President's Wife a Pi Phi

And She's a Good One, Too, Local Girls Declare.

By GABBY DELTAVLS.

MRS. Coolidge, wife of President Coolidge, is a college and a sorority woman. So far as Gabby knows, though she assures you she has made no scientific research of the matter, this is the first lady of the land of whom this is true.

She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority and formerly attended the University of Vermont.

"And she's a good Pi Phi," the local girls declare. She always wears her arrow, the sorority pin. A description of Mrs. Coolidge in the dispatches of just this week gave details of her costume and mentioned a "little arrow" which she wore. The reporter evidently didn't know its significance, but college people all over the country, did.

Mrs. Coolidge attended the annual banquet of her sorority at Washington this past year and was a leader in making plans for it.

Omaha Pi Phis are anticipating the time when they can "all go down to Washington" and give their sister the pass word and grip. Among the active members here are Misses Mary Sears, Elinor Pickard, Ellen Frances Bradshaw, Emily Rose, Inez Pareygo, Eunice Pike and Louise Orman. Among the alumnae here are Mesdames Russel Burruss, Lee Huff, Jr., Henry Cox, Mildred McFarland Bailey, George Seabury, Ray Gould, Tom Allen, Bryce Crawford, Florence Nason Purvey, Jasmine Dunham, J. C. Martin, Misses Jessie Nason and Bernice Meloyrugen.

The active Pi Phis have been having parties all summer in Omaha. Active and alumnae are planning a big "rushing party" for late August. It will probably be a progressive dinner.

Wellesley Club to Entertain National Officer.

The local alumnae of Wellesley college will entertain at luncheon at the Omaha club Monday for Mrs. O. N. Marsh of Syracuse, N. Y., who is en route home from the national convention of university women at Portland, Ore., last month. Mrs. Marsh is chairman of the clubs committee in the national alumnae association.

Mrs. Harry Byrne, president of the Omaha Wellesley club, will preside at the luncheon. Mrs. Marsh, who arrives today, is at the Hotel Fontenelle.

Miss Belle Bliss left Saturday for Estes park to visit her sister, Mrs. F. S. Briggs.

Kodaking at Midnight

Mrs. Howell-Tells of Experiences in Alaska This Summer. Railroad Trip Up White Pass a Thrilling Sight.

Kodaking at midnight was one of the unusual summer experiences of Mrs. R. Beecher Howell, who returned a few days ago to Omaha, having taken a trip earlier in the season to Alaska.

In the party were 23 congressmen and their wives, five senators and their wives, including Senator and Mrs. Howell, army people and a number of troops. They sailed June 1, taking the open sea rather than the inside passage.

"The trip was scenic and wonderfully interesting," said Mrs. Howell, "though, of course, accommodations for travelers are not at all what we are accustomed to in this country."

She explains this by the size of the towns. Fairbanks has 1,600 people, Juneau 3,500 and Seward is the merest primitive village, situated, however, on incomparable Resurrection bay. Anchorage is larger, with 2,500 people and has the appearance of a progressive, respectable railroad town. Seward is pitiful, as only a deserted mining town can be, said Mrs. Howell.

At Fairbanks the party was within 125 miles of the Arctic circle.

"It was a wonderful sight," Mrs. Howell said, "to see the rosy hue of a setting sun merge into the pink of dawn, with only a little gray between. Some of the party who climbed a high hill said the glow never changed. At 1:15 in the morning the sky was blue and the birds were singing.

"Some people find this continual daylight wearing on the nerves. The temperature was 58 degrees when we were at Fairbanks. Mount McKinley was gorgeous as seen several hours from the train.

"A thrilling sight was the railroad trip up White Pass. We looked down upon the narrow trail taken by the Yukoners in 1897, and I saw always those 30,000 people who tried to get over White Pass and couldn't make it for a year," Mrs. Howell continued.

Mrs. Howell does not regard Alaska as a land of immediate promise agriculturally. "It costs $250 to clear an acre of timbered ground; much of the land is frozen and freight rates are high. There will soon be no salmon unless the fisheries are restricted in their catches. They take the salmon as they go up the rivers to spawn and thus prevent propagation. There is much timber in Alaska, and the mines, of course, are a source of great wealth.

Unusual men and women reside in Alaska, Mrs. Howell declares. Some one said jokingly, but with a substance of truth, that seven-eighths of the women there are teachers and one-eighth are nurses. A Wellesley woman Mrs. Howell met at Juneau, mother of six children, had studied music abroad with Miss Grace Ware, a relative of Mrs. R. S. Hall of Omaha.

Mrs. Howell is of the opinion that the long trip of President Harding across the country and to the far north, together with the many incident demands made upon him, was the direct cause of his death.

Memories Will Be Stirred at Old Town Reunion.

Many memories will be stirred for Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cole when they attend a town reunion at Warren, Ill., September 4-7, for it was there they both lived as young people.

An old stone colonial house, pictured on the cards of invitation, was Mrs. Cole's home when she was the attractive daughter of Dr. Byron G. Pierce, an army surgeon. The place is a landmark in the town. It was first built for a hotel and, according to Mrs. Cole, "we had not only our Sunday school classes, but also our dances there."

Mrs. Cole still keeps a room in the old house. It is 17-12 by 67-12 feet. An organ used by the Baptist Sunday school when Mr. Cole was superintendent, is stored there and many rare books and magazines belonging to Mrs. Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Totten of Lincoln are planning to attend this reunion which is the third in 15 years. Mrs. Cole's only brother from New York city will be there.

Paris Will Be Brought to Omaha in November

Overseas Girls to Present Carnival With Real French Atmosphere—Bona Fide Trip to Paris to Be Ruffled Off—Junior League Girls in Style Show.

Paris will be brought to Omaha by the Women's Overseas Service league. This organization will present a mammoth carnival, "A Night in Paris," at the City Auditorium November 3-15. Proceeds will be used to endow a hospital bed for needy ex-service men and women.

Such familiar French and Parisian landmarks as the Cafe de la Paix, the Louvre, Pantheon de la Guerre, Maxim's, Arc de Triomphe and the underground city of Yverdon will be imported.

French girls, allied soldiers, the M. P. doughboys, and gendarmes will lend atmosphere and make the illusion complete. Gay awnings will project from enticing French shops, and the A. E. F. canteen will be in evidence. Only French money will be accepted.

A sensational feature of the carnival, a bona fide round trip to the real Paris, will be raffled off during the two nights.

Junior league girls will present a style show which will leave no doubt among the spectators that "This is Paris."

Miss Marie Matthews is local president of the Overseas league and Miss Frances Nieman chairman of the carnival committee.

Mrs. A. L. Reed and Miss Gladys Peters, honorary members, are assisting the committee. Mrs. Reed, now in Quebec, is gathering ideas for the creation of French atmosphere.

J. H. McClintock, former assistant city engineer and a captain in engineering in France, has drawn plans for the event and will superintend construction. The girls find they need a complete staff of engineers, carpenters and electricians. The "40 and 8" vets at Bellevue Vocational school are giving valuable aid.
