

Omaha Club Emerges on Long End of Series With Tulsa Oilers by Winning "Rubber" Game

Buffaloes Rally in Eighth and Beat Champs

Herd Scores Five Runs Off Black and Wins From Tulsa, 7 to 4.

By RALPH WAGNER.
MAHA threw over one of those batting attacks on the Tulsa Oilers in the eighth inning yesterday afternoon and when the smoke of the round had cleared away, the Buffaloes were hanging on to a 7 to 4 score, which, by the way, won the third and final contest of the series for the herd. The Buffaloes were trailing the Oilers when they went into their half of the eighth. The score was 4 to 2 and it sure looked like Jack Lelivelt and his squad of players would leave town with the big end of the series. The Oilers were on the mound for the visitors and was getting bumped quite frequently. He was backed up by some dandy support on the part of his mates, all of which kept the herd's score down to the two mark until the fatal eighth.

"Tex" McDonald, who played a whole of a game at third all afternoon, was the first Buffalo to bat in this inning. "Tex" worked Clark for a pass. That pass to McDonald started Clark on the path to the showers. Along came Bonowitz, who worked Clark for another ticket to first. "Pug" Griffin was next and he slammed out a single, filling the bags. Clark was wobbling good and plenty by this time and when Konechy came to bat the Oiler "chucker" shot over two straight balls. That was enough for Boss Lelivelt, who summoned Karl Black to the hill and Clark made his exit snappy and sweet. Karl was no puzzle to the herd. "Koney" celebrated his entrance to the game by poking a single out to left, scoring McDonald with the third Omaha run. "Red" Wilder went in to bat for Hale and cracked out a sacrifice, scoring Bonowitz with the tying run. "Nick" Cullop went in for May at the rubber and whiffed, making two down for the herd. "Dick" O'Connor, who has been playing bang-up ball for the local entry in the league, came through with a dandy double to center field, scoring Griffin and Konechy with the runs that beat the league champions, 7 to 4.

After this scoring spree on the part of Omaha, Wilcox singled to center and DeFate lined a single to left. Wilcox tried to make the rubber, but was nabbed before he planted any one of his "doses" on the plate. That little batting rally was just what the Buffaloes needed to take two out of the three games from Tulsa. Bailey started for Omaha, but instead of a short time in the first inning, he walked the first Oiler and then went to the showers. May took his place and hurled good ball for the herd. He walked only two visitors and allowed seven very scattered hits. He was given the best kind of support by every Buffalo. That was a big help.

Tulsa managed to score a pair of runs in the second, when Lelivelt walked and Bauman singled to right. O'Connor fumbled the ball and Lelivelt scored, while Bauman took third. Crosby's single brought in Bauman with the second Tulsa marker. Davis' base on balls in the sixth, followed by Lamb's triple, scored the third Oiler score, while the fourth Tulsa score came in the eighth. Lee got hit and was boosted to second on a sacrifice. An infield out let him go to third and he scored a minute later on Lamb's single.

St. Joseph opens a three-game series here today.

Steinader Joins Pirates.
Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pitcher Ray Steinader, recently reinstated in organized baseball by Commissioner K. M. Landis, rejoined the Pittsburgh Nationals today.

Burch Won't Play Ball Again

Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha baseball club, will never don a baseball suit to play baseball again, he announced yesterday. "My legs are bad and I have been advised to give up playing," he said. "and besides, I am too busy looking after the business end of the club."

Americans Win St. George's Cup

By Associated Press.
ANDWICH, ENG., May 3.—The St. George challenge cup, one of the most important golf trophies in England, has been captured by the American invaders. Dr. O. P. Willing of Portland, Ore., and Francis Outlet of Boston, former American open champion, tied for first place in the first place of the two days' stroke competition which ended today, with aggregate scores of 153 each.

They will play 18 holes tomorrow to decide the winner. Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, captain of the American team, turned in a card of 79, bringing his aggregate for the two days' play to 154. His card today: Out—544, 554, 434—37. In—554, 555, 355—42—79.

Roger Wethered, the British star, who was defeated by Jock Hutchison in the playoff of a tie for the British open championship in 1921, was defeated by the runner for the cup when he turned in a score of 81 for today's 18 holes, bringing his aggregate score to 157. Dr. Willing's card was: Out—542, 542, 553, 644—38. In—544, 465, 355, 41—79.

Outlet's card was: Out—544, 554, 434—37. In—544, 544, 345, 40—77. Sandwich, Eng., May 3.—In a fit of temper, brought on by his indifferent playing, Jesse W. Sweetser, amateur golf champion of America, today tore up his card for the challenge cup tournament and tried to divulge his score to anyone. It was an outburst comparable only to those occasionally indulged in by Bob Jones, another famous American golfer.

Sweetser was miles off his game in the present tournament and try as he might, could not seem to regain his touch, as golfers call it. He had an 81 for 18 holes yesterday, lacking control in and around the greens, where his usual accuracy failed him. Just what his total was today can only be guessed. Not only his accuracy on the greens but the control of his long game deserted him as he attempted to retrieve lost ground. He was in the rough many times, often was short with his irons and altogether showed little of the form that gained him the American amateur title in a great field.

The present season marks Sweetser's first experience with English courses, which differ radically from those in America, the greens being faster and high winds a constant handicap. Lack of familiarity with local conditions is believed to have thrown him off stride.

Minor League Stars Failing to Show Class

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
International News Service Sports Editor.
NEW YORK, May 3.—It may be a bit early for morning glories, the present season being a particularly backward one, but there are indications that the human crop in the major leagues at least, is not only expensive, but large. Perhaps after all, this will be the last year of extravagant minor league purchases, as John McGraw and other smart baseball men are prone to believe. McGraw most certainly will not be a party to another orgy of spending unless Jimmy O'Connell and Jack Bentley soon begin to resemble major league ball players, something they have contrived to avoid since the opening of the season. Bentley, who is said to have cost $75,000, has failed to last five innings in two starts and either Stengel or Cunningham is destined to replace the $75,000 O'Connell, unless he starts to hit pronto.

Hale Boots 'Em.
These cases are typical of the star minor leaguers' performances with a few isolated exceptions. Tris Speaker went into rhapsodies over Walter Lutzke, his $20,000 third baseman. Lutzke is not hitting and does not look as though he will stay at the $20,000 a year, has not made Speaker forget that Steve O'Neill is a member of the baseball club.

The Phils claimed they paid $40,000 for Heine Sand, but to date he has played like a school boy. He kicks one or two of them around nearly every day, generally in the pinches. Sam Hale, the alleged $75,000 third baseman of the Athletics, has not had a chance to show, owing to injuries, but Boehler and Kuntz, high-priced Pirate pitchers, have faced plenty of opportunities and as many base hits.

Willie Kamm, the most costly of the lot, has done well enough for the White Sox and probably will do better. His hitting has not been impressive, but Kamm is expected to live that down. He looks the part of a hitter. So does O'Connell, and as a matter of fact, Bentley looks like a pitcher. He got a very late start in the south and may come along.

Consistent Playing of Tigers Features Games in American
By JOHN J. EVERS.
Written Expressly for Universal Service.
The outstanding feature of the past week's performances in the American league has been the consistent ball playing by the Detroit Tigers.

Golf Facts
Q: Is there any limit to the number of provisional balls a player can play where he is in doubt whether the first ball will be sent out of bounds or not?
A: Assuming that you mean there is some doubt about whether the first provisional ball or, for that matter a second or third, stays in bounds, there is no limit. Of course, if it is plain that the provisional ball stayed within bounds, the player is not allowed to play another in the hope of getting a better shot.

Elish Big Help.
The White Sox have had all sorts of bad luck, losing close games and other games after they had apparently already won them. All this averages itself and it is to be hoped a turn for the better will soon come. The team is too strong to stay down long with such men as Hooper, Schalk, Collins, Sheeley, and last but

Lelivelt Still Going Strong

Jack Lelivelt, former player and manager of the Omaha Western league club, shows no signs of slipping. Omahans have been pleased to see the erstwhile Buffalo cowering in his usual big league style around the hot corner. "I can play forever if my legs don't get bad," he says. Lelivelt made a premature departure from the major league because his "props" bothered him.

However, the rank fallacy of paying good money for bad ball players is apparent when the list of those who have come up in the last 10 years to make good, without ballyhoo or price tag, is considered. The list, while a lengthy one, by no means is conclusive.

Norfolk, Neb., May 3.—Snow flurries and rain were general in north Nebraska today. A cold northeast wind sent temperature downward. Country roads are in very bad condition all over this territory. Plowing is delayed.

Jiggers Breaks Amateur Record

Second Extra Performance Made Necessary by Great Demand for Seats.

Due to capacity houses and a continued demand for seats, a second extra performance of "Jiggers of 1923," the Knights of Columbus show which has been running all this week at the Orpheum theater, has been arranged for tonight. It was announced by the management Thursday. The run of the show has broken the Omaha record for amateur performances. The production has all the features of high-class musical comedy, including diverting specialties between acts. Character roles are portrayed by Frank Cerney as a wealthy clubman in love with Bettina Dean, played by Marie Pellegrin, Matilda Dean, Bettina's mother, is played by Margaret Connors. Max Hosenbaum, a producer, is played by John Hincey Johnny and Edie Brinkley, old-time stage folk, by Clarence Dehan and Mrs. E. J. Yingling; a modern stage director, Charles Moore; and Sadie, the stenographer, by Dorothy Bowen.

Specialty numbers are offered by Mrs. Charles Assman, Clarence Brown, Florence Bessler, Agnes Britton and Ruth Harms, assisted by Charles Moore, Leo Rogers and Keating Myers.

Man Taken in Sheriff's First Raid Gets Term

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Fremont, Neb., May 3.—Joe Saliba, cafe proprietor in Fremont, was sentenced today to four months in jail for violations of the prohibition law, in federal court at Omaha. His arrest followed the first raid attempted by State Sheriff Thomas Carroll a few months ago, shortly after the latter went to office.

During the raid Carroll and other members of the party that searched the cafe for evidence, were attacked by Saliba's family. Carroll suffered injuries from a knife wielded by Mrs. Saliba, according to police. Saliba was found guilty on four counts by a jury after a 40 minutes' deliberation. Sheriff Condit stated today that the next step of the official would be to have the cafe closed and abated as a nuisance.

Nearly three and a half billion letters and postcards were handled by the postoffice in London last year.
