of the women gathered here resolves itself into "what good, then, is the court going to be if it has no power?"

Laud Court Plan. Resolutions were presented today by the committee on co-operation to prevent war, and lauding the international court plan.

The resolutions in detail recommend that the league of women voters work for the international court as part of their program. They also recommended "the outlawing of war in principle."

Support Urged for Court Plan

League of Women Voters to Consider Resolution Favoring Harding Idea. By the Associated Press. Des Moines, Ia., April 12.—A resolution asking the National League of Women Voters to support President Harding's proposed participation by the United States in the permanent court of international justice was introduced today at the convention by Miss Ruth Morgan, chairman of the international affairs department.

The Morgan resolution will be acted on Saturday. Conferences were arranged and it was reported that league of nations supporters will introduce a resolution to counteract that presented by Miss Morgan.

The resolution introduced by Miss Morgan in part reads: "That we pledge our active support to the proposal of the president and the secretary of state for participation by the United States in the permanent court on international justice believing this to be the first step leading toward the outlawry of war."

"That since fuller and more far-reaching co-operation is necessary to prevent war, we urge upon our government the calling of an international conference to consider further steps to eliminate causes of war and to abolish war itself, by association with other nations for maintenance of abiding peace."

Warrants Must Be Used to Pay Bills of Counties

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 12.—The lower house passed a senate bill on third reading today, which makes it impossible for county commissioners and supervisors to pay county employes for labor out of their own pocket and later draw on the treasury for this amount. All such bills must be paid by warrants issued by the county clerk under terms of this bill.

Solon Halts Row Over School Bill

Chairman Refuses to Release Measure; Women Join Confusion.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 12.—Voices of men in anger and soprano cries of women rose in the lobby of the state capitol today until they penetrated the chamber where the house was in session and caused proceedings to be halted.

"More trouble! Guess I'm needed," muttered "Mac" Baldrige, representative from Omaha, as he hurried his giant form through the doors into the lobby.

"Stop this," he ordered, pushing the women aside and parting the threatening men.

The men were Representatives Elsass and Smith of Omaha, and Representative Lundy of Broken Bow, chairman of the committee which has charge of the bill to elect members of boards of education from districts in Lincoln and Omaha.

Elasser and Smith were demanding that Lundy bring the bill out of the committee to let the house act on it. Lundy refused to do so. The women added their demands that the bill be brought out.

Friends of the bill allege that in the cities an educational bloc exists which works in favor of the "silk stocking" districts. This was the third time that Representative Baldrige has acted as peacemaker in legislative disputes.

Chester Votes Bonds to Install Water System

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Chester, Neb., April 12.—This town voted 4 to 1 in favor of $25,000 bonds, with an option of extending the issue to $31,000, for the building of a water system. It is said many citizens, who were enthusiastic for the issue, feared a close vote, and returned their children, students at college, to vote. A huge bonfire was lighted here Tuesday night to celebrate the victory. Five years ago the water issue failed, but lights carried.

On Short Rations. "Millions of dead fish, carried out of the canals by the flood, sent up a stench that was terrible and sickening. By Monday night we began to fear for our safety. We were on short rations and that terrible lost feeling began to make our digging and mucking seem aimless. Many of the party were useless now because of the insects and weakness.

"Monday night we reached the big cypress swamp, but we spent that night and all day Tuesday without food or water before one of the guides found a small Indian camp and got us some meal and water.

"We saw an airplane fly over the grove Tuesday, but while we thought it might be searching for us, I think they did not see us, as we were in a cypress jungle.

"Wednesday morning we were desperate, so Chapin, Cosden and I left the party and headed for McCrary's

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. The quickest cooking oats in the world. Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker. Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish. No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly. The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes. But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that's all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly. Ask for Quick Quaker if you want this style. Your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.
