functory indifference and received in her famous as a talker with people the same way, the necessary civilized who demanded a great deal more preliminaries were considered disposed than youthful spirits, she took them of and the first moves of the game back with her, 20 years, into the rehein?'

of and the first moves of the game could be taken. M. Vallery's gambit was to say, looking admiringly at Eugenia: "Such a piece of the month of May oughtn't to be wittin four walls. Come over to the balcony a moment and let me show you your sister, the Luxembourg, in flower." Mme. Vallery's move was to sit in the winged, brocaded, deep-cushioned bergere, and motion Marise to sit "Well, that must be an enjoyable

'STEP IN SHOP'

PLEASE PHONE US EARLY-MAIL ORDERS FILLED.

SUGAR, 10 LBS. BEST WHITE 83c

SUNKIST FLOUR St. $1.59

one who wields a great deal more power than he likes to show. "Good-day, my children," she greet-that this time M. Vallery and Eu-of intonation. "Have we kept you waiting long? I told Auguste that in leasandy through the open win-waiting long? I told Auguste that in leasandy through the open win-magnificently bearded, having now Mme. Vallery summoned them to followed her in, the four sacramental hards sweet followed her in, the four sacramental biscuits which it was nart of her dealed and hard sweet fools of them, without their ever once in state of them, without their ever once in state of them, without their ever once in the state and hard sweet fools of them, without their ever once in the state and hard sacramental hards state and hard savet for them, without their ever once in the state and hard savet for them, without their ever once in the state and hard savet for them, without their ever once in the state and hard savet for them, without their ever once in the state and bards state to a them, without their ever once in the state and beaten them, in having the open with the other two had rung the fools of them, without their ever once in the state and beaten them, in having the took of them, without their ever once in the state and beaten them, in having the took of them, without their ever once in the state and beaten them, in having the took of them, without their ever once in the state and hard savet for them, without their ever once in the state and beaten them, in having the the state accompliated the state and beaten them, in having the the state accompliate the state the fools of them, without their ever once in the state and beaten them in the fools of them, without their ever once suspecting it. Her husband's admiration of her powers was boundless.

"That is now one of the mos

properous and successful lycees in eastern France," he told the girls, "and every year they have a big dinyou going to do?" "I'm going to give the money to pay the appearance of a Russian cer . . . the very newest thing. dancer It will be the clou of the entire fete. body lays a wreath on her as though It will be the clou of the entire fete. she were a statue. Quite a joke, And my name is going on the pro-

Speaking on impulse, she now said rather abruptly, to Eugenia, "I wouldn't have much to do with the Vallerys, if I were you. He's really an awful cad."

Eugenia looked at her with a know- Then she decided to walk home, al-Eugenia looked at her with a know. Then she decided to walk home, and ing smile, "You're jealous," she said laughing, "he didn't take you off to show you the Luxembourg in spring." Marise was for an instant stricken so speechless by this idea that she could only stare. And by the time she could have spoken, she perceived had been the only form of out-door that there was nothing to say, no com-sport accessible ment on the prettiness of the world (Continued in (Continued in The Morning Bee.)

FAIRMONT'S

'I'm to have my part in the fete-decharite, too!

"You are!" said Marise, "what are ner with my wife as guest of honor with speeches and things, and some gram "Eh bien!" cried Marise in the liveliest surprise, "why, I didn't hear a word about all this." "No, it was in talking with M. Val

(下)= plicia ICE CREAM Today! For You ASK for Horlick's The ORIGINAL Safe GRAPE NUT SPECIAL Malted Milk Milk and Malt Grain Ext. spowder, makes -especially fine for all the kiddies these days -both cooling and nourishing. Grape Nut The Food-Drink Special is a velvety smooth Delicia Vanilla for All Ages Avoid Imitations-Substitutes generously filled with genuine Grape Nuts. Please the kiddies with it now! MAKES CTOR Take it home today in bulk-or in pint or quart sealed packages. BETTER Frozen Fresh Daily the BETTER Way in Omaha, Crete, Grand Island and Sioux City * THE FAIRMONT CREAMERY COUSA FLOUR BREAD ESTABLISHED 1884 - DELICIAICE CREAM JUST AROUND HANDY THE CORNER Fair Prices STORE

0 General Information Mr. Elk, HA. 1325

ers 1 carton Takhoma 1 carton Cheese Niblets

1 carton Lemon Snaps 1 carton Yam-Yums

lege of saying "Charge It." When the storekeeper accedes to that request he tells the world that in his opinion that customer is both honorable and trustworthy.

use to demonstrate their willingness to serve, to accommo-

Rough-Hewn Dorothy Canfield (Continued from Yesterday.)

SYNOPSIS. There was not a trace now, in her speech, of the sweet, thick, unstrained

STNOPSIS. Neale Crittenden, typical American, foung man, has grown up in Uniontown, a fillage near New York city, has been function university and inst college he fell in love with Martha weed. Marita is spending a year in Ger-many with her father. Neale accepter held its huge, flowering crest proudly into the spring air. To look at it sends his efforts toward success in busi-tess. In France, Marise Allen, about Yeale's age, lives with her American function firm. She is an accomplished ther visit Parls, where Marise meets n American firm. She is an accomplished thought Marise, that stupid, yearly thought Marise, that stupid wells, inside the thought Marise, that stupid wells, inside the thought fullity. Along the gravel walk, inside the

Along the gravel walk, inside the She did, however, resist an easy Luxembourg, under the hedge of pening, given her by the next re-lilacs, under the new splendor of the opening, given her by the next re-mark of Eugenia's, as she looked across the beautiful room. "What makes it all so just right? I'm going They looked at each other and smiled. to start in at that corner, and look "That's the way my father and at every single thing, and find out mother probably walked together," what makes it right." Marise restrained the mocking words on the tip of her tongue, and turned away to the half-open window. The thought Marise, wincing. "That" was one of the clumsiest, most obvious parts of the general conspiracy to fool you. But when you had the key near which she stood.

Behind her Eugenia's voice said en- little danger that you would be viously, "Where did she get all these terribly quaint Louis XVI things?" "I thin

How thoroughly Eugenia's English diction teacher had rooted out that "turribly" of Eugenia's, thought Marise Marise. Aloud she answered, "She began col-lecting years ago, before anybody else thought of it." "I shouldn't think a teacher would have much money to collect." only two years ago that Eugenia had "Oh, she picked them up for noth- scrambled up from the crumpled bed

Look at her husband." Marise said over her shoulder, "Oh, she didn't get much, when she got him. He never would have been any-thing except his good looks, if she hadn't taken him up. And she didn't get him for nothing—not much! Mile. Hasparren Says—every one who knows thern says—that she made him. She writes his speeches now. I've seen her. And never bothers him by being jealous."

and chicken houses and attics." Eugenia said complainingly, "It seems to me she always has been able to pick up something for nothing. Look at her husband." "Oh occasion of the girls' call, was a fete de charite at the lycee, over which Mme. Vallery's sister was directrice, shoved up to the position, so the lycee teachers said, by the political pull of Mme. Vallery herself.

Marise felt one of her claps of n

"I should hope not." commented Eugenia. "She's ages older than he. And he's such a ripping good looker." "What did Mme. Vallery marry him for, if she's so terribly intelligent?" hard woman, dressed plainly in fine thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession to comment in passing on how excession to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine to comment in passing on how excession thard woman dressed plainly in fine challenged Eugenia. She delighted in black, with a shrewd, wrinkled, freshsively pretty she was, a real lateregence type, such as one sees nowadays. Marise found herself.

CHICKENS FRESH KILLED LB. 361/2C

 FRESH PIG PORK LOIN, LB.
 13'4e

 FRESH PIG PORK CHOPS, LB.
 17'4e

 FRESH PIG PORK CHOPS, LB.
 9'4e

 NO. 1 SUGAR-CURED PICNIC HAMS, LB.
 11'4e

 SUGAR-CURED BREAKFAST BACON (½ or whole), LB.
 11'4e

 WILSON'S CERTIFIED OR PURITAN BREAKFAST BACON
 22'4e

 ('4 or whole), LB.
 25'c

 OUR FAMOUS BARBECUED VIRGINIA HAM (alleed), LB.
 55'c

 FRESH MADE FRANKFURTERS OR WEINIES, LB.
 7'4e

 Steer Bib Roast, Ib.
 25'c

 Steer Rib Roast, Ib.
 25'c

 Steer Rib Boil, Ib.
 25'c

 Steer Rib Boil, Ib.
 56'

 Young Veal Stew, Ib.
 8'4c

 Steer Rib Boil, Ib.
 56'

 Young Veal Stew, Ib.
 8'4c

This year Marise had been asked to play, along with two other De la Cueva pupils, in the afternoon con-cert which was the clou of the three days' fete. Mme. Vallery had written her to ask her to come to talk over the choice of music, and to Eugenia's surprise and extreme pleasure had entioned casually that she would be PEACHES, Very Nice, Per Crate, 95c using the words she had formerly colored face, well washed and guilt-mispronounced, and giving them the less of the smallest trace of powder. purest, most colorless intonation. She looked like an elderly Jesuit, as usual, quite helpless before the Vatican ante-chamber suavity of the

to the code, as Marise had, there was side her. "I think I hear them coming," said "Let's get our business done and off our hands first of all," she said, smiling up at the tall gftl in an ad-miration as frank as her husband's for Eugenia, and, for Marise, vastly hedge

ore voluable.

The others, in a little chiming burst of chatter and high sprits, moved off towards the balcony. Mme. Vallery glanced after them with an inscrutable expression and then at Marise with a brisk, business-like manner. ing, in corners of whatever province she happened to be in, out of barns "Nobody can say your genre is not The matter at issue just then, the