A TIP FOR THIN BOUND. A TIP FOR THIN BOUND. Miss Cecil Leitch says: There are seven points that a player must observe for good driving: Control of the club from first to last, keeping the bad absolute-ly still, keeping the left arm as straight as possible on the back swing and on the downward swing until the ball has been hit, using the left hand and arm chiefly in taking the club back, turning the body naturally without undue hurry, keeping the weight about equally distributed on both fest at the top of the swing start-ing the sheed gradually until the ball has been struck

WELL, the Omaha Buffaloes shook their jinx" yesterday and walloped the Wichita Witches for a 20 to 13 victory. To "Pug" Griffin belongs the hitting honors of the afternoon. "Pug" slammed out five hits out of a half dozen trips to the plate, and after all, that's a pretty good day's work. Of course, some of the "wolves" want a player to crack out a homer each time he steps to the plate, but when a ball player is credited with five hits Course, some of the "wolves want a player to crack out a homer each time he steps to the plate, but when a ball player is credited with five hits out of six chances against an opposing pitcher he isn't doing so worse. Griffin got a triple and a homer, together with his three singles, all of which gave him a total base figure of 10, good enough in any man's league. Besides swinging a wicked one run and put out two Witches. Thursday was a good day for Griffin fin. He plays like a big leaguer one day and then the next gives an exhibition of baseball that would do harm to an amateur.

Announcing the Opening Of Our New

Mezzanine Fountain

The Most Unique and Beautifully Appointed Fountain in Omaha

UST inside our seventeenth street entrance--a bit of old Florence that carries an irresistible appeal to push aside the gate and to enter so enticing a garden spot, where dainty maidens in rainbow dresses serve delectable refreshments.

The soft green of the tinted walls, the harmony of color and line in wrought iron tables, chairs and benches, and the shaded light of amber bulbs reflected in mirrored chandelieres make our Mezzanine fountain a delightful place in which to enjoy even the shortest noon-hour or to pleasantly break a shopping trip.

China is of Italian influence brightly patterned in flowers, glassware is green, while wrought iron table lamps, dimly shaded, reflect their shadowed light from penant crystal drops of green.

The fountain itself is of Italian marble and mahogany-the finest appointment known.
