

Meeting Urging Dry Law Repeal to Be Held Here

National Liberty League Issues Call—Program Is Attacked by Local W. C. T. U. Members.

Plans for a mass meeting in Omaha this coming fall, to urge repeal or modification of the Volstead act, are being made, it was announced yesterday by Don E. Debow, secretary-treasurer of the National Liberty League, who recently requested Gov. Al Smith of New York to be one of the speakers, following the latter's signature to the bill repealing New York's prohibition enforcement act.

Mr. Debow said he expected citizens from other states as well as Nebraska would attend the meeting. Efforts were also made, he stated, to secure Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and United States Senator James A. Reed, democrat, Missouri, as speakers. Governor Smith thus far, however, has not indicated whether he would attend.

Legalization under government regulation and control of the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers, is the object of the league, which was organized three months ago, with its national headquarters here. Mr. Debow said, adding that organization work is being extended and that state managers had been employed in Missouri, Illinois and Iowa.

To Fight State Laws.
"Repeal or modification of the Volstead act is our first object, following which state prohibition laws will be taken up for attack," Mr. Debow declared.

Mr. Debow said the meeting probably would be held some time between September 25 and October 1, during which time Omaha's fall festival, Ak-Sar-Ben, will be in progress.

Mrs. M. D. Veino, president of the Douglas County Woman's Christian Temperance union, asserted that the activities of the National Liberty League are being closely watched by her organization.

"There will be strong opposition from us if there is any attempt to modify the Volstead act or to repeal this law," Mrs. Veino said. "Any provision that would modify the 18th amendment or the Volstead act would be going backward. There is no question that prohibition as we would like to have it is the best thing for this country."

Doubts Regulation.
"How could light wines and beer be regulated, as proposed? They are trying to make it appear that the people's liberties are being infringed upon."

Mrs. G. W. Covell, who has labored many years in Omaha for the cause of prohibition, said: "Give the west enough rope and they will hang themselves. The more they agitate, the better it will be for the drys."

"The people of this country learn that a group has been formed to strike at the constitution of the United States, they will put down this rebellious cause as they have suppressed other rebellions."

Action "Unpatriotic."
Mrs. W. T. Graham: "I have the same respect for the 18th amendment that I have for the constitution. The proposed action of the National Liberty League is unpatriotic. These people who are attempting to repeal or modify the Volstead act are disloyal. The constitution provides how they should proceed. If any modification to the 18th amendment should be desired through public sentiment, then it should be obtained through the same process that was observed when the amendment itself was enacted. The program of this liberty league is not honorable."

Shanghai Germans Raise Fund for Ruhr Sufferers

Shanghai, June 9.—Dispatches received recently from Berlin conveyed heartfelt thanks to the small German community of Shanghai for a fund of 500,000 marks that had been forwarded from this port for Ruhr sufferers. This was the first information to the general public here that such a fund had been collected in Shanghai.

The first remittance was approximately 70,000 gold marks, or roughly $17,000.

Dictator Mussolini Believes in Words of Fortune Teller Patron of Rosconi

Paris, June 9.—The most superstitious ruler in Europe is Premier Benito Mussolini, according to paragraphs published in the French press.

Like Wallenstein, who consulted the astrologer Zeno, Dictator Mussolini pays regular visits to an astrologer named Rosconi at Milan. Rosconi leaped into Italian fame when, in 1918, a simple private in the French army, he predicted that the war would end on the day it did end—November 11. So striking was the prophecy that his relatives wished to have him locked up in an insane asylum, but this he escaped owing to the intervention of Mussolini.

Then Rosconi predicted the advent to power of Mussolini, being correct even to the month of the Black Shirt revolution.

His latest prophecy is that a new world war will start within 10 years. He refuses to divulge the constants, but says "Italy will be victorious and will annex new territories."

Mussolini is said to place great faith in his predictions.

Engagements Suspended.

Tiltonville, O., June 9.—A number of local girls have removed diamond rings from the third finger of their left hands. The tax assessor is held responsible. It is said he has announced his intention of listing for taxation all jewelry he sees.
