

Threat Is Sent to Samardick Over Rum Cases

Life in Danger if He Prosecutes South Omaha Violators, Letter Warns Federal Agent.

A note threatening to kill him if he carried on prosecutions against 150 alleged bootleggers taken in raids in South Omaha was received yesterday by Robert Samardick, star federal rum sleuth.

Samardick opened the letter while he was conferring with George Keyser, assistant district attorney, in regard to issuing warrants for the arrest of Detectives Clarence G. Carter and Thomas Keane on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and interference with federal officers.

The note was taken seriously by the federal officers. It follows:

"We have your stool pigeon in the cage now and we warn you to stay out of South Omaha. We old country folks are tough. We will kill you on sight if you push prosecutions further. It will be death for you on sight if you come into South Omaha."

Samardick declares he has affidavits to show that Keane and Carter arrested his informer, Sam Danner, without a warrant; threw him in jail without permitting him to call the federal building; refused to permit him to use the telephone to call friends and that the alleged crime which is charged against Danner was committed two years ago and no charges were filed at that time.

"It appears to be a very serious affair," said Police Commissioner Butler yesterday. "If the evidence is what Samardick claims, Carter and Keane will probably be suspended."

"If these detectives are at fault then the captain in charge is at fault too," Butler added.

Bryan to Name Fund Body Soon

Commission Will Aim to End Money-Making Schemes, Governor Says.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Lincoln, June 22.—Governor Bryan announced today he would appoint members of the state guarantee fund commission early next week. He issued a statement stating that the aim of the commission would be to put an end to investment bankers interested in making money out of securities of failed banks and also would put an end to money-making receiverships. His statement follows:

"There has been a great deal of criticism against what some have called investment bankers who are interested in dealing in the securities of failed banks rather than being interested in enabling all banks to continue in business and serve the community and protect the stockholders and depositors in the community in which they are located.

"I have also had numerous complaints about so-called interest bankers who were more interested in trying to have a high rate of interest fixed for receivers' certificates in order to purchase them as an investment than they were in conserving the assets of the failed bank for the benefit of the bank guaranty fund and the owners of such bank.

"Many other complaints have been made and it seems to me justly so about the way receiverships for failed banks have been handled in this state.

"It is my hope and expectation that the new management of the banking department, in co-operation with the bank guaranty fund commission will do away with the so-called professional receivership business, which includes assistant receivers and attorneys attached to each failed bank, so that the receiverships may be consolidated, the assets of the failed banks segregated and the expense reduced to a minimum of handling the receivership so that the bank guaranty fund will receive every dollar from these failed banks that it is possible to turn back into said fund."
