

Gary Urges Christianity to Heal World

Steel Magnate Declares Religion Is Plain Business Sense and He's "Not Preaching Sermon."

By Associated Press.
New York, May 25.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, pleaded for a greater turning toward the Christian religion as a cure for the world's ills, in his address today opening the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Disclaiming any intention to "preach a sermon," Mr. Gary declared religion was "simple, plain business sense."
"Gentlemen," he said, "it is in accordance with our instincts and judgment as frequently proclaimed, to say that it pays a nation or an individual to follow a Christian course."
Mr. Gary reserved his customary analysis of conditions in the steel industry for the end of his address, when he asserted that "there is nothing in sight to indicate that there will be a substantial diminution of the demand for finished steel in this country during the next six months, to say the least."

He warned steel manufacturers not to permit prices to go above a level which is "fair and reasonable."

Hughes as Arbitrator.
Touching on the Ruhr situation, he suggested that Secretary of State Hughes be named as an impartial arbitrator to settle the international differences between France and Belgium and Germany, Mr. Gary, mentioning his recent visit to the Holy Land, launched into a vigorous defense of the Bible.

"The moral and religious principles of the Bible, both the old and new testaments," he said, "have never been and never can be successfully combated. Since the preservation of history commenced, there has never been anything approaching the Holy Bible as a code for a proper and desirable human conduct, or as a foundation for future hopes."
"If any here should believe this is an exaggeration which is not probable, read again this book and you will be surprised. Visit Palestine in the light of, and under the inspiration of the Bible. The landmarks of Palestine are as described in the Bible. The more we read and study, the more we must be convinced of the absolute reliability of the Book of Books."

"One who reads of, or personally witnesses the evidences of the rise and fall of great nations and communities and cities, is led to believe that an overruling God determined their destinies. Corinth, for a long time dominating city known as the luxurious and wicked city, today has only a small community with a few remaining magnificent ruins partly uncovered. Such nations as the United States even, or Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, China, Germany, Austria, Russia, will do well to constantly bear in mind the history of the past and the possibilities of the future."

Of conditions in the United States, Mr. Gary said that the present business outlook is good.

In Face of Burdens.
"All this is said in the face of very heavy burdens of taxation, unnecessary and unreasonable political and social agitations precipitated by those who have nothing financial at stake, the unfortunate troubles pending in foreign countries, and the bugbear of politics," he added.

"There has, of late apparently been a deliberate and persistent attempt to create an impression that there will be in the near future, a substantial recession in business activities," he asserted. "The propaganda is inspired by a few short-sighted persons who do not seem to understand that if they could succeed in wrecking the business structure they would themselves be buried in the ruins."

In discussing business conditions, Mr. Gary said that the furnaces and mills of iron and steel manufacturers are now operating nearly to full capacity, limited and modified only by the lack of sufficient working forces.

Toward the end of his address, Mr. Gary showed signs of exhaustion and left the hall. Charles M. Schwab completed reading of the address.

After a short rest, Mr. Gary was reported completely recovered from his exhaustion.

Man Who Makes 'The Nebbs' Lineup of Elks' Parade Is Given

This is Sol Hess, creator of "The Nebbs," the new comic cartoon which appears each day in the Omaha Evening Bee.
By profession, Mr. Hess is a jeweler; by inclination a humorist. Working out the details of a daily comic strip is recreation for him. And it is because he likes his work that his new comic strip is such a good one.

Park Is Mecca for Picnickers

Schools and Fraternal Organizations Schedule Dates for Omaha Amusement Place.

Krug park is becoming the Mecca for picnickers within a 75-mile radius of Omaha.

Although the picnic season still is in its infancy, more than 700 industrial and fraternal organizations, Sunday schools, grade schools, rural schools and high schools have applied for reservations.

When the season for outings is further advanced, the park will be the scene of several large picnics each day in addition to the private ones.

A large space is appropriated for the use of picnickers, and the grounds are equipped with outdoor kitchens, which boast gas ranges, cooking utensils and other paraphernalia designed for such occasions.

The park also has established a supply depot and furnishes lunches, or any commodity for a lunch, at wholesale cost.

Company K of the Nebraska National guard, will hold a picnic and dance June 8. More than 5,000 persons will be in attendance.

Council Bluffs grade school children will hold their annual outing four days later.

The first of a series of picnics for Omaha grade school pupils will be held June 19. These picnics will extend over a period of several weeks.

On July 19 another group of Council Bluffs students will hold an outing, and on July 19 Omaha grocers and butchers will hold a joint outing.

Police Launch Campaign Against Glaring Headlights
All motorists whose headlights do not comply with the law will be arrested, a police announcement states. Three "targets" have been established—at Central station, at Thirteenth street and Redick avenue and at Eighteenth and Ohio streets—and motorists can stop at any of them and have their lights adjusted so they won't glare.

Elk City Woman Expires Following Operation
Goldie Bryant, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bryant of Elk City, Neb., died Wednesday in a local hospital following a serious operation on May 12. She is survived by her parents, three brothers and three sisters. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 in the Elk City church.

Women outlive the men, on the average, in Japan. Their mental and physical habits, dress and free outdoor life may account for this fact.

Are your hands rough and hard?

The regular use of Resinol Soap is frequently all that is required to overcome such a condition, and produce that whiteness and velvety softness so much to be desired.

If however, the hands are in very bad condition—if they crack open and smart after being in water—use Resinol Ointment as follows—

Bathe the hands freely with Resinol Soap before retiring. Dry completely. Rub in Resinol Ointment gently but thoroughly and cover with old gloves. In the morning bathe again with Resinol Soap. In most cases a few such treatments produce very satisfactory results.

Ask your druggist for the Resinol Products.
