Invitation to Call. Dear Miss Fairfax: Is it proper for a young lady, upon meeting a gentleman for the first time, to invite him to call on her, or should she wait for him to ask to see her again? I. B. This depends largely upon circum stances. If the young man has shown a friendly interest in you, it is courteous and considerate to say something on parting which will establish it clearly that he will be a welcome visitor at your home. Make the invitation sufficiently informal and casual so that the man won't feel under obligation to follow it up. Yet be dignified and friendly enough so he can avail himself of it if he Healed of Epilepsy.

One of these is little Miss Elizabeth McNally of Schuyler, Neb., whose family believes that she was healed of epilepsy through attending the novena here two years ago and who expect to return yearly to the celebration so long as they are able to continue this expression of their grati-

Since the opening of this novena Father Michael Stagno, pastor of St. Anns, has received these letters from persons who attribute recent cures to the intercession of St. Ann obtained through devotions offered at this church.

Mrs. Anna Kelly, 1722 Van Camp street, had a skin eruption on her face which returned every summer for four years. Last year she made the novena to have this removed. and it has not reappeared this summer. She is not certain of the na ture of the ailment, having had no medical attention for it. She believes that her cure is due to the novena.

Relief from Stomach Ailment. Mrs. Burton Hawerth, Columbus Neb., writes claiming that she has obtained relief from stomach trouble through application of the relic of St Ann in March, 1914.

A letter from the sister of M. R. Carroll, 633 South Thirteenth street, Paducah, Ky., declares that the epileptic seizures from which he suffered have been greatly reduced in number and severity since making the novena in Omaha last summer.
