MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BEE TELEPHONES Private Branch Exchange. Ask for the Department AT lantic or Person Wanted. For Night Calls After 10 P. M.: 1000 Editorial Department. AT lantic 1021 or 1042.

Co. Bluffs - - 15 Scott St. So. Side, N. W. Cor. 24th and N. New York—286 Fifth Avenue

Washington - 422 Star Bidg. Chicago - - 1720 Steger Bidg.

WHAT ABOUT LOWER FREIGHT RATES?

The class one railroads are now earning almost 6 per cent on their estimated valuation. That should be reassuring to those who cling to the idea that before anyone else can be prosperous the failroads must get theirs. In other minds it raises the question: How long before freight rates can be reduced?

Certainly agriculture must have cheaper transportation before it can be restored to its proper level of earnings. The farmers' profits do not approach the railroads' 6 per cent. No indeed. The figures of the Department of Agriculture show that . 14 per cent of the farmers failed to break even last year. The profits of the rest averaged $917. This would not pay interest on the investment in land, buildings, implements and the rest of the farmers' working capital.

In the cities industrial activity is at high pitch. If this fine tone is to be maintained, the basic industry of agriculture must be tuned up also. Nothing could do so much immediate good as lowered rates on the shipment of all farm products. There is however no general move in this direction. It is true that freight rates on grain from the eastern fourth of Nebraska to terminal markets are soon to be reduced from 5 to 25 per cent. But on the same day this announcement is made comes the further news from Lincoln that the Interstate Commerce commission is on the verge of increasing freight rates on live stock from stations in Nebrasks to markets in Omaha, Sioux City, St. Joseph and Kansas City. "The new rates," it is said, "will be the result of complaints filed by the railroads declaring that rates from the points involved are

No one else than the railroads have been heard to complain that any rate is too low. From the whole middlewest goes up the cry that rates are too high. Why is it that the complaint of the railroads is heard and the grievances of the farmers and stockmen unheard and unrecognized?

SELLING THE YEARS OF HIS YOUTH.

"I couldn't steal a dollar from the bank, any more than I could rob my own father." This laudable sentiment is expressed by a young man under arrest at San Francisco on charge of burglary. His honor is supersensitive, when it comes to dealing with the funds of the bank in which he was employed. Money over which he was set to guard was a sacred care, a trust he held inviolable. Steal it? No, he would steal from his father as soon.

When it came to other's property, his conscience was duller, his sense of right not hung on so delicate a balance. He goes on:

"Banking does not pay very well and I like to entertain and take out girls. And I did not like to speculate in stocks. I fell in with two men three the ago and the adventure and profits in the burglary business appealed to nie.

What a remarkable inversion of morality! A blind spot in his mind that prevented his seeing the crime in burglary, when his mental vision was so keen as to the money of the bank. What peculiar process of reasoning did he employ in setting up the line of demarcation between burglary and embezzlement? He may never make it known, and it probably would be puzzling to metaphysicians, but Again, we may wonder a little as to the sort of as a bank clerk. Surely such sirens will fill his confidence on which the world stands. cell at San Quentin or Folsom prison with bright sides of Tamalpais!

of exciting pleasure have been bought at the price of ; she may vindicate her own name. months of sodden prison life. He is young enough to, and we hope he does.

SETTING SOUTH DAKOTA FREE.

The Yankton bridge has a greater purpose than just to get a span across the Missouri river. Its destiny is to still closer unite two great neighboring states. It will also emancipate the producers of one of the most fertile regions of the west from an them economic handicap they long have endured. The Missouri river just about bisects the state of South Dakota, and that half which lies east of the stream is shut off from access to markets to the south, unless a circuitous route is followed.

This handicap has been endured for a long time, have relied on promises made that the barrier would be lifted by one or another of interested railroads. At last the public could wait no longer, and the Yankton bridge was undertaken as a matter of general necessity. Nebraska as well as South Dakota has contributed to its construction, and when it is completed it will be a monument to the enterprise of the people of both states.

Omaha will directly benefit by the existence of the bridge, just as will the citizens of both states to the north. Communication will be facilitated, an outlet for commerce will be provided, and while this great market town will be brought into touch with new territory, the producers and consumers of eastern South Dakota will have access to a new market.

Probably the opening of the bridge will have the effect of hurrying to construction of the direct line of railroad so often promised and so long delayed, between Omaha and Yankton, and reaching into the great farming region north of Yankton. There is no good reason why the valley of the "Jim," the Big Sioux and other of the rich regions of South Dakota should always be held subject to the markets to the east of them. They will soon have access to the greater markets to the south, and the Yankton bridge is a symbol of their emancipation.

Scotts Bluff county is going in for cantaloupes this year. If they can make them as good as their sugar beets, Rocky Ford will be nowhere.

the president would have had to look long and hard to find a better qualified man for this position.

NO APOLOGY WILL DO, GOVERNOR.

Seldom has a public man fallen so far and fast in the public estimation as has Governor Bryan. Even the democratic press has a difficult time to defend his actions in office, particularly his latest move in vetoing the Mathers-Dysart bill and thus preserving the code. It was this same code that Mr. Bryan attacked so viciously during his campaign, claiming that it gave the governor too much power-"made him a czar," as he expressed it from the platform. Yet by a scratch of his executive pen he now has saved it.

Verily in the code issue Mr Bryan built up a Frankenstein which is destined to devour him. No political machine that he can construct through his power of handing out jobs can save him from the disillusioned people of Nebraska.

It was on this matter of political appointments that the governor's veto turned. That is plain in his message of explanation. The reorganization of the state government under the Mathers-Dysart plan was lacking, in his opinion, because it did not concentrate all power in the hands of the governor. It assigned certain duties to the state treasurer, the commissioner of public lands and buildings, the lieutenant governor, the secretary of state and the superintendent of public instruction. Voters do not need a long memory to recall that Mr. Bryan's campaign was run on the theory that the constitutional officers did not have enough to do, and that the code departments in many cases duplicated their work. He promised that if he was elected he would eliminate the code secretaries and make these elected officers

It turned out that only one of these officers elected by the people was a democrat. And if they were to assume any new duties they expected to hire their own assistants. This conflicted with Governor Bryan's desire to fill up the statehouse with democratic jobholders. Accordingly he devised a scheme by which he would have taken full command of every state department, appointing every clerk, stenographer and assistant,

Instead of following this line, the legislature adopted a plan which would have given the governor direct charge of only one department out of the six. This was the finance department, which keeps a check on state expenditures, acts as a purchasing agent and compiles the budget. In vetoing this measure the governor makes much of the point that under such an arrangement he would only have five or six jobs to hand out to his friends. Here are his

"The department of finance, which prior to the code was in the state auditor's office, where it should be now on account of being largely a duplication of his work, has been assigned by the Mathers bill to the governor after refusing to make any salary provision for the secretary of finance and reducing the appropriation for the department from above $80,000 to $25,000, which will necessitate reducing the number of employes from 10 to possibly half that number, or a total of five or six."

As a matter of fact, the state auditor's office never performed the work of the department of finance, which arose as a result of the adoption of the budget system. There is no duplication. The governor always claimed that the secretary of finance was a useless jobholder, and that the work could be done with half the help and for a fraction of the cost. Under his own plan he wanted control of all six departments, and now he complains because he has been given the job of looking after one, and that one the most important, in a business way, of all.

A more inconsistent action than the governor's veto of this reform measure has never been seen in Nebraska political life. Pledged to repeal the code, instead he saves it. No longer does he want what he wanted when he wanted to be elected governor. What he wants now is a free hand to fill all state jobs with his political friends. This opportunity to build up a machine has been given by his veto. And knowing Governor Bryan as they now do, the people of Nebraska do not doubt that he will now strive to make the most of his opportunity.

DEFENDING HER GOOD NAME.

"Good name in man or woman, dear my lord, is he seems to have been able to convince himself there | the immediate jewel of their soul," said lago to Othello, at the very moment when he was most determined on cheating his chief. His remark is true girls he associated with, who had to be so lavishly today. On the good name of each hangs the fate entertained that he stole to eke out his stipend of the world, because it is that which sustains the

The affairs of the Farrar-Tellegan family jar visions, illuminating the dead stone walls with mem- have been paraded for many weeks, but now they ories of song and dance and dinner, and ride on | come in for another airing. In her suit for divorce, the bay, picnics in Muir wood and rides up the steep | the fair Geraldine named certain young women as having shared in the philandering of her Lou. One This boy, he is only 20, will find he has sold some of these, Stella Larimore, has come into court and years of his youth for Dead Sea apples. Moments succeeded in getting an order for a hearing, that

The young woman's courage deserves commendato get some benefit from the bitter school he is going tion. She is willing to strike a blow for herself, and will not sit quiefly under an imputation of misconduct. Too frequently in divorce suits and other actions persons are loosely and even wrongfully accused, and all to frequently are left under the cloud that has been cast on them. Even if fully cleared in court, they never are entirely set right before the world, for some of the odium will always cling to "Be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow," said Hamlet to Ophelia, "thou shalt not escape calumny." But if more people were to turn on the calumniator, the practice of making loose charges without sufficient proof might be discouraged. At any rate, it is a hopeful sign when a woman goes into court to not always with patience, but because the people defend her good name against aspersions cast by an-

> Omaha shows an increase in building of onethird over last year so far, which means that houses are being built to meet the needs of a growing

> The consumption of meat products is increasing. That's another evidence of prosperity. When times are hard, meat is an infrequent guest at many tables.

Homespun Verse By Robert Worthington Davie

WHEN WE GROW OLD.

All, all is well when we are young. And life a garden fair, And strife beyond our paths is flung To wither in the air-

But let us view the distance dim. And wisely mark the day When life shall meet the gray and grim. And youth has slipped away.

We say life comes but once, and so We close our eyes, we do not know That age is on its way-

The reckoning we can not miss, Yet we are unaware Of that which is the heart of this Contentment or despair.

The Omaha Morning Bee: Friday, May 11, 1923-Page 6

"From State and Nation"

-Editorials from Other Newspapers-tion is thus created whereby the laws

There is even talk in Paris and commercial intercourse through our ports, they must adhere to the legis-lative restrictions under which our curb the sugar speculators led only to an advance in sugar prices, and now it is declared that the only thing that can stop the holdup of the peo-rates is to quit shipping anything.

The Lettuce Middleman.

have fallen, while investigation has falled to show any reduction to ulti-

In that great bowl called the Imperial valley, out of which the east ment of a few thousand carloads of cantaloupes, the growers, beginning to realize that they were getting too small a part of the high prices being paid in the east, left thousands of the melous to rot in the fields. The like cause will produce the like ef-fect this year and on a more extended owing to an artificial scarcity so proontinue consuming will pay still higher figures.

The cantaloupe crop of Southern mate consumers

And the only possible protection own citizens do business.

Your Boy.

From Foresight. The imagination of boys exceeds the London of taking steps of retaliation, but it is idle talk. The United States and their youthful minds develop many interesting and fantastic situations in which they have a part.

Many a lad, with a rooster feather later stuck in his cap, has ridden a broomstick around the back yard—a mighty general, leading a numberless and victorious army.

attempted by European governments would only reflect upon their own maritime industries. It has been recently estimated that less than 50 spirit of responsibility. Show him a kindness; you have made a friend. Take an interest in his welfare; you are making a man.

Where is the grown-up without treasured recollections of the kindly

Where is the grown-up without treasured recollections of the kindly interest of some other grown-up, back in childhood days? Where is the man or woman, who in youth did-boundaries are bound to obey and renan or woman, who in youth did not, through misconception, worry over triffing or imaginary situations that would have been quickly dis-pelled had some one of mature years sensed the matter and offered a word of explanation.

When boys understand that there is as much call for sportsmanship in the game of life as in athletics, and that the possibilities for honors are in- bodied in an amendment to the confinitely greater, they are in a fair way stitution of the United States, have of development.

of development.

Let the reader try the experiment of a half hour's chat with a boy, his boy or anybody's boy, and note the effect on the boy—and on himself.

Increased alarmingly and it has been discovered that these violations are very largely due to the operations of rum runners and strugglers along out that the control of the cont effect on the boy—and on himself,
He will be encouraged to repeat the experience.

Any foreign government

A Mark Twain Memorial.

yer was Missouri or either of these towns lacking in pride of their illus-tious son. He had lampooned many trious son. He had lampooned many of their citizens. He had pictured many Missouri country towns as rather unprepossessing places. But they could take a joke, and the great American humorist was not only of American soil, but of the soil of their

And now little Florida, Mo., the birthplace of Mark Twain, wishes to "tell the world" of her eminence. The owner of the Clemens homestead has offered to give the house to the state and will sell the land at a fair valuaand the editors of northeast has no Westminster Abbey. and yet here is a more fitting memorther Mount Vernon or Monticello. But America, unlike England, has been slow in recognition of her illus-trious dead. England knighted Wil-affairs is to disband the government liam S. Gilbert, wit and dramatist, and in Embankment park in London stands If the nation and state, organized a monument to him that bears this to protect the people, either can't or epitaph: "Folly was his foe; wit his will not protect them, we might as weapon." The same may be written on the tomb of Mark Twain, but the them, on the tomb of Mark Twain, but the them.

To avoid law breaking, do away To keep from being robbed. sphere, the environs of his boyhood with law. To keep from being robbed, stories.

This is to be found at the Florida being starved by sugar scoundrels, starve yourselves by cutting out watch with interest the campaign of sugar. To escape the profiteer, die. the Mark Twain Park association.

Liquor on the High Seas.

The supreme court of the United as a result of the recent ruling permitting American vessels to carry liquor cargoes when beyond the three-mile limit. The justices of the highest court of the land have merely found a loophole in the Eighteenth amendment, have pointed out the same days and have left the rest to the carried and former than the final carload has now been sent east. The number of carloads shipped this year was 3,000 greater.

In a drowns in the drowns in the limit and have left wades his rounds in the old man hisse's wades his rounds in the old man hisse's wades his rounds in the limit and have left wades his rounds in the limit and have left wades his rounds in the old man hisse's wades his rounds in the limit and have left wades his rounds and have left wades his rounds and have left wades his rounds in the limit and have left wades his rounds and have y found a loophole in the Eighteenth sent east. The number of carloads simple this year was 3,000 greater semedy and have left the rest to the than last year. This has not been

American congress.

The extension of the prohibition inw to include the high seas has brought about many serious complications not only with our own shin owners but with the shipping interests of foreign governments as well. While ruling against the efforts of the department of justice to enforce a liquior ban on American vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardto enforce the department of justice to enforce a liquior ban on American
vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardto enforce the department of justice to enforce a liquior ban on American
vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardto enforce the department of justice to enforce a liquior ban on American
vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardto enforce the department of justice to enforce a liquior ban on American
vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardto enforce the department of justice to enforce a liquior ban on American
vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardto enforce the same time of their other crops, although in recent weeks the middlemen in the lettuce markets, where they have lately appeared in large numbers, have given rise to complaints among producers. The cost of transportation in carioad lots of transportation in carioad lot vessels, the supreme court at the same time held that no vessel, regardless of the flag under which it sails. American port with liquor stocks aboard. This decision has quite naturally aroused a storm of protest from across the water. The foreign governments haven't got the same slant ernments haven't got the same slant takes so many of the good things of on the matter of prohibition that we life, there was, last year, something bave in America. The laws of as nearly resembling a strike as the producer ever calls. After the shipowners of ocean-going vessels must provide wine rations for their crews. These laws apply to ships making American ports of call and the situa-

Daily Prayer

O thou great and eternal God, Creator, Redeemer and bountiful Benefactor—the one from whom every good and perfect gift descends, we are assembled as a family to engage in worship of Thee. Breathe into our hearts the spirit of true devotion. Give to us repentance for our sins. hast taught us that there is but one thing that can come between our souls and Thee—one thing that can exclude us from the Kingdom of Grace and from the Kingdom of Glory; the one and only thing that Thou dost hate—sin. We rejoice that we may be delivered from sin; that may have our fruit unto holiness. and in the end everlasting life. are taught in Thy Holy Word that if we confess our sins. Thou art faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteous-Give to us faith-faith in Jesus as our present personal, all-sufficient Savior. Give to us hopethe hope that is an anchor to the soul, sure and steadfast, that entereth into that within the veil, and that will se-curely hold us in the midst of life's storms and trials. Give to us love-that perfect love that casteth out fear. O, give to us these and all other graces that the Holy Spirit imparts. We ask all in the Name of Jesus Christ. Amen. ADNA B. LEONARD, D. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.,

> NET AVERAGE CIRCULATION

for APRIL, 1923, of THE OMAHA BEE Daily 75,320 Sunday 82,588

Does not include returns, left-overs, samples or papers spoiled in printing and includes no special B. BREWER, Gen. Mgr V. A. BRIDGE, Cir. Mgr. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2d day of May, 1923.

W. H. QUIVEY, Notary Public

We Nominate----

For Nebraska's Hall of Fame.

A BOOK of Mrs. Jack Burton's poems, entitled "Mother Poems for Mothers' Day," has just been published on the press of the Beatrice Express. Mrs. Burton has Beatrice Express. Mrs. Burton has and woman on an equality.

Book of Mrs. Jack Burton's and hang him. No, thank God, women to the spirit instead of the steel sword in politics. The spirit of the Lord is more powerful than brute force. God created man smile.

Of course "a grouch" cares little of course "a grouch" cares little of course they are liked or disliked, or sists in encouraging its ship owners to violate our prohibition laws is very to violate our prohibition laws is very near to committing an overt act against the United States, and the left over six years and for some time has been a member of the news staff of the left." But man has neglected designed in the left of they are in business, whether business.

has a wide range and writes light comic verse as well as epics and heart appeal poems. For dver a year Mrs. will be the important plank in politics. Why? Because they feel it just as Burton has contributed a poem each week to the society page of the Exweek to the society page of the in the society page of the Exwest MRS. NELLIE FRANK.

We were certain clothing. As I have said, smill the but in the society page. writer, but an entertainer as well, and she often reads her own poems Since the government's efforts to civic gatherings.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY'S POEM ON "ABE MARTIN."

ple is to quit using sugar, some other emedies are suggested.

If you are compelled to help yourselves by starving yourselves, then the proper method of putting a stop to the frequent stick-ups which stir Missouri have organized a campaign the country must be for everybody to become poor, because it follows that—

America, with her various halls of "He that is down need fear no fall."

OF HIS COUNTRYMAN,

ABE MARTIN: And of course the only logical manner of saving ourselves from the high ABE MARTIN -- dad-burn his old pic hal than even Westminster could of coal prices forced on us during the fer. It is not a Parthenon where the winter period is to quit using coal P'tends he's a Brown county fixture many may be immortalized. It is a simple home thats peaks of the childhood of the famous American, and ing held up by outrageous freight.

A kind of comical mixture of hoss-sense and no sense at all!

His mouth, like his pipe, 's allus And his thoughts, like his whiskers. is flowin'—
And what he don't know ain't worth

> From Genesis clean to baseball! The author, Kin Hubbard, 's so keerwell save expense by doing without He draws Abe 'most eyeless and ear-But he's never yit pictured him They usually do. Cheerless :
>
> Er with fun 'at he tried to conceal—> Whuther onto the fencle er clean with the content of the fencle er clean which is tructor, nothing less than a miracle the most serious things of life.

A rootin' up ragweed er clover. Skeert stiff at some "Rambler" er

From the St Louis Globe-Democrat.

Imperial valley, in the southernmost county of California, and with a long southern border which there conin:

Rover

Er new fangled automobeel.

It's a purty steep climate old Brown's in: States is not a pro-booze body as stitutes the international line between many people have been led to believe the United States and Mexico, has drowns in.

Like the mumps had him 'most so well throttled That it wuz a pleasure to die.

But best of 'em all's the fool-breaks profitable figures than their other Abe don't see at all, and yit makes, to eastern markets has not been of genius itse'f in its flower—changed, but prices at such points. This Notable Man of the Hour, have fallen, while investigation has -James Whitcomb Riley.

The Spice of Life

A psychiatric board was testing the mentality of a negro soldier.
"Do you ever hear voices without being able to tell who is speaking or where the sound comes from."
"Yes, suh," answered the negro.
"And when does this occur?"
"When I se talkin over de telephone."—The Christian Evangelist (St. Louis).

"What are the grounds for the di-"Oh, some French girl named Soisette sewed her name on all his shirts."—

A negro went fishing. He hooked a big catfish which pulled him overboard. As he crawled back into the boat, he said, philosophically: "What I wanna know le dis: is dis niggah tishin' or is dis fish niggerin'?"—Atlanta. Constitution.

California, Florida and South Texas will begin moving in carload lots dur-ing the early part of May. The probem of middlemen's cost having been nore intensively studied since last Assistant—"Here's a woman wrifes that she doesn't know which way to turn." Editor—"Send her a copy of the traffic regulations."—Boston Transcript. year, it may be possible to hold prices down to last year's level. Little wn to last year's level. Little

> SAME PRICE for more than 30 years

KC BAKING POWDER 25 Ounces for 25¢

Use KC for Finer Texture and Larger Volume in the baked goods.

Use less than of higher priced brands.

Millions of Pounds Bought by our Government "The People's Voice"

Nonstop Fishing Record. Elm Creek, Neb .- To the Editor of The Omaha Bee: Every morning as we sip our coffee over the morning paper we see where some fair damsel broke the nonstop jazzing record or some galoot ate pumpkin ple for 72 hours. But here is one for the fair

Mr. (Fat) Tucker of our village holds the nonstep, no-bite fishing record of all the universe as far as we are concerned. For five days and five nights be sat on the bank of the fa-mous Buffalo creek, angling, without a stop or a bite. His record came suddenly to a close at 5:15 this mornsix-pound catfish and two carp, weigh ing five and a half pounds each.

How about it? Has it ever been equaled? A HERO WORSHIPER.

Woman's Opinion of Men.

Norfolk, Neb .- To the Editor of The Omaha Bee: In The Omaha Bee BOOK of Mrs. Jack Burton's and hang him. No. thank God, women cabinet.

Mark Twain used to say, at his own expense, that two cities claimed his birth; that Florida, Mo., claimed it was Hannibal and that Hannibal, Mo., claimed it was Florida.

At no time since the appearance of Huckleberry Finn and Tom Saw.

The Louisville Courier-Journal.

Outcker all nations are made to real-been a member of the news staff of the veloping the spiritual nature—that is part of they are in business, whether business is good or bad. But when so why the world has gotten into such an abnormal condition. Women have the first of the work, writing more as a recreation the work, writing more as a recreation and the work, writing more as a recreation that the ground rests with themselves, and the veloping the spiritual nature—that is why the world has gotten into such an abnormal condition. Women have been more willing to abide by God's that the ground rests with themselves, not their customers ask, "Why when so many of their customers ask, whether business is good or bad. But when so why the world has gotten into such an an abnormal condition. Women have been more willing to abide by God's law than men; hence at this critical laws than men; hence at this ground his been a member of the news staff of the veloping the spiritual nature—that is why the world has gotten into such why the world has proved has an

Omaha Bee: There are a few people that hate themselves and do not smile. men, that failed to realize the value of smiling.

can doubt it, smiles will win love, friendship, cause trouble with flappers—keep down anger.

the puddles by the side of the road friendship, cause trouble with flappers—keep down anger. pers-keep down anger.
Who admires an old grouch? Not a lovely disposition, need not remain of their days.

a grouch. Smiles may be produced by proper cultivation. Overhaul your lif love affairs were more seriously con-

Being willing to show the goods and, parents know this and act according whether you buy or not, their face ly, eliminating all talk of love from remains the same. Thanking their their conversation with children until ustomer, asking them to call again, they are of proper age.

Abe Martin

Pinky Kerr who wuzn' worth his of May 2 I read with much interest keep before th' war now pulls down Charles Stoltenberg's article on "Wo man and Politics." He says, by the laws of nature the women will never stoppin' had better saye ther steps master politics: that they could never burn a negro at the stake: that till they settle down an' try t' make they could not take a man from jail a mince pie without a kitchen

Yours for a peace on earth and good necessary to wear a smile as it is to

That Wonderful Smile.

Genoa, Neb.—To the Editor of The larmful if not taken care of. H. A. HANSBERRY.

Less Jesting Over Young Love. St. Paul. Neb .- To the Editor of The poet, who passed away recently. I to Kin Hubbard's humorous of this newspaper, the following this newspaper, the following doubt the conditions of the condi > me. No one with a 20th century dis-position should. and smarting as their legs were in those days. The pity of it is that Persons not fortunately born with the hearts carry the scars to the end > by proper cultivation. Overhaul your self occasionally. Persuade yourself to be more agreeable and the smile tease tiny tots about tots about tots about tots about they are considered old germ will mature despite the fact you hearts before they are considered old enough to be taught to pray.

> Many smiling and agreeable clerks > find themselves always Lusy—customers will wait to ouy from them.
>
> First in every man's life is his religion; next should be his love. Fortunate indeed are the children whose making their sons' or daughters' love When you once assume the responsi- affairs the butt of rude jokes and structor, nothing less than a miracle the most serious things of life will reveal itself, when you learn the Phonographs for

We have 75 splendid, slightly used and demonstrating phonographs which MUST BE MOVED THIS WEEK to make room for new stocks now in transit.

Every One Is Guaranteed to Be in First Class Condition

They come in all finishes and sizes and are the ones we have "taken in exchange on pianos and player pianos.

For one dollar down and a few records you select and pay for your choice will be sent to your home. Come in before they are sorted over and nicke sure of a bargain you will always delight in.

This Large Cabinet Packard Phonograph Only $58.00

The First to Come Get First Choice

Notice These Bargains

| | | Was | Now |
|---------|--------------------|-----------|---------|
| Victor, | oak | $ 40.00 | $ 9.00 |
| | i-Phone, mahogany. | | $12.50 |
| Premie | r, mahogany | $. 35,00 | $15.00 |
| | oak | | $22.50 |
| Portop | hone, leatherette | $ 35.00 | $23.00 |
| Outing | , oak | $ 37.50 | $25.00 |
| | oia, mahogany | | S28.00 |
| | oak | | $65.00 |
| | oia, mahogany | | $68.00 |
| Vietrol | a, mahogany | $150.00 | $78.00 |

MAIL THIS COUPON

Tear out the phonograph list, make a check mark after the phonograph you are interested in and mail at once. It will

These bargains will not last, and for $1,00 down cannot be equaled again. This is your chance to own a high-grade phonograph and to pay an unheard-of low price.

1514-16-18-Dod .: St .- - Omaha