

Moorhead Is Paid High Tribute in Funeral Sermon

Livestock Commission Man Would Have Celebrated Golden Wedding Anniversary Next Autumn.

Funeral services for George B. Moorhead, livestock commission man, who died in San Diego last Friday, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 at the home of his son, Harley G. Moorhead, 5216 Burt street.

Rev. Frank G. Smith paid high tribute to Mr. Moorhead, referring to him as a wholesome, upstanding, outstanding pioneer. "He took this great central west and made it valuable, giving to it the richness of the heritage you and I possess today for our own."

"We all know," he said, "that it is not the value of the land or natural resources that forms the richest part of our heritage, but the value of great, outstanding characters in all walks of life, like the one to whom we are paying tribute today."

"Mr. Moorhead was born in Ohio 56 years ago; 20 years afterwards he moved to Iowa, where he remained for 40 years, and then he came to Omaha, where he made his residence practically the rest of his life. Notwithstanding that he remained in Iowa until 1899, he was engaged in business in Nebraska for almost a quarter of a century prior to that time. Had he lived until autumn, this happy couple would have celebrated their 50th anniversary."

Mrs. H. Smalls sang "Lead Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me."

Pallbearers were W. B. Tagg, Herbert Johnson, Ross A. Towle, L. K. Moore, Lawrence Brinker, Daniel Baum and Allen Tukey.

Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Accountant on Stand at Trial

Guaranty Company Paid Dividends During Loss in Operations, Expert Testifies.

Financial operations preceding the downfall of the Guaranty Securities company and Pioneer State bank of Omaha and other Willard V. Mathews institutions in Des Moines, Lincoln and Denver, were laid bare by Robert Huston, expert accountant, yesterday in the government prosecution of Mathews and 14 others for alleged use of the mails to defraud in promotion of the Guaranty company and the Colonial Timber & Coal corporation.

It was testified that the Guaranty Securities company suffered a loss in operations of $250,000 between January 1, 1919, and June 6, 1921, when it was closed up. Yet it paid dividends during this period.

Stock selling operations of the institutions continued on a large scale and enormous deals in stocks and bonds of the Colonial concern were manipulated through the institutions, it was stated.

Notes of large sums would be deposited in one institution and then discounted by another for cash. H. R. Cozier had five notes on the Guaranty company, totaling $46,750. LeRobert Eyselboom had notes deposited totaling $20,500. Notes of several of the other defendants were found in the "other" of the company.

The prosecution expected to complete its case yesterday after four weeks and three days of work.

Motions then will be made and argued by the attorneys for the various defendants to dismiss the charges against them.

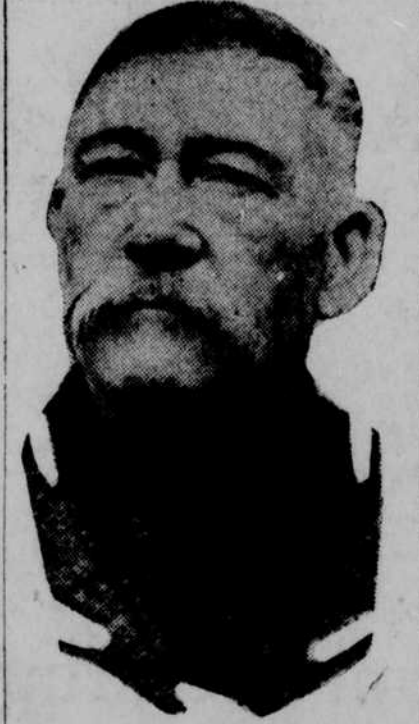

Manufacturers Contract for Space in Food Show

Fifteen manufacturers have already contracted space for the food show which will be held at the Auditorium September 24-26. It was reported Tuesday night at a meeting of the Progressive Retail Grocers' association at the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee in charge of the show reported that a prospectus is ready to be sent to each prospective exhibitor. The retailers were enthusiastic over the progress that has been made in arranging for the event.

"The Grocery Reporter," a trade journal published by J. J. Cameron, has been taken over by the association and from now on will be published in the interest of the Progressive Retailers. The size of the publication will be doubled within a month, it was announced. Mr. Cameron will continue to remain editor and manager.

Hero of Many Bandit Encounters Is Killed

"Lone Star" Fred Hans.

Fred Hans Dies in Lift Accident

Old Indian Fighter Crushed to Death by Elevator—No Inquest.

There will be no inquest in connection with the death of "Lone Star" Fred Hans, who was killed almost instantly Tuesday night when caught between two floors by a passenger elevator in the World-Herald building.

Hans was a night watchman and elevator conductor in the building, and lived in a shack in the vicinity of 1604 South Sixty-second street. He was divorced.

Hans was one of the accredited survivors of the famous Custer "last stand," in Montana.

He appeared in Omaha police court more than a year ago to identify two bandits who held up "Dad's" place on the West Q road.

He had been a picturesque figure in the life of Sarpy county for years. He had roamed the western plains since he was 16.

Hans had a long line of desperate hand-to-hand encounters with bandits and Indians to his credit, and although slowed up a trifle by age, recently demonstrated that he could "fan" a hammer six times faster than an automatic pistol can shoot.

In 1877, in Cherry county, he shot and killed two stage bandits, both of whom had the draw on him, by a lightning "cross-arm" draw for which he was famous.

The year previous he broke up a gang of bandits in the "Hole-in-the-Wall" country near Powder River, Wyo., single handed, and killed "Shacknasty Jim," the leader of the band.

On another occasion he killed a bandit who had a gun at his head at Alnsworth, Neb., by knocking the weapon aside with his right hand and shooting with his left.

Ford Says Company Cash Balance Exceeds $200,000,000

New York, April 18.—Henry Ford declared today that the cash balance of the Ford Motor company still exceeds $200,000,000 in spite of large purchases of coal and timber lands, waterpower sites and branch plant investments, according to a dispatch from Detroit to the Wall Street Journal.

Ford said, according to the dispatch, that these investments were all paid for in cash where such arrangements could be made and that the money he was spending simply came out of the current earnings.

"As yet," he said, "we have not thought of borrowing any money."

29⁰⁰

Our buyers have just returned from New York where they succeeded in making several remarkable purchases of high quality, new style apparel at prices that are way below the market price. A notable achievement was the purchase of the entire made up stock of a well known New York manufacturer of fine coats and suits.

The Coats and Wraps

were made to retail at from 39.00 to 65.00. They include plain or fur trimmed garments of fine Veldyne, Fashiona, Normandies, Bolivias, Lustrosa, Ormondales and Twills. The styles are varied; tailored models, sport styles and more luxurious wraps are well represented. The popularity of the cape and wrappy model for more dressy occasions is undisputed, while the straight-line coat has its vogue for business and street wear. Snappy top coats for sport also are included. No matter what your need, the correct model is here.

There will be plenty of space, plenty of sales-people.

Selections will be at its best early in the day, so early shopping is advised.

Second Floor—West.

The New Spring Suits

were made to retail at from 39.00 to 75.00. They include beautifully tailored, straight-line and side-tie effects, jaunty short Eton and box coats, embroidered and braid trimmed and beaded. Sizes 14 to 20 and 34 to 46. For business wear, no costume rivals the light suit; for afternoon wear, only a pretty overblouse is needed to transform it into a pretty frock. The varied styles make it possible for every woman, whatever her taste or circumstances, to find the right model here.
