

Beatrice Fairfax

PROBLEMS THAT PERPLEX. The Selfish Girl. Dear Miss Fairfax: I am 20 and in love with a man of 24, who says he loves me. He takes me out Saturday nights and every Sunday he goes to his sister and leaves me home alone. Do you think I should resent this?

ate of his own people will probably be kind to his wife as well. You cannot force this man to devote himself to you, but by being gracious and friendly you can do much to make yourself necessary to him. Be grateful for what he does offer you and don't make selfish demands at this time. Jerry: I'm afraid I don't know any remedy for bowlegs except just long enough dresses to hide them. I wouldn't worry much about them.

They're there and all the worrying in the world won't help them unless you have the bones broken and reset. I understand that clays are not harmful to the complexion, but never having used them myself, I can't give you any first hand information. I do not believe any depilatory will remove hair permanently. The only way to become less self-conscious is to try to forget yourself. Make yourself interested in the person to whom you are speaking and try to find out his particular hobby. Then discuss that

Try not to think of yourself when you are alone. Get interested in some one thing and work at it so hard that you won't have time to think of yourself.

gentleman, he won't persist in annoying you. I think you could wear yellow, browns, creams and pinks very well. You would probably look well in white, too. The right shade of blue would bring out the blue in your eyes. Pale green or pink would look well with a white complexion. You are a little overweight, but not enough to worry much about. Avoid starches and sugar and exercise more. My, what a long letter this is, Jerry. Write me again.

Oh Lamps. Adding a pinch of salt to the oil when filling oil lamps will cause them to burn more brilliantly.
