

Our Neighbors of the Caribbean Sea - Jamaica

Another page of pictures taken by Louis R. Bostwick on a cruise of the Caribbean Sea

Where the coconut groves run down to the sea

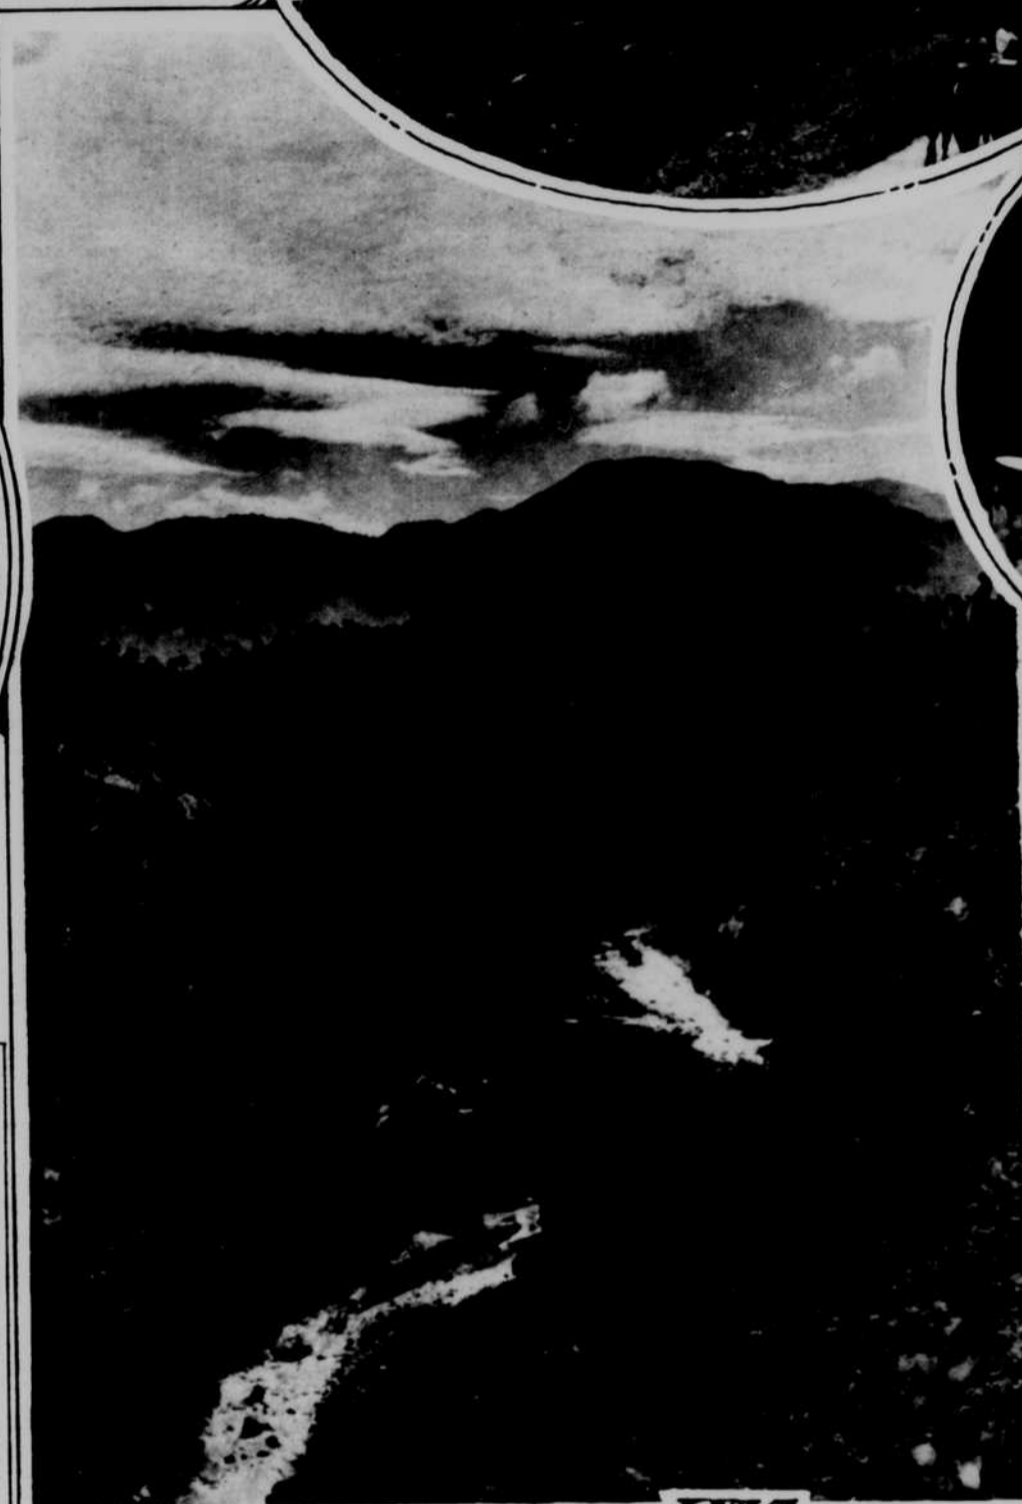

View of a young banana grove. Jamaica is the home of the finest banana in the world

The clouds are beautiful on the east coast of Jamaica

A country farm house surrounded by beautiful palms

The mountains are completely covered with luxurious tropical vegetation

Hindoo cattle are the beasts of burden. The skins of these cattle give off a peculiar perfume, that is very offensive to mosquitoes and bugs and these animals prosper where other cattle die

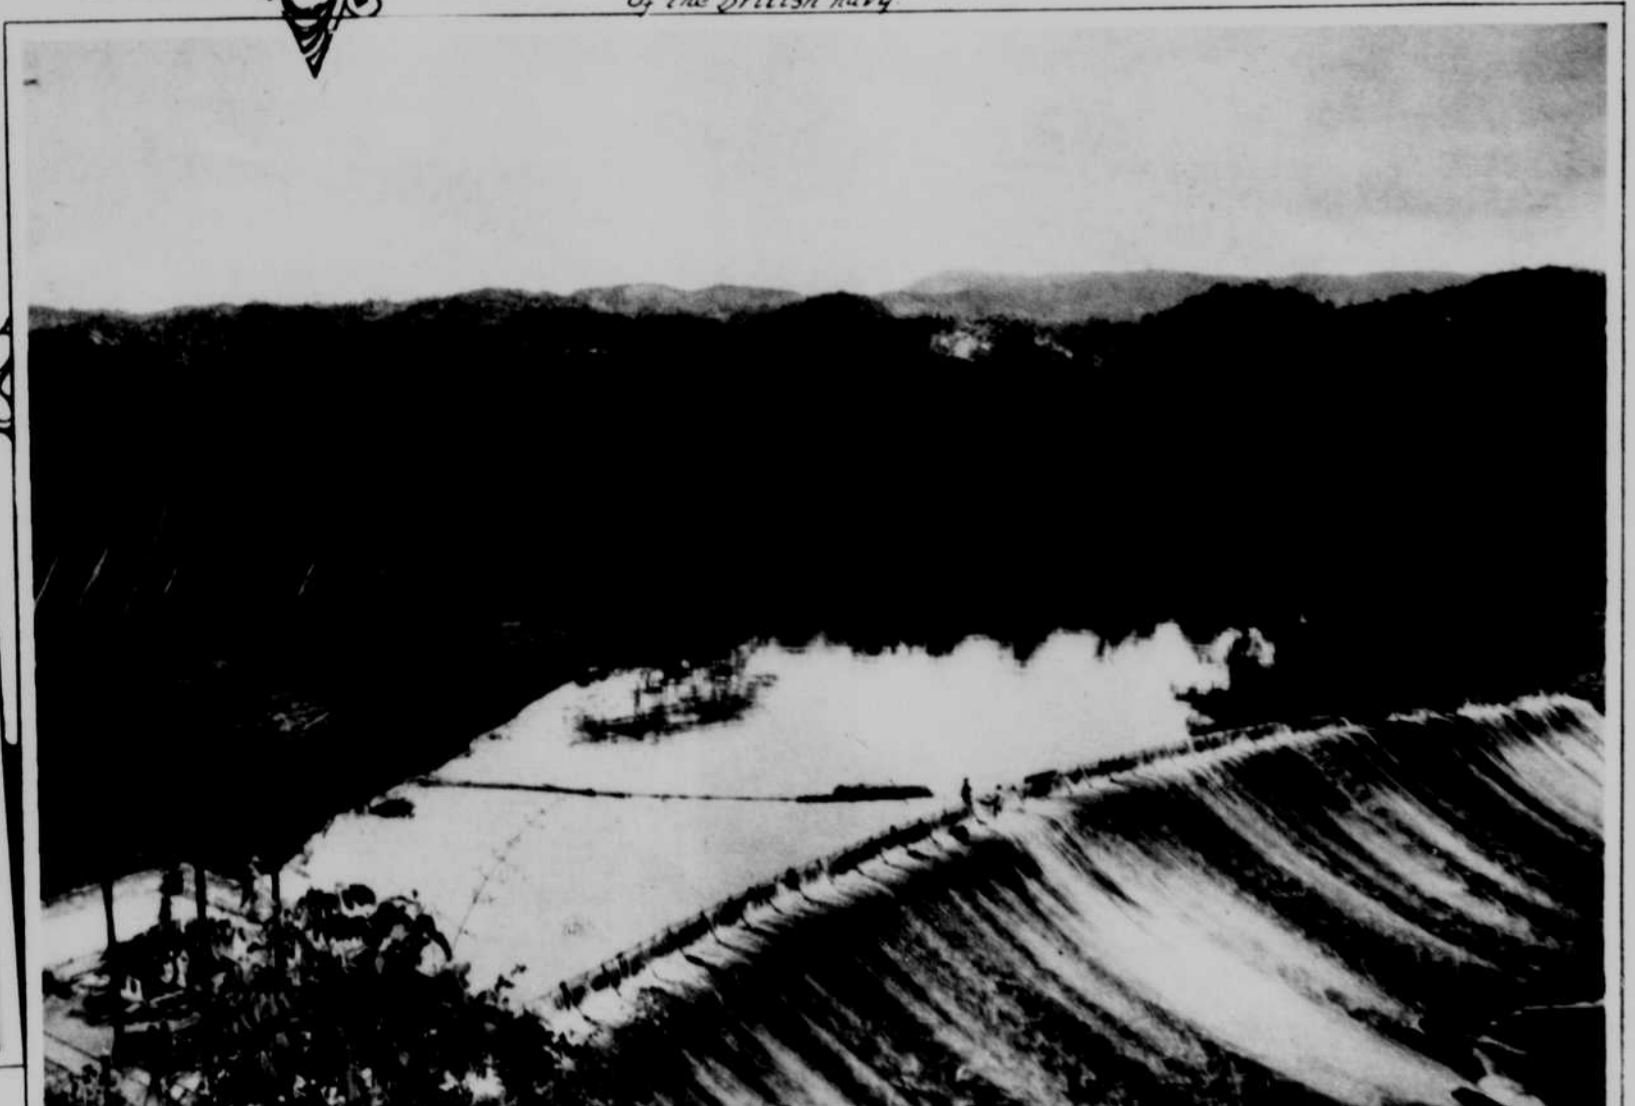

A native hut and children

Old Parish church at Kingston Jamaica. Inside this famous old church is the grave of the heroic Admiral John Benbow, who saved Jamaica for his queen. One of the most disgraceful episodes in the history of the British navy

The English cathedral at Spanish town - this venerable church is the Westminster Abbey of Jamaica. Here are buried the makers of Jamaica, martyrs, governors, sea captains, judges and their consorts. Many of the monuments are exquisite

A great water way that furnishes the power and light for the city of Kingston