Omaha Tire Week Plans Are Formed by Local Makers

Entertainment to Be Provided Visitors at Plants August 6 to 11—To Invite Clubs.

Representatives of the three local factories manufacturing Omaha-made automobile tires met yesterday noon at the Chamber of Commerce to organize their forces tentative to hold an Omaha-Made Tire week August 6 to 11.

This movement comes as an attempt to carry the quality of Omaha tire factory products before Omaha and surrounding country. An effort will be made to announce the event throughout the entire United States by means of the Woodmen of the World radio station WOAW.

During the tire week, the three Omaha factories will be thrown open to all visitors. Guides will conduct guests through the plants, explaining in detail all the intricate processes of manufacture. Arrangements are being made whereby delegations from the Chamber of Commerce will visit each of the plants.

Each factory will have a special day during the week when added attractions for the entertainment of visitors will be offered.

Extensive advertising displays will be featured in the downtown districts. A number of tires will be awarded by means of contests for which plans have not been completed as yet.

Representatives at the luncheon were T. E. Huff and F. J. Grace of the Overland Tire company; W. T. Turner of the Sprague Tire and Rubber company and J. Whigham, Jr., of the Nebraska Tire and Rubber Company.

Orphanage Named for Omaha Woman

Home for American Girls in Syria Honors Mrs. F. S. Kalk. The orphanage established at Sidon, Syria, for 600 Armenian girls rescued from Turkey by the near east relief, has been named Kalk home in honor of an Omaha woman, Mrs. F. S. Kalk, its first director.

The institution is to be as nearly self-supporting as possible. In addition to school rooms and a hospital, it is provided with equipment for needle work and similar industries, by means of which girls can help pay for their maintenance.

The girls do all the housework, including cooking and washing. An American system of self-discipline has been created to spread American ideals.

Mrs. Kalk has been engaged in relief work for the past two years and has braved bodily danger to superintend her charges.

A sister, Mrs. T. F. Kennedy, lives at 218 South Thirty-eighth avenue, Omaha. Mrs. Kalk is a daughter of the late General Stanton, stationed in Omaha with the old department of the Missouri.
