

SEVERE STORMS WHIT'S GRAND ISLAND

Sugar Falls in Face of New Probe

Several New York Operators Served With Subpoenas by Federal Agents; Action by Grand Jury Rumored.

Officers Refuse to Talk

New York, May 11.—Investigation by a federal grand jury of trading in raw sugar futures on the New York Coffee and Sugar exchange was forecast today, when several operators in raw sugar were served with subpoenas by agents of the Department of Justice.

Federal attorneys investigating the high cost of sugar refused to affirm or deny that the subpoenas were for appearance before the grand jury. While none of the sugar men subpoenaed would disclose the nature of the summons, the news spread through the exchange and caused a general liquidation of raw sugar futures, prices closing at 23 to 35 points lower than Thursday.

Spot Prices Slump

Spot sugar declined 1 1/2c as the news spread and large offerings at 6 3/4c per pound, cost and freight, were made, with no takers at the close. The sugar traders had believed that the government would not continue its investigation of sugar prices after the federal circuit court had denied its application to enjoin trading in raw sugar futures on the exchange.

No information could be gained at the offices of the federal attorney regarding the nature of the investigation for which subpoenas had been issued. Government agents would say nothing in regard to the government's next move. It was pointed out, however, that an indication of the true state of affairs could be seen in the fact that, although the supply of raw sugar remained the same, the prices of raw sugar futures had declined about 1-1/2c a pound on reports that the grand jury would investigate.

Conspiracy Charged

Despite the fact that the government's petition for a temporary injunction to restrain trading in raw sugar futures, unless backed by actual ownership or control of the sugar dealt in, had been denied by the federal circuit court, it was stated that the government's case charging that raw sugar futures trading, as operated by the exchange, was a clearing house, constitute a conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law had yet to be heard.
