

Bowed Heads of Nebraskans Will Express Sorrow

Plans Are Completed for Tribute to Dead President—Memorial Services Planned.

With heavy hearts, Nebraska completed plans yesterday for paying tribute to the dead chief executive of the nation, as the special train bearing the body of Warren G. Harding crosses the state. From farm hamlet, village and city, Nebraskans' sons and daughters will congregate at stations along the route of the Union Pacific as the train passes. Black flags will be strung on stations before which the thousands will stand with bowed heads. The masses of evergreen and cypress that marked the way of the funeral party in California will be replaced in Nebraska by the green of waving fields of corn. As honor guards in nearly every city, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other patriotic organizations will stand at attention. The colors, draped in black, will be dipped as the train passes. Memorial services during the day will be held in nearly every city in the state.

Columbus Plans Complete.
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Columbus, Neb., Aug. 4.—The funeral train bearing the body of President Harding will be met by the entire post of the American Legion in uniform when it stops here shortly before midnight Sunday. Memorial services will be held Sunday morning at the Federated church when Rev. Thomas Griffiths will speak on "A Nation in Mourning."

Herbert Hahn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and commander of the local American Legion post, notified legion commanders at all stations between Columbus and Grand Island to have their men present when the train passes through, in accordance with a telegraphic request received from J. Ed. C. Fisher of Beatrice, state legion commander. The men will stand in uniform at attention, with colors dipped and draped in black.

Union Pacific trainmen were notified that all trains or engines seeing the approach of the death special shall come to a full stop and no whistles are to be blown or bells sounded until the train has passed and that trainmen shall remove their hats if out of doors.

Fremont to Pay Tribute.
Fremont, Neb., Aug. 4.—A solemn tribute is planned by the American Legion and patriotic organizations when President Harding's funeral train pauses in this city early Monday morning. Overland trains halt in Fremont to replenish their water supply, and during this interval the people of Fremont will turn out en masse in homage to the deceased chief executive.

Commanders Cash Reynolds of the American Legion and W. S. Macy of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have issued orders to all members. The Spanish-American veterans will also join in the tributes.

Mayor Larson plans a proclamation for a period of silent prayer as the train halts in this city. Ministers of all churches in Fremont will pay tribute to the nation's deceased leader Sunday.

Norfolk Will Toll Bells.
Norfolk, Neb., Aug. 4.—Church bells in Norfolk will toll for three minutes at midnight Sunday, when it is figured Harding's funeral train will be nearest this city, according to a proclamation issued today by Mayor George W. Phelps. Most of the churches of the city are to take part in simple tributes to the president.

our departed president believed and in whom he placed his trust, will guide our people in the future as in the past.

"To his faithful wife, whose heroism and Christian fortitude have been an inspiring example, we wish to convey the sympathy of the people of our state.

Signed,
"Executive Officers and People of Nebraska."

Secretary Is Worried.
F. C. Radke, the governor's secretary, was plainly worried at his inability to locate his chief and the latter's failure to join with other governors in preparing fitting tributes to the dead president. After numerous telephone calls, Radke said:

"The best I have is a voluntary message from a man in Omaha, who said he saw the governor up north a few days ago. I rather think the governor will be in Omaha Sunday night to meet the committee and join with its members in meeting the train."

"Where, up north, was the governor?" Radke was asked.

"I don't know," he replied.

Radke continued to maintain that the governor was in the borders of the state and had been ever since he departed, and therefore, it was not necessary to summon Lieut. Gov. Fred Johnson to act as governor.

"I may be able to locate him later in the evening," Radke said.

Congressman Shreve Endorses Irrigation

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Hastings, Neb., Aug. 4.—Enthusiastic endorsement of the supplemental water project and the promise to support it in congress were given by Representative L. C. Shreve of Pennsylvania in an address at a meeting of Hastings business men.

Mr. Shreve was en route home from an inspection of all the pending federal irrigation projects of the west. After looking over this supplemental water project of south central Nebraska, he said this one impressed him most of all.

"It is ridiculous not to apply the surplus water of the Platte river to this region, rather than to let it help swell the cost of flood control of the lower Mississippi river," Mr. Shreve said.

Come Back Club Formed for Kearney Anniversary
The Kearney Hub and the chamber of commerce have organized a Come Back club to extend an invitation to former residents of the city to return home for the 15th anniversary celebration to be held the week of September 11 to 14.

The club is urging former residents of the city to write of their progress in new locations and a list of former residents and their new addresses, as well as many of the letters, will be published September 8.

Commanders Cash Reynolds of the American Legion and W. S. Macy of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have issued orders to all members. The Spanish-American veterans will also join in the tributes.

Mayor Larson plans a proclamation for a period of silent prayer as the train halts in this city. Ministers of all churches in Fremont will pay tribute to the nation's deceased leader Sunday.

WEAK, RUNDOWN AND AILING

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I was weak and run-down and had trouble with my side. I had been taking medicine for a long time and nothing seemed to do me any good. My husband went to the drug store and he said to the clerk, 'I want the best medicine you have for women's troubles.' He gave him a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me. In a short time I was able to do my housework, and now I am not only able to do every bit of that washing and ironing, but I help my husband at the store."

Supreme Court Holds Marriage Pact Void

Auburn, Cal., Aug. 4.—A contract of marriage made by the parents in Japan, while the parties to the contract were residents of the United States, although valid under the laws of Japan, is void in this country, according to a decision rendered in the superior court here today by Judge J. B. Landis, in an action brought by Teuro Yoshikawa, an American citizen, against Takeyoshi Yoshikawa. The plaintiff, 18 years old, testified that she was born in California and had never been out of the state. When she was 16, she testified, that her father met the father of her Japanese husband in Japan, and the parents then entered into a contract of marriage for their children, according to the laws of Japan. When she was 18, she told the court, that she believed she was the wife of the defendant, and went to live with him. She remained but seven days, she testified, having been informed that the marriage was not legal in the United States. She brought suit to have the marriage annulled or declared void.
