

Manipulation Is Blamed for Fall in Wheat Prices

North Dakota Senator Alleges Speculators Drove Rates Down in Retaliation for Control Legislation.

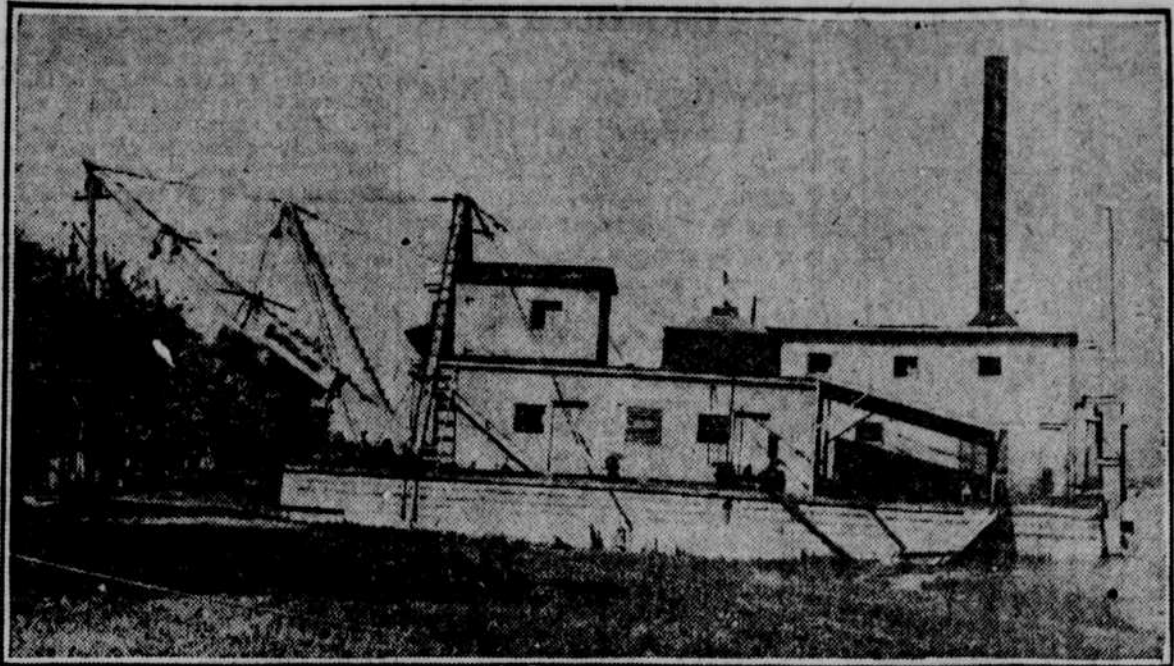

Washington, July 21.—The fall in wheat prices during recent months was attributed to manipulation by grain speculators in retaliation for the regulation of the grain exchanges by congress, in a letter by Senator Ladd, republican, North Dakota, on the eve of his departure for Europe, and made public today at his office here.

"Nine days after the regulatory legislation became effective," the senator asserted, "the wheat market started to slide, and since that time there has been a steady decrease."

"For 30 years," he continued, "the speculators successfully fought legislation that would curb their activities. Now, finally this new law with a few teeth in it is proving to be annoying and they inaugurated a period of strict discipline for the wheat farmer and the farm bloc in congress by which discipline they hope eventually to convince the wheat grower that he was all wrong in demanding legislation which curbed their power and that he must come back and ask congress to repeal this annoying measure, take the teeth from the law and trust to the generous mercies of the wheat sharks."

"Their system has worked very cleverly during the last three months in driving down the price of wheat by means of heavy short selling. The propaganda has been clever and the consistent crop estimates, weather reports, foreign supply and demand, domestic needs, possibilities of a tremendous surplus in the growing crop, all have been cleverly used to force the natural buyer out of the market in the belief that he would eventually buy at a lower price."

Old Dredge Loses Battle With Elements

The old suction dredge on the bank of Carter Lake is literally going to pieces under the action of the elements.

The city bought the dredge in 1910 at a price of nearly $45,000 and after 16 months of construction work it was ready for service during the spring of 1912, when Commissioner J. B. Hummel, present superintendent of the park system, was in charge. Mr. Hummel worked the dredge four years, moving the silt from the bottom of the lake to the shore lands which were built up during the period of the war the dredge was out of service. During the commissionership of Thomas Falconer, 1918 to 1921, the dredge was loaned to private parties having land interests at the lake. Then it was cast upon the bank and neglected.

Commissioner Hummel now states that the cost of reconstructing the dredge would be prohibitive. With the exception of the pump he believes it will have to be scrapped. He is asking the city council for an appropriation of $75,000 for Carter lake improvement next year. He wants a new dredge with steel hull and one and one-half miles of pontoon. His plan is to reclaim 106 acres of city land on the east side by pumping silt from the dredge.

Super-Gas Gives Mileage Increase

One Car Makes 50 Miles on One Gallon; Foreign Matter Removed.

Dond Du Lac, Wis., July 21.—More mileage can be obtained from each gallon of gasoline if the various elements which constitute this refined product are separated and then used by motorists.

Such is the assertion of Otto J. J. Robert, a refinery expert, of Eau Claire, who made an analytical test recently which showed that a 100 per cent fluid can be produced by this process. By this method of chemicalization 25.6 per cent of the original gas was left as a result of the separation, Robert declared. Other elements were denatured alcohol, 55.3 per cent; water, nearly 7 per cent; and solid matter in the shape of naphthalene, 4 per cent.

Tests of the extracted "gas" made with a Ford automobile showed that the Ford could average 50 miles to the gallon and that it would not carbonize in the motor.

New Department Heads

Left to right: C. C. Baum, Miss E. M. Harse, Miss N. Walker.

The new corset section of Goldstein-Chapman Co. opened last week with a complete display of corsets, brassieres and girdles. A number of brands of national reputation are shown in each line. The department is in charge of Miss E. M. Harse and Miss N. Walker, who are both adept in the art of corsetry. The policy of the shop will be to personally recommend and apply the models to individual need. Both Miss Harse and Miss Walker have had a number of years' experience in their work. A comprehensive line of fancy needlework will also be carried.

C. C. Baum has taken charge of the dress accessories department of Goldstein-Chapman company. His interest will cover blouses, sweaters, skirts, house dresses, petticoats and linens. Mr. Baum was connected with Byrne-Hammer Drygoods company for a number of years and is well known in the wholesale markets.

A cup of water in the oven will make roasts, cakes and cookies bake more evenly.

Castles on Rhine Sold at Bargain

Historic German Edifices Now Offered at Great Sacrifice.

Berlin, July 21.—Castles on the Rhine are going at bargain rates. The Schloss of Drachenfels, which is supposed to have been the scene where Siegfried killed the dragon, is just been sold at auction to satisfy mortgage. It brought 1,500,000 marks or about $7,500. The purchaser was a Frankfurt business man. He is going to defray the expense of the castle. The weather beaten castle, which stands at an altitude of 1,065 feet on the Siebengebirge, near a group of seven mountains on the east bank of the Rhine between Coblenz and Bonn, was frequently visited by American soldiers when they were stationed at Coblenz.

It is one of the many historic Schlosses along the Rhine, dating back to the time of Arold, the first archbishop of Cologne, by whom it was erected at the beginning of the 12th century.

Berlin Birthrate Lowest of All Great War Cities

Figures Fall Far Below Those for Moscow and Petrograd—Situation Making Itself Felt in Public Schools Which Report Falling Off of More Than 50,000 Pupils.

Berlin, July 20.—Clemenceau, to the superstitiously inclined, cast the evil eye upon Germany when he made his historic utterance that there were "20,000,000 too many Germans in the world." This wish was not only father to the thought, but gives every evidence of going into realization.

According to the latest statistics there has been a startling retrogression in the birth rate, as a result of post-war economic conditions in Germany. These figures have just been made public and show that the birth rate is not only on the decrease but that it has fallen noticeably below that of the disastrous war years.

Dr. Roesle, director of hygienic statistics in the National Board of Health, places Berlin lowest on the list of birth rate percentages of any of the cities numbering 2,000,000 inhabitants.

In 1917, at a time when all countries participating in the war showed a decreased birth rate, Berlin's percentage was 17 to every one thousand of the population; by 1923, this had sunk to 11.5 and during the first quarter of 1923, of which the figures are not yet available, this has gone still lower.

Both Vienna and Paris are ahead of Berlin, for the reason that the birth rate is at least stationary in these two cities, whereas in Berlin it is rapidly on the decrease.

A survey of the world's capitals reveals the astounding fact that the birth rate of both Moscow and Petrograd is on the increase, and has already passed the prewar rate. Petrograd has three times as many births as Berlin, where the steady increase is already making itself felt in the public schools of the city.

During the last six years the registration in the public schools of Berlin has decreased by 50,000. There is a total lack of material for the lowest or seventh class, as a consequence of which about 125 classes will have to be closed; the municipal exchequer is in too impoverished a condition to maintain classes for five or 10 children.

Another condition creating the gravest uneasiness is the number of children suffering either from physical or mental deficiency. Special schools are maintained for this category and it is a significant fact that whereas these schools formerly were fed from the proletarian classes, they are at present recruited from the families of trained laborers and the middle class. Devastating economic conditions are responsible for both the decrease of the birth rate and the increase in the number of deficient children.

Dr. Bumm, Berlin's foremost gynecologist, gives a clear picture of the situation: "The 'one child' system signifies a sharp retrogression in the birth rate, as upon the death of both parents only one member of the family remains. It is not until families with three, or more, children are reached that the birth rate begins automatically to increase.

"An acute feature of the situation is the growing tendency of women to refrain from having children. All ethical considerations have been stifled by the general misery caused by a shortage of food and housing accommodations.

"Small wage earners with only one child feel a moral obligation to devote their entire resources to the care and education of this one child, as every additional member of the family means a renewed problem in long division in the matter of food, clothing, housing and parental care.

"My experience has taught me that women of the middle classes have far stronger reasons for controlling the situation than those of the working class, who under present economic conditions are apt to be better nourished and financially so situated as not to feel so keenly the pinch of the extra expenditure involved in bringing children into the world.

"The women of the middle class, on the other hand, have all they can do to keep the wolf from the door, and this dread of the future is a disastrous moment for propagation."

Dr. Bumm advocates immediate legislation providing for the care of lying-in women, at present extending only six weeks—two before and four after confinement. He thinks this should be extended to 10 weeks, as this is the shortest possible period whereby a working woman could be insured as to her own health and that of her offspring.

Mount Calvary Commandery to Entertain Ohio Knights

Mount Calvary Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar of Omaha, with its band and patrol, will meet Burlington route train arriving in Omaha Tuesday, July 24, at 3:30 p. m., to act as escort for a committee of 41 Knights Templar of Ohio traveling from Marion Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar of Ohio en route to Los Angeles, Cal., in charge of the traveling beaumont which is to be presented to Hollywood Commandery, No. 55, Knights Templar of California under the auspices of the grand commandery of that state.

Mount Calvary Commandery, in addition to acting as escort for the grand commandery of Nebraska, will entertain the visiting Knights Templar and their ladies at a dinner and dance at the Happy Hollow club, Tuesday evening, following an automobile ride about the city and a formal reception at the Masonic temple on arrival of the escort, band, patrol and visitors from the station.

The traveling beaumont was presented to the Knights Templar of the United States by the Knights Templar of Canada and on this trip is en route from the state of Ohio to the state of California where it is said Sir Knight Warren G. Harding, the president of the United States, will present the banner to Hollywood Commandery on behalf of his home commandery of Marion, O. The presentation at Hollywood will be August 2.

Among the queer trades followed by workmen in London are: "Hecklers," "jacquard punchers," "plunkers," "teasers," and "scratch-brushers."

ADVERTISING

Ford Runs 57 Miles on Gallon of Gasoline

A new automatic and self-regulating device has been invented by John A. Stransky, 234 Fourth St., Pukwana, S. D., with which automobiles have made from 40 to 57 miles on a gallon of gasoline. It removes all carbon and prevents spark plug trouble and overheating. It can be installed by anyone in five minutes. Mr. Stransky wants agents and is willing to send a sample at his own risk. Write him today.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

Favorite Spots

Trout Fishing, Mountain Breezes, Lakes, Seaboard, From New England to Alaska, Omahans Ramble.

Thousands of Omahans are on vacations. And thousands more are making plans and leaving each day.

Louis Beindorf, manager of the Omaha Consolidated ticket office, reports that vacation business this year by far exceeds last year. Railroad passenger officials of the Burlington and other railroads which maintain separate ticket offices concur with Mr. Beindorf.

Although possessing no definite statistics, Mr. Beindorf says the major vacation movement out of Omaha is westward to the national parks, Colorado, California, the north-west coast and the Canadian Rockies.

Next in importance are the lakes of Wisconsin and Minnesota. There is also a goodly number of vacationists traveling to eastern resorts, and a few who turn to the Ozarks, according to Mr. Beindorf.

Railroad men usually have difficulties getting vacations themselves, especially during the regular vacation months. They all have their favorite spots, however.

Trout Fishing Gets Vets.

J. S. Sykes, assistant to C. E. Calvin, vice president of the Union Pacific, prefers the trout fishing country along the lines of the Union Pacific, but also gets enjoyment from bass fishing in the northern lakes. He and Dr. F. S. Owen have been making annual fishing trips together for the last 20 years, and expect to continue them for many years to come.

W. S. Bassinger, passenger traffic manager of the Union Pacific, prefers the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming to all other spots, because of its wild and scenic grandeur.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt air, and viewing the bathing nymphs on the beach.

The favorite vacation pursuit of W. C. Lambert, corporation counsel, is fishing. He generally goes to the Minnesota lakes with A. V. Showell, former county attorney.

Dana Van Dusen, city attorney, is a supporter of the mountains. He declares that a vacation in the mountains offers more diversity of recreation than any other.

Mayor Likes Mountains.

Mayor J. C. Dahlman is also strong for the mountains, far away from civilization. "Stylish vacations are the bunk," he commented in more eloquent English.

So Does Judge Goss.

District Judge Charles A. Goss left Thursday for a four weeks vacation to Colorado. He will visit Estes park.

Larson Hies to Lakes.

J. David Larson, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, and his family, have gone to Deerwood, Minn., on a vacation.

School Superintendent to Alaska.

James F. McCrory, assistant superintendent of Omaha schools, leaves Monday for Seattle, Wash. Mr. McCrory will teach at the summer session of the University of Washington, and he and his family will later go to Alaska for a few weeks vacation.

New England for the Georges.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. George and their family will leave Friday for Biddiford Pool, Me., a quiet little hamlet on the Maine coast 15 miles south of Portland. This, Mr. George says, is the type of place he and his family prefer above all others.

Canoe Trip Planned.

Fred Heltfeld of the city park department and Albert Felt of a local sporting goods company will leave within a few weeks for Great Falls, Mont., where they will embark in a canoe for a down-river trip to Omaha. If conditions are favorable they will average 50 to 60 miles a day and will complete the river trip in about 40 days.

According to statistics, Americans have bought more than $40,000,000 worth of art works from London since the war.

And the "Board Walk."

John L. Webster, attorney, likes to spend his vacations on the board walk at Atlantic City, breathing the salt