

Omaha Grain

Omaha, June 21. Total receipts of grain at Omaha were 97 cars against 83 cars last year. Total shipments were 92 cars against 85 cars last year.

There was a very good demand for wheat on the Omaha market with prices unchanged to 1 cent lower. Corn was in good demand, unchanged to 1-2c higher. Oats were unchanged. Rye was quoted nominally unchanged and barley was unchanged.

Shorts covering at the start of Chicago futures market caused a small uptick in wheat, but on the advance there was some commission house selling which soon ran its course and the market reacted from the setback to be met again by selling orders and each dip found a lower level each time.

Market News. Broomhall cables: A reduction of estimate of European crops this year of 24,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels, due to the recent unfavorable weather. Russian prospects are maintained. Balkans 24,000,000 bushels, increase; central western and eastern European prospects decreased and crops are needing warmth and sunshine, otherwise further impairment is probable.

Weekly Iowa Weather and Crop Bulletin says: From April 1 to June 19, rainfall has been about 18 per cent above normal. From Carroll and Sac counties west over Woodbury, Monona and Plymouth counties, while over several southern and northeastern counties it has been slightly less than 5 per cent of the normal.

Corn made good progress the past week, nearly all have been cultivated once, much twice and a little the third time. Some fields are weedy and some are already knee high. Another favorable week will bring the crop nearly up to the average. Win- ning wheat is filling nicely and the southern counties are a little short but quite uniform and looking well with the earliest headed.

George M. Lecount wires from Enid, Okl.: Wheat is all dead here. Harvest in full blast. Many farmers almost through cutting. Yield is fairly good of uneven quality. Where water did not drain off quickly the quality was lowered. On high rolling land, quality is good. Some bundle wheat already in stack. If this day clear weather continues wheat will soon be moving to market in volume.

Chicago Grain. By CHARLES J. LEVDEN. By Universal Service. Chicago, June 21.—With the national wheat conference out of the way and its radical tendencies extinguished, the wheat market settled down and adhered to news of fundamental importance. A "turn" in the market after prices hit new low levels early and thereafter worked steadily upward, with the close strong and at the best levels reached.

Chicago Grain

Wheat closed 1-2 to 7-8c higher; corn was 3-8 to 11-8c advanced; oats were 1-2 to 5-8c up; rye ruled unchanged to 1-2c advanced and barley finished steady.

Liquidation that carried prices off over 7c the past few days was not in evidence, and speculators seemed to be inclined to support the market. A decided improvement in the export demand for wheat market settled down, removal of hedges and urged shorts to cover. The market here sold 175,000 bushels of old wheat for export.

Broader Trade in Corn. A broadening of the corn market with eastern houses buying the July contract, southern demand for the September contract, and a demand for the July contract, and the demand on short was active and the market generally banked little one way or the other.

Omaha Livestock

Receipts were: Cattle, 4,400 head. With about an average Thursday's run of cattle the market held steady at the recent advance of 15c to 20c for the week although trade was hardly as active as in the past few days. Prime weights, steers, are selling at $10.15 to $11.00 with prime yearlings at $10.50 to $11.00.

While there was a good-sized amount of necessary selling early in the day by people who could not wait for more calls for more margin, offerings were readily absorbed. This selling resulted in quite a few new low records but demand for good stocks, particularly American Locomotive, Baldwin Locomotive, Steel common and Studebaker, inspired confidence and caused buying by persons who have been waiting for signs of the right kind of support before making purchases.

Banking support was put under the market at the outset of trading to prevent further weakness. As the session progressed the strength became more pronounced and final prices were around the best.

Financial

New York, June 21.—Sober second thought dominated in Wall street today and stocks closed with net gains ranging from 2 to more than 4 points in the most active shares. Fewer ugly rumors were heard and important banking interests and insiders at the market as substantial buyers of securities for the first time.

New York Bonds

New York, June 21.—The bond market today failed to participate to any pronounced extent in the strength shown by stocks. At intervals during the morning selling pressure was applied very persistently against a varied list of domestic issues in addition there was always a decided chance for the better, many of the earlier offerings being reduced to small proportions, while some popular issues were in fact sold out.

Signs that much of the recent selling through causes of a specific nature were completed were not wanting in the closing dealings when the more active list of issues in the market was cleared. Relatively little change occurred in United States government obligations and a loss of 3-32 in the Liberty Bonds was due to a similar movement in the Treasury bills furnishing the extreme movement.
