

Beatrice Fairfax Problems That Perplex

A Selfish Suitor.
Dear Miss Fairfax: I have been going about with a young man a year. We cannot see each other without a quarrel. I have learned to love him dearly and when he is with me he acts as if he loved me, but he goes to dances and shows and seldom thinks of asking me. He is known to be very saving. He always tells me some day he will tell me he loves me. A DREAMER. He is selfish and quarrelsome—that much is clear. Can you imagine any peace or contentment of happiness as his wife? Do you think he would consider you and play fair with you or would he make you a bitter, jealous woman by his self-centredness? Study the boy's character. Don't be dazzled by your youthful and normal desire for love, but look into the possibilities that you would find happy with this man even if he did care for you. Don't be tricked by your emotions. If he isn't playing fair with you now, what chance is there that he ever will?

Young Enough to Wait.
Dear Miss Fairfax: Last winter a friend introduced me to a young girl of 18. I love her very much and she reciprocates. Our acquaintance has gone beyond that of mere friendship. But at present am unable to support a wife. Please advise me how I should act. B. S.

Tell her of your feelings and your financial situation. The girl is young enough to wait, but there is no reason why either of you should build air castles until you are sure they have some foundation. Find out if she cares for you—and do her the honor of telling her of your love.

FATHER, THERE'S MY MONTHLY REPORT CARD—I WISH YOU WOULD SIGN IT AND PLEASE NOTICE THE EXCELLENT MARK I GOT FOR COOKING

MOTHER, HERE'S YOUR DAUGHTER'S EDUCATIONAL SCORE CARD—THE ONLY EXCELLENT MARK SHE HAS IS FOR COOKING—WHY SEND HER TO SCHOOL FOR THAT? YOU COULD TAKE HER OUT IN THE KITCHEN AND TEACH HER MORE COOKING IN A WEEK THAN THEY COULD IN FOUR YEARS

IS THAT SO? I'M NOT GOING TO TEACH HER TO COOK—I DON'T WANT HER TO STAND OVER A HOT OVEN ALL DAY—I HOPE SHE HAS BETTER LUCK THAN I HAD

WELL MAYBE MOTHER IS RIGHT—MAYBE OUR DAUGHTER WILL NEVER HAVE TO COOK—BUT IF SHE HAS TO THIS SCHOOL COOKING WON'T HELP HER MUCH—IMAGINE A HUNGRY HUSBAND COMING HOME TO A DINNER OF POP-OVERS, LADY FINGERS AND FUDGE
