

Prosperity Due to Continue, Says W.N.U. Official

V. M. Harper, Back From Trip East, Finds Present Condition Is "Healthy Procedure."

Continuation, on a more healthful basis, of the present period of business prosperity, was predicted by W. M. Harper, assistant general manager of the Western Newspaper Union, with general offices in Omaha, on his return from a trip of inspection which has taken him into leading cities over the country. "Notwithstanding what appears to be a slight let up in activities generally, and a falling off in volume of business, I regard it only as a healthy procedure, and one that is calculated to prolong the period of substantial prosperity," he said. "I feel that banks and big business generally are appreciative of the fact that action that will tend to curtail inflation is very necessary if the country's business is to continue in the healthy, vigorous condition which now obtains. "My own inspection and checking up have caused me to appreciate the soundness of statements that have been made by such men as Judge Gary of the United States Steel corporation, heads of Federal Reserve banks and others. It is time for temperate action on the part of all business, but we can view the present and the immediate future with confidence." Mr. Harper also remarked on the pronounced wage inflation which has curtailed building activities to a large extent in the east. "During my visit to Boston," he said, "I was told by bankers and of-

Too Much Brag in Patriotism, Says Bishop Shaylor Tells Continental Club That America's Duty Is Toward Neighbors—War No Solution.
Bishop E. V. Shaylor, addressing the Continental club at luncheon in Hotel Fontenelle yesterday, stated that our patriotism should be something more than a brag; something more than words from the lips or inscribed on paper. "Much of our patriotism is on paper," the bishop asserted. "True patriotism is a spirit which animates a man and lifts up his aspirations for his native land." He referred to four great epochs in the national life of this nation and explained that during each of these epochs there was manifested a type of patriotic service which meant one for all and all for one. "American life is built on Christian ideals, on a Christian foundation," he added. "True Americans grow out of the best of other nations. We should remember that America has a relationship with all of the world and its neighbors must receive the benefits of its democratic government. "The principles of which our government was founded should find expression today in our united loyalty. "We pray that the curse of war shall forever be ended; it will be ended when the principles for which this nation stands are expressed in peace as they were in war. War never settled anything; it is only an irritation." Japan has become a close rival of Germany in the manufacture of rubber toys.

An Offering of Printed Crepe Frocks $2.11

Printed crepes predominate in this group of dresses, just as they do in any gathering of young women. Simply styled, their effect is achieved through the pattern of their fabric. Lightweight crepes in tiny figured patterns with pleated, tiered skirt or side pleatings; heavier silk weaves of Egyptian and Oriental designing.

Straight of style, slim of line. They are youthfully charming.

All colors and black with white.
