

Foe of Tom Majors Presents Charges

Peru Merchant Mum on Contents of Wordy Volume

Claims Against State Normal Board Head Have Not Been "Officially" Received by Bryan.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Aug. 18.—S. J. Ellenberger, Peru merchant, one of the leaders in the "Get Tom Majors' Scalp" club, appeared at the state house today with a bound volume of indictments against the venerable state normal board head.

Ellenberger asserted he was perfectly willing to have the contents of the 100-page typewritten bulletin made public, but that it was now in the hands of the governor to be disposed of by publicity or suppression as the governor saw fit.

Bryan Hies Away. At the time Ellenberger was making this announcement and presenting his volume to C. S. Redke, the governor's secretary, Bryan was hurrying from the state house to get into his car to drive to Fairbury, where he was to deliver an address to the Wheat Growers' association.

Newspaper men caught the governor with his foot on the gas feed and his hand on the clutch. He was asked if the contents of the indictment might be made public.

"I haven't received it officially," the governor replied. "Well, if you'll take a minute and return to your office, you can get it officially," he was told. "No time today," he said, and sped away.

Bryan Only Recipient. Ellenberger was asked if he had presented a similar copy of indictments to the state normal board.

Lighted Cigar Explodes Gasoline at Grand Island
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 18.—Entering the basement of his home, seven miles east of the city, Henry Meyer, farmer, suddenly found himself in an explosion. Fumes from gasoline ignited from the cigar he was puffing. In an effort to remove a five-gallon container of gasoline, assisted by his son, the container fell, spilled and was at once ablaze. A struggle to smother the blaze on the basement floor ensued. The city's fire truck, with its chemical apparatus, aided materially in saving the house.

The joists to the floor above were badly charred, but the fire did not burn through. Damage was limited to $75 and neither Meyer nor his son was seriously injured.

Ann-E-Var Celebration Closes at Ravenna, Neb.
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Ravenna, Neb., Aug. 18.—The Ann-E-Var closed last night in Ravenna, after three days of successful and satisfactory celebration and entertainment. Free music by three bands, free acrobatic entertainment, Garver's flying stunts, parades, floats and exhibitions, have contributed to make the event a success. Bands from Rockville, Sweetwater and the industrial school at Kearney furnished music. Good weather contributed to the success of the occasion.

Farmer Is Impaled on Fork as He Leaps to Straw Stack
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Tecumseh, Neb., Aug. 18.—Max Peschel, farmer living in the Vista section, was terribly injured while threshing. He was on top of the separator and jumped onto a straw stack. A pitchfork had been tased into the straw, tines up, and Mr. Peschel was impaled on the tines. He was taken to a Lincoln hospital.

Washington, D. C. Alumni of Nebraska U Hold Picnic
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, Aug. 18.—Thirty-one graduates and former students of the University of Nebraska attended the annual meeting and basket picnic of the Washington (D. C.) alumni, held on the campus of the University of Maryland, College park, according to word received here by the registrar's office.

Wymore Fall Festival.
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Wymore, Neb., Aug. 18.—A big parade will be staged on the afternoon of August 23, the first day of Wymore's fall festival and ex-service men's reunion, in which 30 floats, representing different Wyoming business houses, will take part. Arbor State race track is now being put in shape and auto races will be held August 23 and 24 with prizes from $5 to $75. There will also be horse races and foot races.

New School Superintendent Elected at Alliance, Neb.
Alliance, Neb., Aug. 18.—Harold R. Partridge, a graduate of the teachers' college of the University of Nebraska, has been elected superintendent of the Alliance public schools, taking the place of Superintendent Pate, who resigned to become head of the Peru State Normal school.

First Fall Showing of The Correct in New Apparel

With the change of season comes the desire to transport one's self with magic swiftness from the light airiness of summer into the richly beautiful clothes of fall. New possibilities to appear at one's best present themselves in the new silhouette, in new colors, new fabrics, new trends, new flares.

With studied elaborateness of detail that gives the effect of simplicity, fall frocks prove irresistibly appealing. Subdued autumnal tones and a tendency toward the more natural waistline are features that one notices.

A black lace dinner gown with blue and old gold girdle buckle and shoulder clasps is priced at $49.50.

A youthful Vionnet model of black satin crepe uses intricacy of line to form the silhouette—$59.50.

Smart Frocks of Silk or Wool, $25.00

Wraps, very straight and slim, are trimmed with a wealth of fur. The materials themselves, silky soft deep pile, are often braided and embroidered.

Suits, too, partake of slimmness and show a penchant to exquisite fur bandings of which a favorite is kit fox. Box and three-quarter length styles.
