Another Firm Stops. A Denial Is Denied. The State of the Union. Thunder and Atheism. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

There was a crowd in front of No. 170 Broadway in lower New York City Wednesday. Metal doors were locked, a detective was saying "Move on." "I don't know what it is, I guess they're counting money," said one small boy.

Men were busy inside steel wire cages inside the locked doors. They were counting money, perhaps, also counting the lack of it. It was the counting room of Zimmerman & Forsham, a Wall street house, in trouble.

In honor of the occasion Wall street got frightened, prices went down, yet there was nothing in this second of two recent failures to frighten sensible investors.

It will be found that foreign exchange, the sudden terrific drop in the value of European money—especially that of Germany—is largely responsible for these failures.

A man that took out life insurance for $5,000 in Germany on the Tontine plan years ago mentioned the fact that his policy had matured, and he got in American cash, something less than 20 cents. With money dropping like that, something is bound to happen. It is happening and will continue happening if Europe doesn't make up its mind to stop fighting, stealing, invading.

Don't gamble and if you have anything to invest, remember that the United States is a good country for investments.

Henry Ford denies that he ever denied that he will run for president. That's how that stands to date.

Ford has made the world's gigantic success by producing one thing, finding that he could do it well and refusing to change his model.

There will be a great change in his career and in his story if he makes up his mind to try for the presidency.

That job forces new responsibilities, new decisions and new "models" on the man that holds it.

President Harding, who will run for the presidency and, according to the present and unimportant opinion of this writer, will be re-elected, is on his way, telling the people what he has done; "reporting directly to the people on the state of the Union."

He will be able to report to the public that "the Union" is doing extremely well. Its dollar is worth 100 cents. Its people are busy and getting big wages.

Farmers are not getting what they ought to, but a little common sense would give it to them.

"The Union," thanks be to heaven, is free from European control, by leagues or world courts or any other foreign influence. And if we know enough to let well enough alone, "the state of the Union" need not bother us for many a day to come.

The international communist announcement at Moscow includes this:

"Our program is based on scientific materialism, which includes unconditionally, the necessity of propagating atheism."

Let a thousand profound communists sit discussing "the propagation of atheism" and proving to each other that there is no God. Then let a bad thunderstorm come up with lightning roaring, and let one flash hit a corner of the building. How many atheists do you think would be left among the 1,000 communists?

How many of them would be saying with Napoleon, as he looked at the stars from the deck of the ship carrying him to St. Helena, "Say what you please, somebody made all that."

You would find a majority of your 1,000 Russian communists, as they listened to the crashing and banging, saying, "Somebody made all that."

Atheism is child's theory; teaching it is idiotic. Voltaire expressed the wisdom of time: "If there had been no God, it would have been necessary to invent one."

Men have invented all kinds of gods, and invented much brutality in the process. Progress is marked by the character of the particular gods that represent the particular period. Our chief trouble now is that our idea of God is a good deal higher than anything we are fit for.

We have millions of sanctimonious individuals on Sundays, worshipping one that gave His life for others, and on week days squeezing the life blood out of as many of "the others" as possible.

Two men that stole $6,000,000 from thousands of customers that trusted them are sent to jail for 15 months. That punishment of bucket shop keepers seems to mingle gentleness with justice. One of the thieves is said to have a wife in Paris with a million and a half of stolen money, waiting for him to come over and share it.

With good conduct allowances, he may be on the boulevards in 10 months.

Thousands of his customers will be in poverty for the rest of their lives.

Motto: If you want to steal in the United States be a wholesaler. This is no place for a retail thief.

Arrested in Big L. A. Bank Holdup

$21,000 in Bonds of $250,000 Loot, Taken by Bandit Killers, Found.

Los Angeles, June 20.—Arrest of four men and two women and the recovery of $21,000 in bonds was announced by police today as the result of a series of early raids which they said captured the gang implicated in the $250,000 bank messenger holdup here February 13 in which Sam McGee, a messenger, was killed and another man wounded and a mail pouch containing a quarter of a million dollars in securities carried away.

Those under arrest are: Andreas Jaramillo, 33; Augustine Sierra, 40; Mrs. Amelia Sierra, his wife; Mrs. Portia Jaramillo, Cayetano Delandez, 32, and Frank P. Bernard, 30.

The suspects were captured one or two at a time, police said, and held incommunicado while detectives sought their asserted confederates. The $21,000 in bonds, they said, were found in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sierra, a place which has long been under scrutiny as an alleged boot-legger's haunt.

All of those arrested are being held on charges of robbery and receiving stolen property.

The slaying of McGee was characterized by police as one of the most brutal killings in the history of the department. The messenger was shot without a word of warning and without being given a chance to put up his hands a load of buckshot from a sawed-off shotgun was poured into his body at the first appearance of three bandits who crowded his automobile to the curb with their machine and escaped with a pouch of registered mail containing the securities.

Rewards aggregating more than $40,000 were offered for the capture of the slayers and the return of the securities.

Five Generations of Family Are All Alive and Healthy

E. E. Homer of Otaw, 95, Great-Great-Grandfather of University Place Baby.

Here's a testimonial for Nebraska's climate. Five generations of a family, all alive and healthy! E. E. Homer, 95, of Otaw, Neb., is the great great grandfather. Amos Horner of St. Joseph, Mo., a mere stripling of 3, is his son.

The granddaughter, Mrs. R. H. Porter of Adams, Neb., is 55, and the great granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Gossett of University Place is 21. Hope Irene Gossett, who is 14 months old, is the great great granddaughter. She resides quite contentedly with her mother, at University Place.

Great Great Grandfather Horner is a civil war veteran. He doesn't smoke or chew, and expects to live to bounce a member of the sixth generation on his knee. He was born in Ohio, but declares he has recovered from that since he came to Nebraska 30 years ago. He boasts of having built 28 flour mills in Nebraska since arriving in the state.

Man's Cattle Are Feature of Day

Meadow, Grove and Albion Feeders Get Top Price for Choice Beeves.

The $11 mark for cattle was reached again Thursday at the stockyards, when G. F. DeCamp of Meadow Grove came in with four head of fancy two-year old Shorthorns averaging 1,337 pounds, which he sold for $11 a hundred.

The cattle were part of a shipment, the most of which were yearlings averaging 910 pounds, that sold for $10 a hundred. There were a few lighter cattle in the shipment that sold for $9 a hundred.

Andrew Sattre of Albion also had two loads of prime Hereford cattle averaging 1,197 pounds, that sold for the top price of $11.

William Freuck came in from Nodaway, Ia., with a load of nicely finished Hereford steers that averaged 1,284 pounds and sold for $10.75. They were fed for five and one-half months on a ration of corn and alfalfa. Mr. Freuck said he was well pleased with the price received and the gain in weight.

A shipment of 23 head of yearling steers averaging 973 pounds was sold by Claude E. Mayne of Silver Creek for $9.75, going out as feeders.

John Frederick brought in 78 head of well-finished hogs averaging 225 pounds from Callaway yesterday. He received $6.95, a nickel less than the top price.

Attempted Store Robbery Frustrated by Marshal

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Wymore, Neb., June 21.—What is supposed to have been an attempt to rob the C. E. Beinert company general store at Wymore early Thursday morning was frustrated by the appearance of City Marshal Lytle and F. J. Herman, local garage man, on the scene. A crash was heard and when the marshal found a stone had been thrown through a heavy plate glass front window of the store on Main street. Nothing is missed in the stock. It is the first attempt at a robbery of this nature in Wymore in 20 years. The men escaped in an auto.

Man's Death Leaves 8 in Beaver City G. A. R. Post

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Beaver City, Neb., June 21.—Benjamin P. Maple, 87, oldest pioneer resident of Beaver City, died suddenly at noon Thursday. Mr. Maple was the first sheriff of Furnas county. He was an old soldier, serving with a Pennsylvania regiment. There are but eight remaining members of the Beaver City G. A. R. post.

Be Careful What You Use on Your Face

A famous Philadelphia physician, who does not believe in advertising and will not permit the use of his name, has made a study of complexion beautifiers.

He says clay treatments are good—better, indeed, than most creams and lotions, but care should be used even in selecting clays, because they vary in purity and efficiency.

Glacier Clay, a mineral deposit, found in Minnesota, had its beginning in the ice age, countless centuries ago. The porousness of its masses, ground and powdered the ingredients and time has purified this Glacier Clay until an absolutely perfect product is the result.

It is of unique fineness and plastic to an unusual degree. It pulls offensive impurities from the pores of the skin, refreshes and refines while it cleanses from dust and grime, softens roughness and chaps caused by wind and weather, removes blackheads and soothes and heals so that the tiny pores resume their natural state, and the skin becomes as beautifully soft and smooth as baby's.

Aside from its purity, Glacier Clay finds favor because it does quickly less than half the time taken for ordinary complexion clay treatments is required. Druggists say that at a dollar a jar Glacier Clay will be the fastest selling toilet preparation on the market as soon as men and women learn its merit.
