

Two Presidents to Clasp Hands Across Border

Harding and Obregon to Meet on Boundary Line Near Nogales and Pledge Friendship.

By Universal Service.
Washington, July 29.—President Harding and Obregon will meet in the near future on the Mexican-American boundary line, to pledge themselves to work for lasting friendship between the two nations.

The meeting will take place between Nogales, Sonora, and Nogales, Ariz. The date has not been fixed, but probably will be soon after President Harding's arrival in Los Angeles on his return from Alaska and before his departure for Porto Rico via the Panama canal.

Arrangements for the event are being made through Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Arizona, the first republican elected to the United States senate from that state.

President Harding is thoroughly in sympathy with the project, it was stated at Senator Cameron's office today, and has given assurances to the effect that he will view with approval any measures taken to bring about the meeting.

Just before the departure of the president for St. Louis on the first leg of his Alaskan trip, he replied favorably to a letter from Senator Cameron on the subject and invited the senator to the White House, where they discussed the matter at length.

The proposal for a meeting between the two chief executives was first made soon after Harding's nomination for the presidency in 1920. A delegation of Arizona republicans visited him at Marion and obtained a promise that, if the relations between the two countries could be regularized, Harding would, if elected, be more than glad to clasp hands with Obregon across the border.

He was arrested early Sunday morning in a raid by Robert Samardick and members of the morals squad on a road house at Fifty-fourth and Center streets.

Hummel Praises Spring

J. B. Hummel, park commissioner, Monday hymned the praises of the sparkling water which bubbles from a spring in Spring Lake park. This water, he said, which is even superior to the natural spring water in Elmwood park, is little known, while the spring in Elmwood park is thronged by a constant crowd of thirty motorists and golfers.

ATLAS PORTLAND CEMENT

Portland Cement is the essential modern building material

NO STRUCTURE today, from a giant engineering project like the Panama Canal to the simplest home in your neighborhood, is built without Portland Cement. It has become the essential building material, adding strength, permanence, fire safety and economy—for no other manufactured product is so cheap.

General Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, the world's greatest single constructional operation, in which over 8,000,000 barrels of ATLAS were used, said—after a visit to one of the ATLAS plants:—

"I can think of no other product the result of a complete manufacturing process that sells at so low a price."

Not content with simply the manufacture of a good product, ATLAS helps its dealers develop the fullest market for that product—and helps the consumer secure best results from its use. ATLAS is known as "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
