A. B. Cummins Supports Proposal for United States Membership in Address at Des Moines.

Des Moines, May 28.—Unqualified approval of the world court under the conditions laid down by President Harding, was voiced today by Senator A. B. Cummins, of Iowa, in an address here before the Conchus club. After an explanation of the provisions for a permanent court of international justice as outlined in article 14 of the league of nations covenant, Senator Cummins declared: "So far as my personal views are concerned, I have no hesitation in saying that it is my judgment that the United States and every other power should agree to this compulsory jurisdiction."

"I have always been ready to submit to any properly constituted international tribunal any controversy of a justifiable character that may arise between the United States and other nations. But it seems to be the long and well established conviction of the senate, as expressed in nearly all of our arbitration treaties, to make certain exceptions. In harmony with what is known to be the attitude of the senate upon this matter, the proposal of the president that we shall adhere to and support the permanent court of international justice excluding the feature of compulsory jurisdiction."

"It would not seem that there can be any serious danger in an undertaking of that sort."

Bandits Divided Into 2 Factions

One Willing to Mediate Pact for Release of Captives, Other Opposes.

Shanghai, May 28.—The Chinese bandits at Paot'Zukou, who held 14 foreigners, including several Americans, prisoner, as well as 100 Chinese, have divided into two factions, according to advices from Lincheng. One faction is willing to mediate an agreement for the release of their foreign captives, while the other faction is so hostile that they fired upon a mediating party coming to confer on terms. Fortunately none was injured.

The situation as a result of the deadlock of the two bandit factions remains in practically the same state it has been since the foreigners were kidnaped 23 days ago.

No reports of additional clashes between the government troops and the bandits have been received, although heavy reinforcements have been brought up and more are arriving.

In addition, two airplanes from Pekin have arrived in response to the request of Tuchen Tien of Shantung province, who fears securing release of the prisoners by force.

According to latest advices from Teao-Chwang, the negotiator of J. B. Powell, American newspaper man, have proven fruitless. Powell was permitted to come out of the bandit stronghold under heavy escort and returned with new terms from the Chinese government.

Foreign Women Seek to Aid Poorer Chinese Children

Shanghai, May 28.—Various foreign women's organizations of Shanghai, notably the American Woman's club and the British Woman's club, lately addressed an appeal to the municipal council of Shanghai, asking that body to do what it could to improve working conditions for children employed in mills and factories, and to seek to put an end to night labor for children under 12 years of age. "In bringing these recommendations to the notice of the council," says the communication sponsored by the organizations, "we should like to point out that the Chinese themselves are showing an active interest in the problems presented by the development of industrial labor."

"Ala Americaine" Craze Taking Paris by Storm

Famous Restaurants, Including "Lucas," Hire American Cooks—Frenchmen Insist on United States Tailored Clothes—Theatrical Missionaries Literally Take Over Night Life.

Paris, May 28.—With 40,000 Americans congregated in France, mostly in Paris, the la Americaine craze has hit Paris with redoubled fervor. Even the sober-minded section of the French populace has yielded to the popular liking for things American.

Two famous restaurants, including "Lucas," for many years the headquarters for connoisseurs in eating and drinking, have gone so far as to hire American cooks, overriding all gastronomic traditions.

The smartest Frenchmen now insist on American tailoring. American broad-brimmed hats are strictly modish and several boulevard hotelkeepers are even displaying American short-length underwear, hitherto one of the principal stock jokes of Paris comics.

Contributing to this capturing of the old by the new is a group of missionaries, mostly theatrical, who have literally taken possession of all the cherished landmarks in the fashionable night districts. The Dolly sisters have opened the "Ambassadeurs," and Saturday night were given a great ovation.

Harry Piller runs the Champs Elysees supper dance and Florence Walton is scheduled to open the Marigny theater Thursday, while her former husband, Maurice, is still triumphing with Lenore Hughes at "My Sister's Garden."

Roy Barton and Jack Edwards are a tremendous hit at the Casino de Paris. Paul Whiteman is booked to open the beautiful "Hermitage," and will afterward go to Deauville. A dozen lesser American acts are advertised at different restaurants and theaters, including the American "Midnight Frolics," which is exclusively in the English language, but more redolent of Fall Mall than Broadway.

Business Sees Pace Too Rapid

Buying Now More for Current Needs Than Future—Labor Big Problem.

New York, May 28.—A change in sentiment rather than in underlying conditions marked the past week in the country's leading financial markets. While more favorable sentiment with regard to the general business outlook doubtless has been induced, to a certain extent at least, by the pronounced recovery in the stock market, there is evidence also that a more sober expectation of the facts has had its effect.

Advices from the steel trade have been reassuring, commodity markets have firmed up, renewed interests in metals has been reported and rail road freight traffic has further expanded. Mercantile trade agencies, furthermore, while still clinging to caution in their reports, are more prone to attribute such slackening as has appeared in trade to natural seasonal influences.

Business is coming around to recognize what has been patent for some time, namely, that the pace has been a bit too rapid to be maintained without interruption. Buying is now more for current needs than for the future, but the belief is growing that with the summer digestive period over, demand will become more insistent. What the fall will bring remains to be seen and much depends on how the labor situation shapes itself.

Even the latter is not without its ray of hope. While strikes and threats of strikes undoubtedly are becoming more frequent and the week has brought further wage increases, notably on a large railroad system, it is known that labor leaders, particularly in the building trades, are showing a more conciliatory spirit. It is believed that they are becoming alarmed lest the situation get out of hand as it did in 1919 and that too much prosperity may kill off all prosperity. They do not want their men to increase their demand to the extent that activities will be curtailed or cease entirely. It would appear that announcement of a abandonment of building plans is having a salutary effect on those guiding labor's destinies.

LEND A HAND!

With an advance of 11% in the wages of steel workers, 10% increase in the wages of packing house workers, approximately 12 1/2% increase in the wages of men engaged in building trades, and great activity being exhibited in mills and factories, the outlook for the future is very good.

The one division of industry that has not shared in this improved condition is agriculture. The farmer is the man on whom the ultimate prosperity of this great middle west depends. Until the farmer has also shared in the better conditions, he should have the thoughtful co-operation of all other branches of industry.
