Maun hard but the Wichita hurler was tight in the pinches and backed by sensational support. Time and again when Omaha had started a rally, the locals made some sensational stops and cut off the chances of the visitors. Omaha made but three runs off their dozen hits while Wichita got nine off 11. Extra base hits and wildness on the part of both Odenwald and May helped Witchita.

"Pug" Griffin, pugnacious outfielder, started to "ride" Ollie Anderson in the first inning when Anderson called a strike on him which "Pug" thought too wide. In the fourth Anderson stopped the game when Griffin shouted in a remark from the outfield and chased the offending gardner while the game was held up for ten minutes, while "Kney" Defate and others orgued in vain with his "umps." Nick Cullop went to the pasture and fielded all right but could not hit with Griffin.

Omaha took a lead in the opening inning when O'Connor led off with a double just inside the foul line in left. Apperson bunted and Maun threw wildly to third while O'Connor have and the "jackrabhit" to cago, challenger, was declared a draw by selected and May the force of the chess of Defate and May the force of the United States between Frank J.
