

Farm Societies Answer Attack Made by Bryan

Farmers Union and Farm Bureau Officers Unite in Letter Urging Bovine Tuberculosis Eradication.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 26.—J. O. Shroyer, prominent democrat and representative of the Farmers union, and H. D. Lute, secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau, joined tonight in writing an open letter to Governor Charles W. Bryan, scoring the chief executive on his stand against eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Excerpts from their letter follows:

"Your charge that farmers are not in favor of an effective method of eradicating bovine tuberculosis is refuted by action favorable to this move taken by the two largest farm organizations in Nebraska, the Farmers union and the Farm Bureau.

"It is true that purebred breeders benefit by having their herds disease free, but it is still more true that the average farmer, and there are 120,000 of them in the state, also needs and desires to have his herd tuberculosis free as an economic measure.

"Under the provisions of the new bill, the smallest owner as well as the largest will have his cattle tested the county over upon petition of 51 per cent of farmers of the county.

"Your attempt to make this a political issue by lambasting the democrats, who are standing out for the farmers' cause, will, no doubt, be vigorously resented by all who have the interests of the public at heart, regardless of party lines."

Elihu Root Supports World Court Proposal

court, the decision of the question whether facts exist to justify it in war upon defensive grounds, will be deemed a confirmation of guilt, and I look forward to the time when the universal opinion of civilization having such a clear and certain basis for the formation of judgment will visit upon the aggressor its swift and heavy condemnation which upon nations may prevail.

"The question presented by the president's message is really only a question of moral support. The amount of contribution towards the support of the court to be determined by our own congress would be negligible. We undertake to do nothing and to give nobody authority of power to do anything to us. The question is merely whether we shall give our moral approval to the establishment of the same kind of court which our government has been urging for a generation. It is less than three years since both political parties in the United States practically agreed upon the American attitude, expressed by one of those parties in its platform in these words: '... stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based upon the national justice and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by the development of law and the decision of impartial courts.'

"Since that time the only proposal of any practical step toward giving effect to the belief expressed in the words which I have just quoted is the proposal contained in this message of the president. No one has proposed any alternative method to give effect to that belief."

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. The quickest cooking oats in the world. Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker. Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish. No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly. The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes. But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly. Ask for Quick Quaker if you want this style. Your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

Eclectic Bill Killed in Senate by 26 to 6 Vote

Passage of Measure Would Infringe on Regents Duties, Committee Holds—No New Chairs Requested.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 26.—By a vote of 26 to 6 the Nebraska senate killed H. R. 628, the eclectic bill, requiring the University of Nebraska regents to add courses in the homoeopathic, eclectic and therapeutic schools at the college of medicine.

The action of the educational committee in reporting the bill for indefinite postponement was defended by Anderson of Lancaster, who said such legislation would infringe upon the regents' duty. No additional chairs have been requested of that body for four years, he said. Only one other state school, Michigan, had such a course, and Michigan is discontinuing it.

Sturdevant defended the measure, insisting that Nebraska students should have the privilege of taking up whatever branch of medical practice they choose. Students now have to go to Massachusetts to attend an eclectic school, he said. The senate advanced H. R. 393, the Osterman bill, known as the pitiless publicity measure. The Osterman measure seeks to secure more open competition in county bridge building through newspaper publicity and cooperation with the good roads department.

It allows counties to take advantage of the prices on supplies, equipment and material filed with the state department. The measure is an addition and does not repeal the present laws.

H. R. 451 was passed in the senate by a 17 to 15 vote. This is the Keck bill, allowing the governor to remove elective county law enforcement officers and appoint other men in their places pending removal proceedings.

H. R. 483, by Smith, the Omaha street car franchise bill, was killed in the senate.

H. R. 204—Places burden of proof on railroads when livestock is received in poor condition.

H. R. 635—Authorizes university to receive donated property conditioned on paying interest on investment not over 5 1/2 per cent.

Tuberculosis Bill Is Passed by Lower House

Nine Democrats, Stung by Insinuations of Governor Bryan, Joins Republicans in Passing Measure.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 26.—Nine democrats, stung by insinuations made in a public statement yesterday by Governor Bryan, that members of the democratic party who differed from him on the tuberculosis eradication bill were ruled by packers, joined republicans and passed the $285,000 appropriation bill for eradication of bovine tuberculosis through the lower house. There were 61 votes cast in favor of the bill, one more than necessary. It took 60 per cent of the membership to pass the bill, as the appropriation was not recommended by the governor. Immediately after the bill passed the house, it was hurried to the senate and sent to committee there. It is probable action will be taken on it by the senate tomorrow, and the bill will go to the governor for signature or veto Friday.

House Has Two Chances. If the bill is vetoed by the governor and the house fails to muster the 67, or two-thirds, votes necessary to override his veto, the house has the blanket appropriation bill to fall back on. This bill, as passed by the senate, carries the $285,000 appropriation for eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Representative Theodore Osterman of Merrick county, democrat, elected to five consecutive sessions of the legislature, who is one of the men the governor branded as a "toot of the packers," because he differed from him on the merits of attempting to eradicate bovine tuberculosis, issued the following statement in reply: "With all due respect for Governor Bryan, I must say that he is certainly laboring under a misconception in regard to provisions of the tuberculosis bill. As to the bill favoring the packers, the truth of the matter is that said packers can't get their fingers on one single penny of the appropriation."

Other democrats, who joined Osterman in voting independently of the governor branded as a "toot of the packers," are: Kemper, Broome, Johnson, Otteman, Yochum of Otoe, Davis of Fillmore, O'Gara, Beck. Republicans who joined democrats in voting against the appropriation are Strehlow, Nelson, Pollard.

Howell Wins Fight On Utilities Bill

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 26.—Senator R. B. Howell succeeded today in getting sufficient members of the senate to pass a resolution calling on the house to return H. R. 598 for further consideration. The senate killed the bill a few days ago and sent a report of the death, together with the bill, back to the house. The house, with only 10 dissenting votes, acceded to the senate's request. House roll 598 is an Osterman bill which makes it impossible for the state railway commission to fix any rate excepting the maximum rate for service furnished by public utilities. The argument in favor of the bill is to the effect that competition of railroads, intrastate telephone and telegraph companies is impossible under the existing law which states that the maximum rate is also the minimum rate. Sheriff Sued for Return of Truck and Livestock. Suit to compel Sheriff Mike Endres to return a truck, 29 milk cows, 10 young cattle, 30 brood sows and 105 hogs, seized on execution, was filed yesterday in district court by Valley Gardens, an organized farm group in Douglas county. The property was seized on execution obtained against Reed Corless by the Nebraska Mercantile agency. The petition alleges that Reed Corless is not connected with the farm in any way.
