HE Omaha Field Field club clay tennis courts are in excellent condition for the 15th annual city net championships to be held next week and, according to Ralph A. Newell, about 125 entrants have already paid their The Field club courts open to those who have entered the classic for practice until Saturday afternoon, when the first round matches will start. The entry list closes Friday night and the drawings will be announced Saturday morning. At present only a dozen flapper netsters have entered and the management is anxious to have many more enter the woman's singles and doubles events. The mixed doubles will likely be dropped unless more ladies sign up for their special events.

The prizes for the winners and runners up in each event are now on display at the Field club office. Play starts Saturday afternoon at 2:30, and any persons wishing to play Sunday may do so by special arrangement with the management. Entries may be made to Mr. Newell at ATlantic 0886 or to the Omaha Field club of fice, HArney 0240. The entry fee is $1.50 for the individuals and $2.50 for each team in the doubles.

Mike (Twin) Sullivan, Jess Wil lard, Sam Langford and other aged glovemen will have to yield the paint to Tom Chandler when it comes to long service in the ring. Chandler, who fought with the "raw 'uns" in the old days, is said to have been the first claimant of the middleweight championship. He was a sparring partner of John L. Sullivan at one time. Chandler boxed recently and those who saw the exhibition marveled at the speed and endurance displayed by the 65-year-old pugilist.
