

Women Launch Campaign for Equal Rights

New Amendment to Constitution Proposed at Conference in Seneca Falls

—Making History.

By Universal Service.
Seneca Falls, N. Y., July 21.—Women sitting in Judge's seats, occupying executive and legislative offices. Women wearing the robes of ministers and bishops, voicing their opinions in church convocations. Women studying the professions in the biggest schools and universities. Women driving locomotives, managing hotels, directing banks. Women representing the government abroad as consuls and ambassadors. Women conducting foreign trade, navigating the open seas. Women, in fact, doing everything that men do, receiving equal pay for equal work, and barred by law from no physical, mental or spiritual activity they wish to pursue. This is the picture of American womanhood when "equal rights" have been granted the fair sex by the government.

Wants New Amendment.
A picture, graphic and colorful, painted for members of the national woman's party in their assembly here today by Alice Paul, vice president. Miss Paul proposes that her sisters in the cause join forces for the purpose of having passed a 20th federal amendment giving "equal rights" to women in every phase of their complicated life. And on the cheers of 200 women from every state in the Union, her proposal was carried to the roof of the little brick church where the clan was assembled. There was no dissenting voice. United they stood.

"This is not a new idea," Miss Paul told them. "It is 75 years old. It was born in 1848 when Mrs. Stanton and Mrs. Mott, with a few other brave souls, signed their declaration of independence in this very town. We have tradition and the example of intrepid leaders back of us."

Proposed Amendment Simple.
The proposed amendment is phrased in the simplest possible language. In just 18 small words. "Men and women shall have equal rights throughout the United States and every place subject to its jurisdiction."

And the word "rights" is interpreted to mean duties as well as privileges. Specifically, the amendment is expected to do certain things for woman's status, things embodied in the principles of the party. It would give women the right to enter every occupation and every school open to men. It would make them eligible for the same governmental appointments, promotions and salaries. It would do away with a double moral standard, would place women on a par with men in the same way as the property inheritance laws and equal rights to make contracts.

Could Retain Own Name.
Woman could retain her own name after marriage and her contribution to the upkeep of the family would be recognized and respected. She would be as much the head of her household as her husband, and her services would not be considered the possession of her spouse. Her property would be her own and she would have a 50-50 say in the control of that owned jointly with her husband. The matter of citizenship would be within her choice, and the right of divorce on the same grounds as the husband would be hers. Mother and father would control the children together. And what is called very important, the woman would be received into the business and economic world after marriage with as many rights and privileges and duties as her husband now enjoys.

Elevators Receiving Grain.
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Columbus, Neb., July 21.—Platte county elevators have begun to receive grain from the farmers which testing at from 57 to 58. Although a little light, its milling qualities are excellent. The average yield is running about 15 bushels to the acre. There seems to be no inclination to farmers to hold wheat. Harvest hands are scarce. The wages offered are from $4 to $5 a day.

D. Appleton & Company Announce the publication of a New Novel by HAROLD BELL WRIGHT

THE MINE WITH THE IRON DOOR

MR. Wright is, in sober truth, the most popular of living writers. Of each of his novels there has been sold an average of one million, two hundred and sixty-eight thousand copies. From all information available this forms a record in the sale of any one author's works.

This book—"The Mine with the Iron Door"—is a romance of adventure laid in the Arizona Desert and mountains. It grips you with its story of human hearts struggling toward happiness. It is a novel sincere as Harold Bell Wright is sincere; as thrilling as life can be to a man and a girl when mystery veils the past and present danger sweeps through the lonely, beautiful Canyon of Gold.

Seek adventure under the wide skies with those who people the Canyon of Gold. Harold Bell Wright gives you his greatest novel—unsurpassed for sheer human appeal.

Theater Magnate Who Started at $6 Per Week Expires

Percy G. Williams, Founder of Keith Circuit, Dies on Country Estate in New York.

East Islip, N. Y., July 21.—Percy G. Williams, who started life in Baltimore as a "stage struck kid" with a $6 a week job, as theatrical utility man, died at his estate, Pineacres, today, internationally known as a vaudeville theater owner and producer.

Born in Baltimore 66 years ago, Mr. Williams got his first job from Colonel Sinn, who was manager of the old Front Street theater there. Later, when Sinn came to New York, to take over the Park theater, Brooklyn, Williams came with him, working as a member of his stock company at $12 a week. Accumulating a small stake, Williams finally sent several shows on the road, only to go broke and be driven to the patent medicine business to recoup. Finally he built the Orpheum theater here and in a few more years had established a string of a dozen vaudeville houses. He sold them in 1912 to the Keith interests for a price reported to have been $12,000,000. Mr. Williams drew heavily on the old world for talent, bringing to this country, among others, Vesta Victoria, Vesta Tilley and Albert Chevalier, who recently died. He also brought Mrs. Lily Langtry and Mrs. J. B. Potter to America for tours. Mr. Williams is survived by his widow and one son, Harold G. Williams.

Bushels to Be on Basis of Weight in Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pa., July 21.—Bushel containers for various food commodities will be changed at once in this state to comply with the McCaig act, just signed by the governor. In some cases the consumer gets more for his money while in others he gets less.

A bushel of apples under the new act must weigh 48 pounds instead of 35 pounds; barely 48 instead of 47 pounds; cranberries 32 instead of 40 pounds; cucumbers 48 instead of 50 pounds; green peas, unshelled, 28 instead of 35 pounds; tomatoes and turnips 55 instead of 60 pounds.

You May Be Wrong.
Cincinnati, July 21.—If you see a man with a bulging hip pocket, be careful how you come to certain conclusions about it. It may be his Bible. An official of the Salvation Army says there are more people interested in the Bible than ever before. The book, according to this person, is very generally carried and very often by people where the Bible would be looked for last.

Use our Budget Plan to pay

Due to the moving and reconditioning of our mattress factory and to consequent minor changes planned in the construction of all our mattresses we have decided to replace our entire retail showing of these goods. This is to be accomplished by August 1 of this year, and in order to clear out the present stock all our

will be sold this week at 1/4 off regular prices

Every style and grade of mattress is in this sale. The regular prices, due to our direct factory connection, are at all times very low indeed; the discount creates values that no family in Omaha, likely to need a mattress during the next six months, can afford to ignore.

The New Prices will afford you mattresses at
