

Eight Valuable Thoroughbreds Perish in Fire

Noted Horses Lost When Barns at Ohio State Jockey Club Burn—Many Others Saved by Race Fans.

Cleveland, O., June 1.—Eight thoroughbred race horses and a pony were burned to death in a fire which destroyed five barns at the Ohio State Jockey club's race track at Maple Heights, near Bedford, O., late yesterday. Nearly 150 horses were trapped in the barns and that not more were lost was due to the heroism of scores of racegoers and attendants, who cut the animals loose and let them run at large. Several were so badly burned they may have to be destroyed.

Those killed were well known to followers of the running races. They were Susana, a 3-year-old winner of two events at the present meeting; Huro II (7), and Shortstop (8), owned by J. A. Parsons of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Long Island (4), Portlight (10), Mambi (5), and the Ulster (3), in the stables of A. S. Eastman of Toledo. All had been winners on various tracks of America. The eighth horse was unidentified.

Portlight lost his life when, after being cut loose, he ran back into the flames.

Starting in one of the barns when an oil stove is said to have exploded, the fire, fed by hay and straw, spread quickly to adjoining buildings and in a few moments the entire back stretch was a mass of flames. The horses were just entering the home stretch in the fifth event when the fire was discovered, but a majority of the fans did not wait for the finish and headed for the barns, a quarter of a mile from the grandstands.

The loss to the stables was placed at $12,500 by General Manager F. N. Poimen. The loss on the animals could not be learned, but it may run as high as $100,000.

The sixth and seventh races were delayed, but were run off. The sixth was won by Blazonry, one of the animals rescued.

It is impossible to estimate the value of the vast collection of jewelry owned by Queen Mary of England.

4 in Iowa Fishing Party Drowned

Boat Capsizes in Clear Lake—Bodies Recovered After All-Day Search.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
 Mason City, Ia., June 1.—Four persons were drowned in Clear lake, near here, when a boat in which they were going on a fishing excursion capsized Wednesday night. An all-day search was conducted following finding of the boat adrift on the lake this morning. Shortly after noon, under the direction of Coroner W. E. Long and Sheriff Marsh, the lake was dragged in an effort to find the bodies, which were located late this evening.

Bees Parks, proprietor of a beauty parlor; George Stoneback, traveling representative of a Burlington wholesale firm, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hickok, all of Clear Lake, were the members of the party. They had started out in a rented boat for a fishing trip Wednesday and were not missed until the capsized boat was discovered this morning.

James Miller and James Rickard, in a little launch with a small drag hook, brought up the bodies of Miss Parks and Mr. Hickok. A watch found on the body of Miss Parks had stopped at 10:25, indicating the approximate time of the accident.

While drawing up the body of Mrs. Hickok a few minutes later, the line became tangled in the anchor of the fishing party's boat, and pulling this up, they recovered the body of Mr. Stoneback.

Smoot Predicts No Cut in Taxes

"Never Again Will Federal Levy Be Less Than $3,000,000,000 a Year."

Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—Reed Smoot, United States senator from Utah, told members of the Lincoln club at a luncheon they gave in his honor that "never again will your federal taxes be less than $3,000,000 a year, but probably more."

"The foremost subject of interest to the American people now is taxation," said the senator. "Before the war that word meant nothing to us, but what a difference now! For 25 years to come, the dominant questions will be how to raise the money for our government. I am sure the federal taxes never again will be less than $3,000,000,000 annually. Probably in a few years, they will be more than that."

In less than a decade, we shall be paying $1,500,000,000 a year in pensions to world war veterans. It is right and just this should be done but the taxpayers must prepare for the burden."

Touching on the money owed the United States by various European countries, he said:

"All honor to England. She considers it as much a sacred duty to meet her obligations as life itself. If it had been left to me, I would have made a better settlement for her than was made, for the settlement was burdensome to her. England is taxed $102 a year for every man, woman and child. For that war cost her more than all her expenses of government, including wars, in the 228 years before the war. If peace ever comes, and the world ever gets back to normal conditions, it will have been brought about by the English-speaking peoples and no others."

He said France had "her back against the wall" and was faced by a situation of a grave nature, not only to her, but to the remainder of the world. Italy, he said, was feeling keenly the losses of the war and the payment of her debt to the United States was a problem for her most astute financiers. He placed Belgium in the same class with France and Italy. Poland and Czechoslovakia, he declared, were making every effort to pay their debts to America and should be commended for their efforts.
