

Unions Oppose Federal-Owned Roads, Is Claim

Brotherhood Official, Speaker at U. P. Celebration, Says Government Ownership No Solution of Problem.

Opposition to government ownership of railroads from the standpoint of the railroad brotherhoods was voiced at the Union Pacific day gathering at North Platte Thursday by W. N. Doak, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, according to Omahans who have returned from the meeting.

Mr. Doak's expression on the subject is considered significant for the reason that heretofore, according to railroad officials, the brotherhoods have remained more or less neutral on the subject.

"If half the statements made regarding management of railroads were true, it is a mystery how the railroads could have continued to exist," Mr. Doak is quoted as saying.

Held No Solution.

"No government ownership system, in my opinion, has ever been devised, or ever will be devised, to fill the bill. I believe the men of our organization are not in favor of government ownership. We believe this will not solve the transportation problem. I suggest loyalty to the company which employs you. Ask the patrons of the road to have faith in the railroad. On no other road, have the brotherhoods had the fairness and co-operation that they have had with the Union Pacific system."

Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific system, also expressed distrust of government ownership, although he was director in charge of operation during the period of government control.

"During the war the government took over the railroads, not because of any dereliction on their part, but to facilitate the needs of war transportation because the government under one unified head could do things that the railroads could not possibly do without driving some of them into bankruptcy," he said.

British Bride of American Citizen Barred Because Quota Is Exhausted

New York, June 1.—Because Great Britain's immigration quota has been exhausted six days ago, Mrs. Elsie Demitron, English bride of an American citizen, who arrived here on the steamship President Monroe this week, must be excluded, an immigration board decided yesterday. She appealed the decision to Washington.

Mrs. Demitron was barred under the recent law stipulating that an alien marrying an American does not become a citizen of this country until she has lived here a year.

The decision, it was believed, forecasts similar adverse decisions in the cases of five other British subjects who also arrived among the first-class passengers on the President Monroe.

Local authorities expressed the opinion that the only possibility whereby some of the other Britishers might be permitted to enter would be their temporary admission as tourists. Claim for special consideration as a tourist was made by one of the five, Mrs. Alice Robertson, who had her passport visaed by an American consular officer in England before the quota was filled and who and as such had absolute one-man power.

"I wouldn't trust any man with that power. For such a condition to exist would be detrimental to the country and unsafe for the public." More than 6,000 persons attended the celebration. Four special trains were parked on sidings and all regular trains were crowded.

Candidates Are Examined for Beatrice Postmaster

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Beatrice, Neb., June 1.—D. E. Batle, postoffice inspector, and Warren Adams of the civil service department are here examining the qualifications of candidates for postmaster. They are R. R. Kyo, Robert Pease, Mrs. Clark Perkins, H. L. Harper, J. R. McCann and G. L. Mumford.

Concert Club Campaign.

Robert Sheehan has been appointed campaign manager by the City Concert club for a drive to raise $5,000 for band concerts in the parks during the summer. The drive is scheduled to start Monday, and will continue two weeks. C. B. Binns will be assistant manager.

stated that she would remain here only six months.

For the first time since the restricted immigration law became effective, the British quota was exhausted just before the President Monroe arrived. This fact is apparently not known in London and astonishment expressed there at the detention of the British subjects is based on a belief that the action is unwarranted, immigration officials said.

She announced the committee will report to its organization June 12.

Wins Scholarship Prize.

Alfred W. Christenson, stenographer for the Adams-Kelly company, and a student at the night law school of the University of Omaha, has won first prize for scholarship, consisting of a set of law books. He is a third year student.

"The decision of the judges was not unexpected, but I will reserve my opinion for another time," said Dr. Jennie Laird.

Mrs. W. T. Graham, chairman of the special committee said she would not give a statement at this time

Vote to Show View of Women on Judges' Stand

Women of the special committee of the W. C. T. U. are reticent about expressing themselves on the action of the municipal judges in the matter relating to Judge William Wappich.

"We will speak later with our ballots," one woman said.

"The decision of the judges was not unexpected, but I will reserve my opinion for another time," said Dr. Jennie Laird.

One-Minute Store Talk

"I've traveled from coast to coast for years—made a hobby of watching clothing stores—you folks lead America. There are bigger towns than Omaha—but there are no bigger clothing stores in spirit, in service, in selections or values," commented a visitor at our store recently.
