There is not much hope that satis factory bargains will be made, There is much pessimism among leaders and people who think of the second Lauz anne as just one more conference in an endless string.

Aside from the fight over the Ches ter oil concessions and other oil questions, the State department under stands that three main topics will be discussed.

To Discuss Capitulations.

First, capitulations, Britain and France have sought to continue their own courts in which their own nationals are to be tried in Turkey. The new Turkey was to "try foreigners" in its own courts under its own laws. It will point to the fact that in 1894 the United States renounced capitulations in Japan, and the other powers quickly followed suit.

Second, disposition of the straits (Dardanelles). The allies want control of this key to the Black sea. Turkey wants it open. Russia wants an understanding that foreign warships shall enter the Black sea only in proportion of one to three of Russian warships anchored there.
