Special Session Cry of Senators

Emergency Farm Legislation Urged in Message Signed by Four Western Solons.

By International News Service.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31,—General Sawyer, President Harding's physician, today is in possession of a telegram from four western United States enators, to present to the president as soon as his health permits, asking him to call an extra session of congress to pass emergency farm legisla-tion in what the senators declare is a farm situation that "threatens to become a national calamity."

Senators Henrik Shipstead and Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, Lynn . Frazier of North Dakota and mith W. Brookhart of Iowa, meeting here last night, drew up the tele- BEE WANTAD RATES gram after an all afternoon conferenve over the situation. They said they would have made the demand more vigorous and perhaps taken other steps, except for the illness of the president, which they deplored. They also wired the president's physicians, expressing hope for his early recovery. Their extra session tele-was reported. Oats as well as wheat have shorter straw than usual, although the heads are fairly well filled. The winter wheat harvest has been delayed about three weeks but the crop is in fair to good condition and the government estimates indicate a production greater than a year ago. The oats crop, although larger than in 1922, is considerably below the fiveyear average. There has been a good supply of small fruits but the crops of apples, peaches and pears are indicated as below a year ago.

New Trial Granted Because Jurors 'Pooled' Their Verdict District Judge Stauffer sustained

a motion for a new trial for the James D. Crew company, who lost a $6,000 lawsuit in district court rea new trial was because the jurors, in reaching their verdict, pooled their respective amounts and divided by 12. One of the jurors gave $10,000 while another gave but $1. This is the first time a jury has reached a verdict in this manner, according to court bailiffs.
