

MARKETS AND INDUSTRIAL TRENDS OF THE DAY

Omaha Grain

Omaha, April 23. The extreme weakness in the Liverpool market was responsible for the early trading of Chicago futures market. Good rains were reported in many different localities in the winter wheat district with only light rains in the northwest. Export business was dull with the exception of durum wheat which was in good demand. The news generally was of a bearish tenor and aided in influencing a bearish feeling generally. On the 14th there was persistent buying of July and September wheat by commission houses and the surplus on the market was soon absorbed, resulting in a steady undertone and a reaction in prices. The opening was advanced because the rain in western Kansas came too late to benefit the wheat crop.

The Omaha Grain exchange was closed today on account of Arbor Day in Nebraska.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, April 23.—Wheat worked uphill the greater part of today after an early rapid break and closed irregularly, slightly lower for the old crop month and moderately advanced for the new. Crop news again featured, with the special trains over the southwest sections of the winter wheat offsetting precipitation in the northwest. Wheat closed 1/4c lower to 1/4c higher, corn 1/4c to 1/4c higher, oats 1/4c to 1/4c advanced, rice unchanged to 1/4c higher and barley finished lower.

May wheat, although closing lower, led the recovery, this being due to the active absorption on the break by seaboard houses who were presumably lifting hedges against export business. On the rally to 12 1/2c plenty of long corn came on the market.

PRICES MOVE UPWARD

Liquidation in corn let up in today's market and, with fairly good buying by becoming heavier and more active, the wheat market moved easily upward. Country offerings were reported light and were expected to be absorbed by the time of the close.

PH Notes

The crop situation in the northwest is becoming more of a factor in wheat trading. Rainfall the past few days through the Dakotas and Minnesota has been followed by some promising advice from the interior, and with the heavy rain in the northwest, it is expected to spring wheat, forced conditions along that line are in the horizon.

New York Bonds

New York, April 23.—Bond prices were relatively firm today, foreign issues particularly so. The market was influenced by the balance of the list and failed to show any response to the establishment of another new high record price of 5 1/2 cents for Cuban raw sugar and higher prices by some companies for refined.
