James L. McIntosh Tells Graduates That Work is Solvent Needed to Banish Difficulties.

At the 33d annual commencement of Creighton university, 204 young men and women were presented degress yesterday morning during impressive ceremonies in the university gymnasium.

In his introductory remarks, President John F. McCormick, S. J., stated that this was the largest class in the history of the university. He stated that the responses received during the recent building campaign amounted to $275,000 pledged, with more in prospect. He expressed the belief that the extensive building program will be started next year and that Creighton will press on to greater achievements.

The commencement exercises were opened with an academic procession, followed by part songs rendered by the University Glee club.

Degrees Conferred.

The presentation of graduates for the conferring of degrees was observed in the following order:

College of Arts and Science, Dean William J. Grace, S. J. Training Corps, Major Carbit S. Hoffman, Inf. U. S. A.

College of Medicine, Dean Herman von W. Schullz, M. D.

College of Law, Dean Louis J. Tefel, A. B., LL. B.

College of Dentistry, Dean A. Hush Hippie, D. D. S., M. D.

College of Pharmacy, Dean Howard C. Newlin, Ph. G.

College of Education, Dean Herman von W. Schullz, M. D.

Chief Justice Andrew M. Morrissey of the state supreme court administered the oath to the law graduates.

"You young women and men of these graduating classes are about to enter upon the greatest scientific, industrial and commercial age of the world," was a statement by James L. McIntosh of Sidney, Neb., in an address to the graduates.

"My advice to you is to observe all that is honorable as you go forth from this felicitous event to your various activities of life. America has not made it in the making. We have our responsibilities and we must not shirk them. We must maintain the ideals of the founder of our country. The world needs the intelligence and the high ideals of these graduating classes."

Work Solves Difficulties.

Mr. McIntosh referred to a present-day misunderstanding among men and nations; a universal distemper, and a wellnigh universal aversion to work.

"Work," he said, "is the solvent of difficulties. Work and correct habits are masters of the situation. The world needs industry."

"There is an obsession for material things and against spiritual interests. We need a genuine religion, a genuine regard for each other, which is the basis of real manhood and womanhood."

"I really believe we are on the threshold of a spiritual awakening. There are indications to warrant that belief. Last week Judge E. H. Gary, speaking to the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, made a public avowal of the efficacy of religion. We need a common understanding one with the other."

Large Army Advocated by Secretary Weeks

"I don't always agree with them. Have confidence in the men representing you in government."

Secretary Weeks was introduced by F. A. Brogan, who presided at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon. The secretary declared that the United States has set a good example for the world already by cutting down its army as much as to "cause some of us to fear it is below safety."

Declaring that it requires all the officers and men of the regular army to guard government property, Secretary Weeks added that the National guard was never as good as it is today, and that there is no longer any truth in the charges made by some that the regular army is "hard boiled." He urged that the new system of giving military training be supported on the theory that the man with military training is fitter than the one without it.

Inspects Forts.

Secretary Weeks, accompanied by Gen. George B. Duncan and several other army officers, inspected Forts Crook and Omaha Saturday morning. The 19-round salute was fired in his honor at the forts. There was a large group of army men in the audience at the chamber.

Secretary Weeks was entertained at the races on Ak-Sar-Ben track at the last night and left for the east last night.

General Duncan was Host at the Race Track for Secretary Weeks.

In his party were Randall Brown, John Lee Webster and Al C. Scott.

"The first qualification of independence which business and labor demand is self-defense," the secretary declared in an interview.

"The primary need of our country, relative to national defense, is the preparation of our citizens for the national posse; the latter to be sent out only upon the decision of our people themselves."

Must Continue Training.

"We cannot rest secure in the idle delusion of the permanent protection of the great army which we raised during the world war. This great army is rapidly vanishing from the fields of possible use in warfare. It is passing the age of service, and abilities for service, and other disabilities for service. It is consequently estimated that in 1925 there will remain available of its entire numbers less than 20 per cent and the available number will rapidly decrease to zero thereafter. Our reliance must be on the continuance of the trained and organized reserves."

Complaints are made that the "militarists" of the nation are carrying on a farflung campaign to Prussianize America. I have no sympathy for such views for the reason that they convey an insult to American manhood. There is an ingrained abhorrence of militarism in the minds of Americans and it is absurd to assume that this can easily be removed.

"Let us continue a straightforward people, ready to work for peace either by sacrifice and consent or by fighting for the only peace which is right. If you do not desire militarism, remember the words of Thomas Jefferson: 'None but an armed nation can dispense with a standing army.'"

Lincoln Man Shot by Posse

Files Sued for $18,000
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Lincoln, June 2.—Fred W. Lunsman, Lancaster county farmer, who refused to halt at the command of two possesmen, who believe he was Fred Brown, Omaha chain man, and was shot by the possesmen here last summer, filed suit in district court today for $18,000. Gus Hyers, former state sheriff, Lloyd Gettys and Howard Morris are defendants. Hyers, it is alleged, had these two men guard a bridge near Lincoln without properly deputizing them, and the two men had no right to fire, when he failed to halt. They were not officers. Hyers is now in the real estate business at Havelock.

Steps Taken to Preserve Prosperity of Past Few Months — Conferences Held Under Tutelage of Hoover.

asked Judge Wakeley for a continuance of the case, declaring that it was prejudicial to the jury. The judge denied the continuance and announced that if another demonstration occurred he would clear the courtroom.

Brumbaugh became angry after he charged that Connell was ignoring the court's decision on his objection to questions asked the plaintiff. Hot words flew from the mouth of Brumbaugh when Connell charged the case was one of "blackmail."

Judge Wakeley sustained objections offered by Miss Johnston's attorney when Connell questioned regarding her relations with E. B. Levy, New York attorney, and J. W. Campbell, eastern business man.

After Brumbaugh called Connell a "shyster lawyer" Connell replied that the young attorney was a coward, a sneak and a bulldozer.

Questioned About Ring.
During her cross-examination, Miss Johnston was questioned concerning a diamond ring given to her by Dr. Connell.

"You made reference during your testimony to certain presents made you by Dr. Connell," W. J. Connell reminded her. "One of them was a diamond ring. When did you get that?"

In June, 1918.
"That thing he had 14 years after you claim he first promised to marry you?"

"Yes, sir."
"Up to that time he gave you nothing?"

"Yes, some tokens."
"What things he gave you after years of service as his secretary?"

"No, I got them from time to time."
"Have you a ring on your finger now?"

"Yes, sir."
"You admitted a pin the doctor wore, did you not?"

"No."
"Well, didn't the stone in that pin resemble the stone he gave you?"

"Yes."
"Didn't Dr. Connell tell you he would try to get you another stone similar to the one in the pin because he had got it as a present?"

"No."
During the morning session, the courtroom was packed, the crowd including a numerous representation of attorneys. Among the attorneys were W. D. McHugh, jr., election commissioner; George Collins, Yale Hall, Clarence Walsh, J. H. Grossman, John C. Wharton, Irving Stalmaster, Claudio Delata, Viggo Linby, Jay Leeka, Ray Coffey, J. C. Burton, Mac Baldrige, United States Commissioner Boehler, J. J. Friedman and Fred Wright.

Car Repairer Dies.
William Morrissey, 44, car repairer for the Missouri Pacific railroad, died yesterday afternoon after a short illness. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. J. P. O'Malley of Des Moines, Mrs. Pat Condrain, Mitchell, S. D.; Mrs. John Nixon, Indian, Ia.; and two brothers, Pat and John of Tecumseh, Neb.

Dr. Connell to Testify in Heart Balm Suit

Washington, June 2.—Big business and organized labor, traditional enemies, have decided to bury the hatchet and see if, by co-operation, they cannot make permanent the prosperity that has visited the United States for the last six months.

This was the object of a secret meeting which business and labor leaders had with Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover at his home here Friday night. The meeting, it was learned, is the second that has been held, the first one having been conducted quietly in New York some days ago.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Julius Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, are the prime movers in the new movement, under the tutelage of Hoover. They were to be highly complimentary to an agreement on reaching importance to the industrial world and to the public will emerge from the sessions.

Another meeting in the near future will be broadened to include representatives of many large basic industries.

Labor in the United States was regarded by all conferees as being "well fed and fairly well paid," while as much could not be said for the world in many other sections of the world.

Both labor and business representatives favored a basis of negotiations upon which high production can be maintained, with wage standards high enough to make it possible for the United States to absorb its present share of production.

Concessions are possible on both sides. It was said to have been the opinion of Gompers and Barnes that for the universal benefit of the entire country there should be a flexible give and take policy.

So far, however, no general solution of the problem has been brought forward. The conference merely sought to have the way for future negotiations.

Discussions concerning the general industrial situation, hours, working conditions and immigration had been held. Hoover, it was understood, is particularly anxious to adjust a difference in opinion of labor and some industries as to working hours.

"Buck" Passed to Bryan on Mickey's Salaries

Lincoln, June 2.—The right of Prof. Clark E. Mickey to draw two salaries from the state, challenged by State Treasurer C. D. Robinson, has been referred to Governor Bryan, who is the titular head of the department of public works, which is employing Mr. Mickey as an expert tester of road material at an annual salary of $2,500 a year.

For his services as professor in the University of Nebraska engineering college, Prof. Mickey has a salary of $4,000 a year. The supreme court many years ago decided a man could draw two salaries from different branches of the state government, but since then the legislature passed a civil code law, which says that "Each secretary and appointee in each department shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall hold no other office or position of profit."

Following a conference between Governor Bryan and Treasurer Robinson today, the state treasurer said the governor told him he was in sympathy with his action on withholding payment of the warrants in favor of Mr. Mickey.

One Killed, 4 Injured in Auto Accidents

As Kinney turned a corner a rear tire blew out, tipping the machine and throwing the officer to the street. The machine righted and plunged riderless on the sidewalk. It struck Miss Bastin, but did not knock her down. Before she could recover it struck her again, throwing her several feet.

Henry Faerber, 45, 218 North Nineteenth street, suffered seven fractured ribs when he was run down by an automobile at Eighteenth and Davenport streets. He was taken to Lord Lister hospital where little hope is held out for his recovery. Orlaf Danlew, 5105 North Thirtieth street, driver of the car which ran Faerber down, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

Miss Hedwig Bastin, 804 Bancroft street, was probably internally injured when she was run down by a police motorcycle which got out of control. She was walking on the sidewalk on Vinton street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. The machine had just left pill box No. 8 and was being driven by Motorcycle Officer Kinney.
