Homer Smith of Kalamazoo, Mich., to Meet "Wild Bull of Pampas" in Bout Here.

Homer Smith of Kalamazoo, Mich., has been selected as the opponent for Luis Angel Firpo, the famous "wild bull of the pampas" and challenger of Jack Dempsey, in the South Omaha American legion show which will be held at the baseball park August 3. Announcement of Smith's selection was made Wednesday morning. An hour after the announcement William Kavan, boxing commissioner for Omaha, issued a statement declaring that the state boxing commission would not permit the bout on the assumption that Smith was no fit opponent for Firpo. Another hour later he recalled the statement and said that Smith was acceptable as an opponent for the Argentina heavyweight. Kavan explained that he and George Koesters, head of the state boxing commission, in looking up Smith's record had inadvertently confused Homer Smith with another "Smith". Later, he said, they found their mistake and investigating Homer's record decided he was O. K.

Tierney Gives Wichita Lead in Western; Throws Out Game

Wichita, Kan., July 25.—Wichita is in the lead in the Western league by virtue of the action of President Al Tierney, in throwing out a game which Tulsa won from Wichita, 6 to 2. In a letter received here today, Tierney said that the game should be played over. In the third inning of the disputed game, played here June 29, Catcher McMullen of Wichita, threw his glove at the ball and the umpire allowed a Tulsa man on third to score and the Tulsa player on first to go to third. The game was finished under protest. In the play off game, the play will begin where it was when McMullen threw his glove—none out, Tulsa men on first and third and Davis at bat. #### Teammate of Izzy Einstein Beats Stows Distinction on Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 25.—Federal prohibition authorities who some time ago announced the opening of a campaign to reduce the amount of illicit liquor sold in southeastern Michigan late last night, raided nine cafes and roadhouses in Mount Clemens and vicinity, and armed with warrants for the arrest of the proprietors, took the first steps intended to close the alleged resorts under provisions of the federal "padlock" law. Evidence on which the warrants were issued had been obtained by Frank W. Riskey, team mate of Izzy Einstein, New York's picturesque liquor sleuth, who posed as a southern colonel here to take the mineral baths in an attempt to cure rheumatism. Large quantities of liquor were destroyed, the officers said. Riskey described Mount Clemens as "one of the very wettest places in the United States." He declared he had found several places here where bars were maintained for men and women and that in some instances champagne and other liquors were sold. He charged he had seen certain local officers drinking.

Teacher Says English Kids More Interested in Bookies Than Books

London, July 25.—All over England tonight, stern fathers were calling their little sons into the sitting room and asking them if they ever bet on the horses. The idea that son may be more interested in his "bookie" than in his books popped into papa's head as soon as he had read the evening newspaper. Under exciting headlines, he read the testimony given by a woman school teacher at the government's inquiry into betting. This teacher, whose school is in a poor district, testified that out of a class of 42 boys averaging 11 years old, 19 admitted that they backed horses. She also suspected that others in the class followed the ponies with their pennies, but were afraid to admit it. Some of the boys were daily bettors, she said, buying a 3-penny "tip" and retelling its suggestion to their classmates at a half penny each. She remarked that the boys were so eager and interested in betting that they had even offered to put up a little money for her. Colleagues had informed her that conditions were similar in other schools. Asked by Sir Alfred Butt whether the youngsters understood the intricacies of betting, such as the starting prices, she replied: "Oh, dear yes! they talk about form, the size of the horses and the abilities of the jockeys. I have been astonished at their knowledge."

Dry Agent Shot by Rum Runners

Atlanta, Ga., July 25.—One man is dying and two others, one a prohibition agent and the other an alleged booze runner, are in hospitals with wounds as a result of a pitched battle between dry agents and their intended captives near West Point, Ga., according to word reaching here today. The man at the point of death is known as Andrews, and the dry agent is Grady Cobb, well known in Atlanta. The identity of the alleged rum runner who was shot through the head has not yet been learned at Atlanta headquarters. The dry agent, accompanied by Andrews, had gone down the Chipley road to destroy a reported still and was returning to West Point when he discovered a car speeding in the opposite direction, loaded, the agent said, with whisky. Cobb blocked the road and commanded the occupants of the suspected car to surrender. One of the two men in the car alighted and is said to have opened fire directly at Cobb and Andrews. The gun battle ensued. Cobb blocked the road and commanded the occupants of the suspected car to surrender.
