A Prize of $150

For the Best Loaf of Home--Made Bread

Rules of the Exhibit

All entries must be received at the Burgess-Nash Auditorium not later than 10:30 on the morning of June 11th. The judges will "select" the winning loaf during the day and announce the winner during the afternoon. The bread will be on display all during Monday.

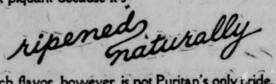

Write out your recipe fully, giving the treatment of the dough as followed in the making of your bread. Fresh bread will be required for entry.

This contest will be of interest to EVERY WOMAN. We invite you to see the exhibit. There will be hundreds of home-made loaves on display and, remember, the winning loaf will present its maker with $150

Cudahy's Puritan Unusual Bacon

NO royal personage, no epicure, can boast a better bacon for tomorrow's breakfast than you can if you insist on Puritan when you or-der. For Puritan, remember, is deliciously mild, yet piquant because it's Rich flavor, however, is not Puritan's only pride. It is tender young meat, closer trimmed, and has a low moisture content. Thus you gain economy too, while you buy Puritan for its unusually delicious flavor. Sold in the piece or sliced in pound and half-pound cartons.
