

Beatrice Fairfax PROBLEMS THAT PERPLEX.

The Stupid Lover.
Dear Miss Fairfax: "A" is a man, with a slight deformity of the back, which is a considerable handicap. For this reason A had long ago decided never to marry and consequently never paid more than ordinary attention to the girls who worked in the office or any others outside of the office.

This method worked until B came to the same office.
Later A realized he was deeply in love with B and she with him, and remembering his decision, immediately began to avoid her. He also tried in vain to obtain other employment, for it was absolutely necessary that he have money to take care of his sick mother.

B now goes about with another man, but when in the office never seems happy.
Now, the question is, can she ever love anyone else and be as happy as she apparently was when in love with

A? And also was it wrong of A not to disclose his reason for avoiding her? All that A now desires is that B be happy, irrespective of who makes her happy.
D. G.
A's motives are admirable, but his conduct is rude and stupid. Of course he owes the girl the truth. He is making her cynical and unhappy and worrying himself beyond all reason. Why can't he be honest and command the friendship of a girl to whom he was first kind enough to win her regard and then actually—from her point of view—cruel? He should be man enough to tell the girl of his position and his handicap and I believe that in doing so he will convince himself that a slight physical difficulty need not interfere with a real man's success in the world.

Blue Eyes: The right length of the skirt depends a whole lot on the girl. Seven, eight or even 10 inches from the floor is about right for a 16-year-old girl this season. Remember to wear fairly high heels with long dresses.
A tablespoonsful of honey put into each half of the grapefruit after it is prepared for serving, then placed in the refrigerator for a few hours, will impart a most delicious flavor.

Convert the Candy Box.
If you received a pound box of candy in an ornate tin box this Christmas, fit the box out with all necessities for sewing then put it away until the next time you take a trip. It will fit in either suitcase or trunk and come in very handy when traveling.
An attractive addition to a couple of hard boiled eggs and sprinkle them over the top. This is especially good with mock turtle and ox tail soups.

Strength, Vim, Vitality Restored by Lyko, the Great General Tonic. Proved in Thousands of Cases

Mr. W. L. Lawler, a well known citizen of Northern Alabama, reports an experience which will interest everyone who is in an ailing and generally run-down condition. Mr. Lawler writes: "After using the wonderful tonic, Lyko, I have received more benefit from it than any other remedy I ever used. I say that this is one of the greatest tonics for vitality, digestion and the liver; a general builder for run-down persons. It has made me an entirely new man at the age of 55. I feel like 30 today."

inal ingredients, which are selected and compounded to make it an unrivaled general tonic and reconstructive agent. Lyko has a gentle but sure laxative effect. It also puts zest into the appetite and gives activity to the digestive functions so that food is readily absorbed, thus providing strength and vitality to the body and making it capable of resisting the attacks of disease. And when stomach and bowels are put in good condition many ailments quickly disappear.

The power of Lyko also well proved by the experience of Mr. H. Jenkins, of Chicago, who says: "My business keeps me closely confined to the office and at a desk all day long. As a result, my system became all clogged up. I was always tired, rested poorly at night and grew nervous and irritable. I began using Lyko and now I am in the shape again, feel cheerful, and am able to do much more work without fatigue or nervous strain."

When the liver is sluggish and the kidneys disordered, when the nerves are "kinked up," when one feels exhausted and incapable of effort, and looks old and haggard, these are Nature's warnings that the body needs the help that Lyko will give. The fact that thousands use it regularly and recommend it shows the good this great general tonic is doing. Lyko is sold by all reliable druggists. Ask for it today.
