Police Quell Near Riot at D.A.R. Meet

Police and Fire Department Called to Preserve Order During Voting for New President-General.

Mrs. Cook Picked to Win

By Universal Service. Washington, April 19.—Balloting for a new president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution today that it became necessary to call on the police and fire departments to preserve order.

Memorial Continental hall, where the society has been in convention for the past three days, teemed with hundreds of fashionably dressed women, milling back and forth in an effort to reach the polling booths. Efforts to keep the delegates in line were without avail.

Members Seething Mass.

Every room in the historic building was a seething mass of members of the most aristocratic organization in the country, each vying for a place of advantage in the line. There was pushing, there was hustling. They attempted to squeeze through, and at times it appeared that they were about to attempt to fight their way through.

Meanwhile, frantic attempts were being made by those in charge of the election to bring some order out of the most chaotic scene that has ever featured a D. A. R. gathering. Their appeals fell on deaf ears, however, and the delegates, in many instances frazzled and bedraggled, continued their almost hysterical attempts to reach the polling booths.

Confusion Increases.

Shortly after 3 it became apparent that the confusion was increasing rather than decreasing. In despair the election managers appeared to the police to cooperate. Captain Fisher, with two fire department battalion chiefs, took charge. They cut off the various entrances and exits, placed reserves 10 feet apart along the line of voters, and meanwhile permitted only one or two women to enter at a time, as the number moved on to the polling booths.

The presence of the officers soon dissipated the hysteria that had surcharged the atmosphere and the balloting proceeded during the remainder of the afternoon and evening in perfect order.

When the polls closed tonight it was freely predicted that Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Pittsburgh would win over Mrs. G. Wallace Hanger of this city by a small majority.

Injunction Is Asked in Sugar War

Government Holds Orgy of Gambling in Futures Has Driven Up Prices.

Prices on Futures Drop

Washington, April 19.—Injunction proceedings to shut off trading in sugar futures, unless backed by actual ownership or control of sugar, were instituted in New York today by the federal government.

The government's bill, prepared under the personal direction of Attorney General Daugherty after consultation with President Harding, asks the court to permanently prevent the New York coffee and sugar exchange from entering into or permitting any transactions in sugar quotations unless the person has in his possession or under his control a supply of sugar adequate to meet the requirements of such transaction.

The action is requested, the government says, as a result of "an orgy of speculation" which has driven up the prices of sugar to the consumer and which during February enriched the pocketbooks of brokers by $900,000. A "conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce," is charged and officials of the exchange and of the New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing House association, against which the injunction will be directed jointly with the exchange, are asked to appear in court and answer the government's allegations.

Take Drop on Exchanges.

New York, April 19.—Raw sugar futures took a perpendicular drop of approximately 50 per cent on the New York coffee and sugar exchange today upon receipt of word of the government's suit to enjoin trading in sugar futures.

Heavy general selling developed as soon as news of the injunction suit reached the floor. Drops ranged from 20 to 74 per cent, but were followed by a rally which carried prices back 25 per cent.

Cuban raw sugar, however, sold at a new high record since 1920. A sale of 55,000 bags was made to one operator at 83.8 cents cost and freight, equal to 8.16 for centrifugal.

Stocks of sugar companies listed on the New York stock exchange also were hit by news of the injunction suit. They had started off with an advance of 1 to 1 1/2 points in the early trading, but when word of the suit reached the floor they dropped 1 to nearly 3 points from their early highs.

At Essen a large crowd of unemployed staged a demonstration this morning in front of the town hall. They demanded increased allowances and when their demands were refused the situation became menacing.

The fire brigade, acting in place of the deported German police, was called out and used streams of water on the rioters. Further trouble is feared.

There was a similar disturbance at Mulheim, where the unemployed battered down the front door of the town hall and bombarded the building with stones torn from the roadway. The town officials were assaulted and the German police were forced to use their sidearms to restore order.

Russ Catholics Pray in Throngs

Petrograd, April 19.—Petrograd Catholic churches are still closed, but hundreds of parishioners daily crowd the small apartments of the priests to pray and to hear mass, much as did the first Christians, in the catacombs of old Rome.

St. Catherine's church of which the late Margherita Butchkevitch was cure looks out across the broad Nevsy Prospekt its bell silent and its doors locked while the faithful young and old, stream through the courtyard to the parish house. They meet in the doorways and corridors and cross themselves before the cheap crucifix which the priests have hung inside the walls of the edifice.

From the size of the crowd that passed through the courtyard of St. Catherine's Sunday, one might have thought that the church was open. Father Casimir, who has been left in charge of parish affairs, said that he and one other priest were busy from daybreak until noon saying one mass after another. He estimated that 5,000 persons were in the long lines. There are only 15,000 Roman Catholics in Petrograd.
