

Keren Hayesod Is Pledged $50,000 at Omaha Rallies

Middlewest Jews Greet World Leader and Give to Fund for Rebuilding Homeland in Palestine.

Two overcrowded meetings at the Brandeis restaurant and Brandeis theater Thursday night greeted Dr. Chaim Weizmann, world Zionist leader, with cheers that rebounded from

High Spots of Doctor Weizmann's Address

Palestine being built rapidly. Three new railway lines constructed. 1,400 houses erected last year. 1,000 persons enter homeland every month. Palestine will save identity of Jews. Jews must carry out pledge to league of nations and build Palestine. Palestine is as fruitful as California. Many miles of roads being constructed and repaired. Palestine will be of credit to American Jews and a place of refuge to Jews of Europe who have no citizenship. Palestine can accommodate 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 inhabitants. Many schools and a university being organized.

will wall and with money, checks and pledges that overshadowed even the fondest hopes of this committee.

Dr. Weizmann, in a calm, logical address, joined by an impassioned plea from Henry Monsky, attorney of this city, brought forth from the large crowd assembled in both meeting places a flow of checks and pledges.

$50,000 Subscribed. Partial subscriptions totaled last night indicated that $50,000 in cash was obtained from Omaha donors and representatives of other towns of the district.

"We are confident that the quota will be reached within the coming two weeks," said J. E. Robinson, member of the local committee.

Representatives of Des Moines and Denver pledged $10,000 for each city. Council Bluffs presented a check for $1,000. Waterloo, $500; St. Joseph, $600; Sioux City, $15,000. "We will pledge $5,000 more," said a Sioux City delegate.

Have Solemn Contract.

"We have made a solemn contract with the nations of the world that we will redeem our homeland," said Dr. Weizmann. "We now have our chance. Are we going to appear before the representatives of those nations and return to them the solemn contract? Are we going to tell them that our prayers of 2,000 years were mere lip service?"

Dr. Weizmann presented the climate of Palestine to California and said that a representative of Berkeley university plans to visit Palestine to show them how California does it.

"We have the land and the man power to make Palestine a great nation," he said. "More than 1,000 persons a month are entering the homeland. Eighty-five per cent of these people have had a high school education and they are adapting themselves to their new environment. They are breaking stones, building roads, constructing houses and building and so on. They are farmers and bricklayers, teachers and laborers."

"The work of building Palestine is on! If you don't believe us, who are so enthusiastic of the country, peruse the report of the representative of the Chamber of Commerce of New York. He toured the country and saw the miles of roads, the three new railway lines, the many, many houses newly built, more than a million trees, a network of schools, a large industry in the making and many churches."

Dr. Weizmann's talk followed the appeal by the chairman of the meeting, A. I. Kulakofsky, for funds. The Zionist leader took the American Jews of the country to task for being backward in the Zionist movement.

"The Jews have fallen between the wheels of industry," said Dr. Weizmann. "We have lost confidence in ourselves. We are apologetic. We don't even know ourselves anymore. Palestine is the cure for that. Palestine, with its schools, its universities and its libraries, will become the seat of Jewish culture and learning and will permit the Jew to remain a Jew."

Godsend to Refugees. "We don't expect a flow of Jews from America, but Palestine will be a credit to the Jews of this country and a Godsend to the refugee Jews of the foreign countries, where they have no citizenship."

Monsky, mounting a table following Dr. Weizmann's address, appealed to Omaha Jewry to stand by Weizmann in his nation-wide appeal. Thousands of dollars were raised within a few minutes.

Dr. Weizmann was welcomed to Omaha by Mayor Dahlman, representing the city, and Dr. Herman von Schulte, representing the Omaha scientists. Dr. Weizmann is a scientist of the University of Manchester, England.

Greeted at Theater.

After his address at the Brandeis restaurant, following the dinner tendered him there, Dr. Weizmann went to the Brandeis theater. As soon as he stepped onto the stage the crowded theater of men and women stood and cheered lustily for several minutes. The chairman, A. I. Gilinsky, obtained order after many minutes of effort.

Among those who were on the stage with Dr. Weizmann and at the speaker's table at the dinner were A. I. Kulakofsky, Rabbi Frederick Cohn, Dr. Garry August of St. Joseph, Mo.; Bernard Stone of London, secretary to Dr. Weizmann; Mrs. A. Silverman, Mayor and Mrs. Dahlman, Mrs. R. B. Howell, Rabbi Samuel Sale of St. Louis, J. J. Friedman and Frank Deo. Others there were Harry Wolf, Henry Monsky, William Holzman, Harry Lapidus, Dr. Irving Cutter, Dr. Herman von Schulte and Dr. Victor Levine.

Sensation of Meeting.

D. Garry J. August, a young rabbi from St. Joseph, Mo., was the sensation of the Brandeis theater Zionist meeting prior to the appearance of Dr. Weizmann, the chief speaker of the evening.

Rabbi August called upon all Jews of every shade and opinion to unite in the interest of Zionism.

"It's high time," said Dr. August, "that we cease defining the kinds of Jews we are. In the face of a great emergency, there can be only one, and that 'kind' is which, no matter what its affiliations, tries to help any Jewish cause and follow any Jewish dream."

"The greatest danger to the Jew is not from without; it is from within. The Jew who attacks another group, which honestly seeks to solve the Jewish problem, is a Jewish anti-Semite; the Jew, who puts obstacles in the paths of those who attempt to realize their dream of Jewish life, is an enemy to his people."

"In the final analysis, the noblest badge that we can wear as Jews and as Americans is that of our B'nai B'rith, which pledges all Jews to aid and love one another in whatever conduces to the welfare of the Jewish people."

"And this, I wish to declare to you all, reform or orthodox, Zionist or non-Zionist, religious or non-religious; and on that platform I stand; all Jews are my people; all Jewish hopes, my hopes; all Jewish dreams, my dreams."

Many other rabbis from nearby cities spoke at both the Brandeis theater meeting and at the Brandeis restaurant prior to the address by Dr. Weizmann.

'Wild and Woolly' Island Raided

'Native' Arrested and 40-Gallon Still Seized by Federal Dry Sleuths.

A wild, unexplored country where law and taxes are unknown was discovered Thursday night less than 25 miles from Omaha by five federal prohibition agents from U. S. Rohrer's office.

One of the "natives," C. A. Cook by name, was arrested, a 40-gallon liquor still was confiscated and 300 gallons of mash were destroyed.

This strange, exotic land is a large island in the Missouri river, five miles above Calhoun.

"We were nearly drowned getting across to it in a boat in the darkness," said Group Chief Bob Anderson. "We found the still concealed in a cave dug in the side of a hill and hidden in a veritable jungle."

"The night was weird, the moon shining occasionally through the clouds only increasing the effect, and the howling of coyotes filled the night. We might have been in Timbuctoo or Tibet."

"The island comprises about 2,000 acres and is inhabited by some squatters. The principal means of livelihood seem to be moonshining, crude farming and stock raising."

Cook was arrested on the mainland late in the afternoon. In his automobile the officers found two gallons of whiskey. He is charged with illegal possession. He guided the officers to the moonshine cave on the island, but insisted that it does not belong to him.

The boat in which the officers crossed the whirling waters between mainland and island was old and leaky and, for a time, it seemed they would not be able to keep it afloat.

The officers returned to Omaha at 2 this morning.

Grocers Urge Sugar Strike

California Organization Advises Consumers' Check in Buying Would Cut Prices.

Los Angeles, April 27.—A "consumers' strike" is urged by the Certified Grocers of California, an organization of 60 or more dealers, as the quickest means pending possible government action of reducing the price of sugar. In resolutions adopted by the organization, it was declared, "The high price of sugar is the result of speculation and not of shortage, and speculation in an essential food product should be stopped."

The government was asked to stop such speculation, in a telegram the organization sent to Washington.

Neihardt Reads From Lyrics

Nebraska Poet Laureate Appears at University of Omaha.

"We must develop a culture of our own to justify the great wealth and power we are getting, for without a culture of its own a nation will not become truly great," John G. Neihardt, Nebraska's poet laureate, said yesterday.

Mr. Neihardt is on a short tour, reciting at universities in Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska. He read from his lyrics last night at the University of Omaha and on May 11 he will appear before the Schoolmasters' club of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Commenting on the work of his epic cycle of five fables, covering the whole period of western development from 1820 to 1920, he explained that he has completed about half of this great undertaking, having been at the work 10 years, one year of which was given to writing a prose work of the historical background of the cycle. He will be nearly 10 years more on this work.

"There was a great mood of courage developed in the west during the 19th century and many of those now alive have forgotten or have not learned of this historic development," Mr. Neihardt added. "I and others are endeavoring to record this great historical period. I mention Sandzen, the Kansas painter; Allen True, the Denver artist; Skilton, the composer; Wilka Gather and others."

Mr. Neihardt is living in the Ozarks, near Branson, Mo. He explained that he regarded his stay in the Ozarks as a prolonged vacation. His heart is in Nebraska and he avers that he will never permanently separate himself from Nebraska.

"I have four acres of land and a cow in the Ozarks and it is quiet where I am located," he said.

He expects to finish "The Song of the Indian Wars," during the fall of 1924 and anticipates that it will be published during the early days of 1925. He explained that a year to a poet is not a long period of time. For nearly 25 years he just "practiced" writing verse before he began his big work, which, when completed, will be an epic cycle, requiring nearly 20 years to complete.

On Wednesday night he appeared before the Third district meeting of Women's clubs at Albion, Neb.
