Just an Ordinary Lie

The News, in claiming to publish the advertising figures of the Omaha papers yesterday, states that The Omaha Bee showed a loss in local display advertising of 1,190 inches for the month of May, 1923. This is just an ordinary falsehood such as many people have grown to expect from the News, in both business and editorial matters.

The Omaha Ree actually showed no loss in local display advertising and in total display advertising showed a gain of 1,257 inches over May, 1922

In total advertising The Omaha dee showed a gain of 2,329 inches. Figures are as furnished by The Haynes Advertising Agency.
