Up It Goes, Again.
25 Years, and We Forget.
7 Ghosts, 7 Goats.
No Dirt, Says Bryan.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

New high prices for sugar, fellow citizens, 11 cents a pound, and going up. Predictions of crop shortage have sent Cuban sugar climbing. The Department of Commerce started it, the sugar gamblers are keeping it up, and you will have the pleasure of paying the bills.

Twenty-five years ago the United States declared war on Spain. Already millions of Americans do not remember it. How quickly populations come and go.

When we finished beating Spain we set Cuba free, did Spain a favor, taking the Philippine Islands off its hands and paid millions to the Spanish government. We paid other millions to the religious authorities in Rome. We never thought of telling Spain it must pay us thousands of millions. Europe has a different method of conducting war. That's one reason why it has so much war.

You wonder how a handful of Englishmen govern three hundred million Asiatics in India. Your answer is: "Those Asiatics are deeply superstitious. The greater the superstition the easier to govern. Those that cannot think clearly cannot help themselves.

A terrible coal mine explosion occurred at Barbelia, in India. Englishmen know that it was an explosion of coal dust that could have been prevented. Relatives of the 74 Asiatics killed, including 24 women working in the mines, say the explosion was caused by seven ghosts. They try to propitiate those ghosts by sacrificing seven goats, one for each ghost. And that is what makes India easy to rule.

Mr. William Jennings Bryan, amusing in his rage at any suggestion that he descended from a monkey, says: "I prefer to begin with God and reason down, rather than begin with a piece of dirt and reason up."

First, Darwin never said that Bryan or anyone else descended from monkeys. Second, if Mr. Bryan accepts the biblical account, he must begin with a piece of dirt and reason up, for it says, Genesis second chapter, seventh verse: "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground."

That bob-haired girl judge who sentenced seven men to death in Moscow the other day, ought to satisfy good Governor Richardson, of California. He says: "I wish every woman in California would get out and work in behalf of capital punishment."

Citizeness Anna Gluzman, who has sentenced 25, including one woman, to death so far, must delight Governor Richardson. To the young Russian lady's credit, it must be said that she refuses to witness executions.

This is a description of the female "hanging (or shooting) judge."
A cigaret held firmly between tight lips, fire of enthusiasm in brown eyes, slim, short, brown wavy bobbed hair, parted on the side like a man's; jaw stern, rough high boots, black skirt, workman's blouse, old brown sweater, only ornament a communists badge.

Mrs. F. A. Barnet, English woman, widow of Canon Barnet, 71 years old, decided to try oil painting and after five lessons her first picture was accepted by the Royal academy. The brain does not grow old unless you allow it to grow old.

The government opens 275,000 acres to ex-service men for homesteads in Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Colorado.

Besides giving land the government should try to make the working of it successful and profitable. Co-operative use of tractors and other farm machinery, co-operatively owned and cared for, ought to be a feature of the experiment.

Giving the soldiers land isn't as important as helping in successful management.

A system has been discovered that makes it possible, by a new arrangement of the alphabet, to send radio, cable and telegraph messages at double speed. That is still ridiculously slow. That the speed of lightning should be limited by the speed of an operator's fingers is preposterous.

The telegraph line that now carries 1,000 words an hour could just as well carry 200,000, or 1,000,000 words if the speed of electricity were applied as it might be applied, in sending messages by feeding perforated messages to a sending machine, or otherwise.

Kearney Veterans Bureau Will Be Moved to Omaha
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Kearney, Neb., April 26.—Pursuant to a general retrenchments policy by the government, it was announced that the district office of the Veterans Bureau, which has been in operation here for three years, will be closed May 15, all activities being transferred to Omaha, where the bureau of Nebraska will function in the future. The teachers college will continue to be an accredited school for men taking technical training. The office force is composed of seven employees, with W. J. Sheehan in charge. The latter will continue to oversee the employment department of the service and operate over the state.

Ex-Justice Backs Harding on Court

John H. Clarke Says Proposal Should Be Adopted by Senate by Viva Voce Vote.

Chicago, April 26.—President Harding's proposal for the United States to become a member of the world court of justice was endorsed today by John H. Clarke, former justice of the supreme court, in an address here. He declared the proposal should be adopted by the senate by viva voce vote without debate.

Former Justice Clarke, who appeared as a representative of the league of nations nonpartisan association, said that only a small group of senators opposed the world court, some saying it had too much power, others that it had too little power and at least one because he held it to be "the offspring of the league of nations."

No one has yet formulated how participation in the court would carry the nation into the league of nations, he asserted. As an experienced lawyer, he said he was sure proposed reservations would prevent any relations with the league.

Supported by Daugherty.
Asheville, N. C., April 26.—Attorney General Daugherty, commenting on President Harding's speech on the world court, declared his arguments in favor of American participation were "unanswerable and unassailable."

"Cheap prejudice and misrepresentation," Mr. Daugherty said, "have been played up on the court issue, but an intelligent American people can now consider the matter of American membership in a world court from the standpoint of truth and dependable information."

No Fear of Split.
Washington, April 26.—The political aspects of President Harding's unequivocal commitment to the proposal for American participation in his New York address continued today to hold the close attention of party leaders.

The preponderance of sentiment among leaders as openly expressed favored the executive's stand and saw little to fear in the warnings from opposition sources of a party split on the issue.

Alleged U. P. Check Forger to Be Returned to Omaha
James Jensen, alias James Burns, wanted in Omaha on a charge of counterfeiting and passing Union Pacific salary checks, and wanted in Toledo, O., for forgery, has been arrested by Los Angeles police, according to a telegram received by Omaha police yesterday.

Jensen will be brought to Omaha for trial.

Offense with which he is charged is alleged to have been committed here February 15.

Police say that he obtained a Union Pacific pay voucher from his brother, and succeeded in having the form duplicated, after which he proceeded to write a few pay checks of his own.

W. C. T. U. Convention
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Nebraska, April 26.—A two-day meeting of W. C. T. U. workers from 19 counties opened here with Miss Georgia Hopley, national prohibition agent of Washington, D. C., as the principal speaker.

Great Throngs Cheer Duke of York and Bride at Colorful Wedding

Duke of York and his bride, Lady Elizabeth Bow es-Lyon.

At one point Alexandra leaned toward him and whispered in his ear what some in the audience declared must have been good advice to a bachelor.

Ceremony Begins at 11:30.
The wedding ceremony began promptly at 11:30. After the king and queen and other royalties and clergy had taken their places in the sanctuary, the soft, melodious tones of the invisible male choir accompanied by the sonorous booming of the great organ, flowed over the gathering, filling the vast abbey with moving cadences.

After the archbishop of Canterbury had recited the usual ritual the duke placed the ring on the fourth finger of his bride's left hand, and in a resolute voice said:

"With this ring I thee wed, with my body I thee worship, and with all my worldly goods I thee endow."

The archbishop then offered prayer, pronounced the couple man and wife and proclaimed to the vast congregation: "Those whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder." He added his blessing, and the newly-married pair advanced inside the sanctuary and knelt at the altar while the choir sang "Wesley's Chant."

The service was concluded with a short prayer and benediction and the congregation knelt in silent devotion. The royal couple then repaired to the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where they signed the marriage register.

signing the register the duke and duchess were escorted by the clergy through the nave to the familiar accompaniment of Mendelssohn's wedding march and passed out to receive the plaudits of the waiting multitudes. Their return to Buckingham Palace through miles of cheering humanity was like a procession of triumph.

A wedding breakfast, presided over by the king and queen, was served in the state dining room and shortly after 4 the couple left for their honeymoon in Surrey.
