

Advice on Health Given to Members of Triangle Club

40 to 50 Held Dangerous Age for Men by Dr. J. F. Langdon—Light Exercise Is Suggested.

The dangerous age of a man is between 40 and 50, according to Dr. J. F. Langdon, who spoke to members of the Triangle club yesterday noon at Hotel Fontenelle on the value of physical exercise during the seven ages of man.

"Between 40 and 50 a man should slow up a little of the work he should take up golf and may indulge in fishing, walking and similar diversions, but he should not engage in violent or competitive sports. During this period of his life exercise should be slow, easy and continual."

The speaker referred to golf as a grand and glorious sport and not necessarily an old man's game.

Strong Body First. "It is a mistake to allow your girl or boy to develop mentally at the expense of physical welfare," the doctor continued. "I would rather have my boy an average scholar and strong in body. Every man can to a large extent develop his physical structure. He should strive to have blood of sufficient quality and quantity and he should understand that the heart is the central power station of his body."

Outdoor sports were favored because of the fresh air feature and Dr. Langdon gave due credit to the usefulness of the gymnasium and home exercise. He urged that every man should adopt some form of sport, particularly the business man, who is in his office most of the working hours.

All Boys Should Swim. "Every boy should be taught to swim," the doctor said. "Swimming teaches a boy courage and confidence and brings all muscles into play. Walking is one of the best forms of exercise and should be followed assiduously. Up to 12 years of age a girl should be permitted to play the games that boys play, but between 12 and 20 her play and exercise should be supervised, perhaps in a gymnasium."

Seventy-five per cent of a doctor's cases are among women and most of these cases are due to neglect of proper exercise between 10 and 20. "Is spading in the garden during these spring days good exercise?" a member asked.

"It is," was the reply. "Henry S. Byrne wanted to know what kind of exercise a man should take between 60 and 70 and was told that his exercise should be mild."

WOWA Radio Artists Are Heard at Distant Points

Listeners in to WOWA who heard the offerings of the Mt. Calvary Commandery band of the Masonic York Rite organization were treated to an exceptional musical program. A variety of selections were appreciated, judging from the number of communications from radio fans.

Among the selections which struck a responsive chord in listeners were "Royal Trumpeters," a march; "The Sunny South," a medley, and the overture, "Lustspiel."

A special rendition of popular songs was offered by Mr. Rudolph Baters accompanied by Miss Mildred Long. The songs were "Steal a Little Kiss," "Am I to Blame," and "I Love Me."

Among the other numbers that pleased the invisible audience were "American Fantasy," "Nearer My God to Thee," the closing number, paraphrased by Otto Langey, scored a hit.

Numerous telegrams from Canada, Chicago and New York indicated that WOWA was hitting all parts of the country with extraordinary success. Local fans, including H. B. Luckey and William Holzman voiced their appreciation of the local station's broadcasting program. Mr. Holzman said he had heard nothing better in Europe. One fan said, "What's the use of tuning in distant points when WOWA is putting out such wonderful stuff."

Only minor details remained to be worked out.

After the report is in his hands, the president is expected to confer with commission members, probably late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Spring Farm Work Held Up Because of Lack of Moisture

Stockman Says Upper Soil Is Moist but Ground Dry Beneath—Corn Is Getting Scarce—Hogs $7.95.

William Holm of Emerson, who came in yesterday with a mixed load of cattle and hogs for the local market, said spring work had been held back in his section on account of unfavorable weather. He also said there had been but little blowing done and that there was plenty of moisture on the surface but that the ground was dry farther down.

Mr. Holm received $8 for his hogs which were butcher-weight and he got $9.15 for his cattle that averaged 1,121 pounds.

"We are 26 miles from the railroad," said Frank Nelson of O'Neill, who was on the market yesterday with a load of cattle, and as corn is getting scarce most of the farmers have marketed their livestock. Feeders who have to buy corn are bidding 75 cents a bushel and there seems to be very little for sale at that price.

The top price of the day of $7.95 a hundred was received yesterday at the local stockyards for a load of Poland-China hogs brought in by S. M. Ward of Tilford, S. D. Mr. Ward said he had four loads of cattle and another load of hogs which he expected to bring to market soon.

Rollo Allen of Irvington, a pig club boy, brought in a load of hogs by auto truck driven by George Cornwall, another pig club boy of Washington county, who won sweepstakes on a pure-bred Duroc gilt at the Washington county fair and the Fremont stock show. Rollo Allen said he joined the pig club in the spring of 1921 and he won third place at the Washington county fair that fall and second prize on a gilt at the 1922 fair.

L. E. Anderson of St. Edward received $9.25 a hundred for a load of 24 head of Hereford steers that averaged 1,095 pounds. He said he had a lot more of the same stock on feed which he expected to bring in soon on account of the corn scarcity although he had expected to feed them a little longer. According to Mr. Anderson farm work in his section is progressing pretty well and the small grain as practically all in.

Man Crazy by Drink Terrorizes Shoppers

Cursing at the top of his voice and endeavoring to pick fights with innocent bystanders, a large man, crazed by drink, frightened women and girls in the noonday crowd at Sixteenth and Douglas streets Tuesday.

He entered Joe Sutley's cigar store at Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue just as Detective Sergeant Trapp was lighting a cigar. He began immediately to vituperate the proprietor and all the customers. Sutley ordered him from the place. He stopped on the sidewalk and began to curse.

Detective Trapp followed him out. When the man showed signs of flight, Trapp drew a gun. The man attempted to get possession of the weapon. Trapp dazed him with a left hook to the jaw.

Then he half dragged, half walked the prisoner to the nearest patrol box and called the wagon. A night police constable who was on duty gave him his name as Robert Williams and said he lived at 1401 North Twenty-fourth street. He was lodged in a cell.

Ex-Governor, in Jail, Is Resigned

Former Mississippi Executive Hopes Fate Will Inspire More Respect for Laws.

Oxford, Miss., April 17.—Theodore B. Bilbo, former governor of Mississippi, awoke in the LaPoyette county jail here today facing 29 more days of imprisonment, the sentence of 30 days having been imposed after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of contempt of court.

Mr. Bilbo expected to be the star witness for Miss Frances Hirkhead of New Orleans, in her unsuccessful suit against Gov. Lee M. Russell, of Mississippi, failed to appear when summoned.

In his cozy quarters vacated by the jailer and his family for the prisoner's use, Mr. Bilbo last night smoked his cigar, received his friends and wrote letters. The door was unlocked and the windows without bars. All evidences of physical restraint had been eliminated.

The court's orders should be obeyed, no matter who goes to jail," remarked the prisoner. "Let me express the hope that my fate will have a tendency to inspire a more wholesome respect for the authority of the courts. If it will, my few days in jail is not altogether in vain."
