

Work Explains "Resignation" of Ex-Director

Secretary Says Two Engineers Not Needed in Reclamation Service—Has Plan to Aid Farmers.

On Board President Harding's Special Train, Helena, Mont., June 30.—Secretary Work of the Interior department explained yesterday that his reasons for accepting the "resignation" of A. P. Davis, former director of the reclamation service, were to effect a reorganization of that service in a way that would eliminate the need for "two engineers" and replace one of them with a man who could "help the farmers on the reclamation lands," as the Department of Agriculture has been aiding the farmers of the country for years.

"I have Dr. Davis' resignation," Mr. Work said. "We don't need two engineers in charge of the reclamation service. In the future the service head will be known as the chief of the bureau of reclamation and will be qualified first to aid the farmers, rather than supervise engineering works on the projects. D. W. Davis, former governor of Idaho, is such a man, and I have appointed him as the bureau chief, having abolished the office of director and placed F. E. Weymouth, former assistant chief of the service, in the position of chief engineer of the bureau."

Explaining the need for the reorganization, Mr. Work asserted that the government has expended in the 26 reclamation projects of the country $135,000,000; had received only $15,000,000 from the farmers in return, and there was $3,000,000 now due the government, which the farmers could not pay.

Woman Successfully "Bosses" Print Shop for M. E. Smith & Co.

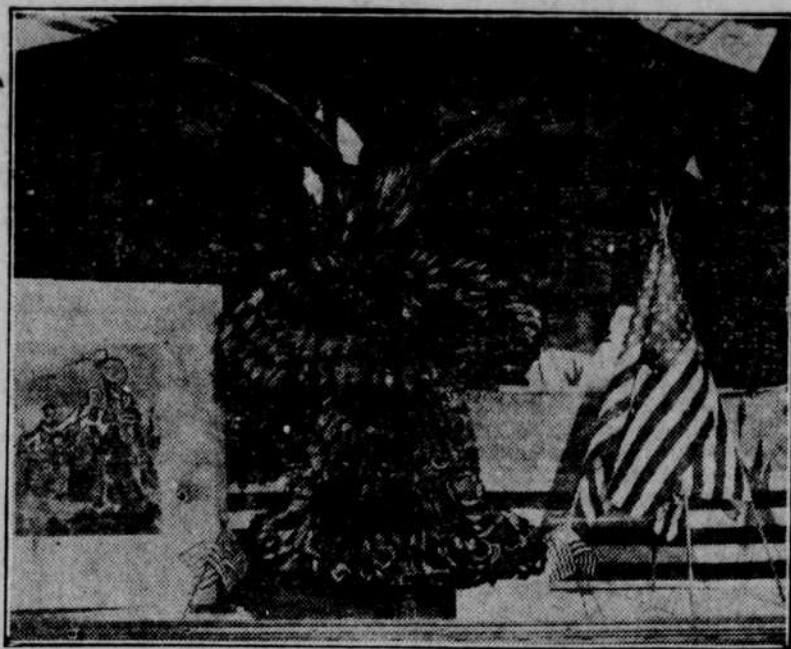

Miss Mabel France, 212 South Twenty-fifth avenue, is "foreman" of the M. E. Smith & Co. printing shop, located in the rear of the factory, with a force of three women and two men.

The shop does all the printing for M. E. Smith & Co. and Burgess-Nash company, estimated at $35,000 yearly. It is a nonunion printery.

Miss France began her career at 18 as a reporter for the Avoca (Ia.) Herald and entered the composing room shortly afterward. She has been with M. E. Smith & Co. six years, and worked seven years for the Omaha Printing company.

"Miss France's work has been fully as good as that of any foreman we ever had," says Leo Klein, in charge of machinery at the plant.

Girl Makes "Liberty Bell"

This is the attractive display in the window of the drug store at 4102 North Twenty-fourth street, operated by John C. Klauk, which has been drawing much attention from passers-by.

It is entirely the plan and work of Miss E. Allen, a clerk in the store. Miss Allen made the red crepe paper roses which form the bell. The base for the bell was formed of cardboard and is 28 inches high. It took 1,100 roses to cover it. The bell is of red roses, with black roses showing the crack in its side.

Above the bell hovers a golden eagle that Mr. Klauk shot some years ago. The eagle has a wing spread of eight feet.

In the foreground is a picture of "The Spirit of '76," flanked by flags. The display will be shown until after July 4.

Mayor Will Not Halt Klan Meet

Won't Interfere as Long as Order Maintained, Says Dahlgren.

Mayor Dahlgren announced Saturday morning that he will not interfere with the "private" Ku Klux Klan meeting which is scheduled to be held at the Swedish auditorium at 3 this afternoon.

"No I didn't get an invitation to attend," said the mayor. "Two or three months ago I refused to issue a permit to a man named Cook, who is state organizer, to hold a mass meeting of the organization in the Auditorium. But I don't see why in a private hall a meeting of this kind can't be held, just as any lodge meeting is held."

"We won't interfere as long as order is maintained. It will be up to the police commissioner to determine whether police should be stationed at the meeting."

Organizer Cook rented a hall in the Swedish auditorium for the meeting, and sent out invitations to many Omahans.

Board Discusses School Religion

Plan for Half-Day Dismissal of Pupils Argued Before Educators.

Board of Education committee which is investigating the request for the release of children one afternoon a week that they may be given religious education, listened Friday night to arguments for and against the request.

E. W. Simeral, speaking for the committee which petitioned the board for the half-day each week, called attention to the fact that the most prevalent crime is perjury. He asserted that this is simply because many people today have no regard for the higher life.

W. E. Reed, president of the Board of Education, committed himself definitely against the plan before the close of the meeting. He declared the child has too much time on his hands after school and urged those who would give the child religious education to fill a part of this time.

John Bekins, member of the board's committee, took his stand with President Reed, declaring he believed there is plenty of time to teach religion out of school hours, inasmuch as every hour during which school is conducted means that salaries are being paid to large numbers of teachers.

"Then give us just one hour a day," pleaded Mrs. Maurice Goodbody, 709 Park avenue.

"I have three children under 5 and I'm junior superintendent of a Sunday school in Benson," said Mrs. J. S. Mercer, 925 North Twenty-sixth avenue. "I find that at a certain age a child is so engrossed in his school work that he feels it is paramount and is somewhat scornful of our efforts to teach him religion. Because religion is never mentioned in the public schools many children don't even want to come to Sunday school."

"You know the law prevents the teaching of religion in the public schools," observed President Reed.

Plan Arranges Instruction.

"Yes, and that's just the reason why we're here arguing that the children be given this time to study it," retorted Rev. W. Allen Keith. "We contend that 10 per cent of the school hours is not too much to be devoted to religious instruction. And our plan makes this instruction possible, where it isn't possible in the school."

Members of the committee seeking the half-day for religious teaching assured the board the churches would take all financial responsibility for giving the children instruction, and also take all responsibility for the success of the move.

It was estimated that from 50 to 60 per cent of the school children would take advantage of the system.

The committee represents Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches. Mr. Simeral declared that 75 per cent of the Catholic children who are delinquent are attending public rather than parochial schools.

"Piece of Humbug."

O. W. Hazleton labeled the plan "the biggest piece of humbug ever brought up."

S. H. Schaefer appeared before the board representing Omaha's two free functions are individual functions. The state has no right to assume the obligations of the church.

"In our two schools, we have hundreds of children every day in the week, after regular school hours, receiving religious training, in addition to that which many receive at home. What we are doing the other denominations can do without sacrificing one-tenth of the total time allotted for school purposes."

Dr. J. H. Wallace, chairman of the board's investigating committee, announced at the close of the meeting that no decision will be made for some time.

Oats Maturing Rapidly.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Randolph, Neb., June 30.—The oats crop here is maturing rapidly, nearly all stands having headed out. The crop will probably be heavy, both in grain and straw. Farmers are well along with the second plowing of the corn and the crop is growing well.
