France to Hold Ruhr Until Paid

Poincare Announces Determined Policy at Dedication of Memorial to First Yanks in Trenches.

Entente Cordiale Ruined

By Universal Service.

Gondrecourt, France, Aug. 26.—“Heaven helps those who help themselves. We stay in the Ruhr until we are paid.”

These words in the speech of Premier Poincare here today definitely destroyed the last lingering hope that France would consent to make some concession to the British viewpoint in order to conserve the entente.

“The American army broke the springs of the German military mechanism,” he said, lauding the part America played in the war, and followed by expressing the regret that a Franco-American alliance had not resulted.

“If Germany does not decide to pay, we will be forced to repeat, ‘pay or we stay,’” said the premier. “The conviction which led us to the Ruhr was the conviction that the best manner of gaining support from either heaven or men begins by aiding one's self.”

Institute Estimate Off.

“It is vain to pretend that Germany has already paid $200,000,000 gold marks, or even $5,000,000,000 to the reparations commission, as stated by the Washington economic institute, an organization of which I have never before heard.

Nebraska Grape Crop Gains Over Last Year

Brownville, Neb., Aug. 26.—South-eastern Nebraska grapes have begun to move. The crop in this vicinity is good this year, and the total output will be larger than last year.

“The French feeling is concerned, the withdrawal of the United States from Europe has not altered Franco-American relations.”

Famous Author Dies

(Pacific and Atlantic Photos.)
Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Harrow, England.—Kate Douglas Wiggin, the American author, died here Thursday, August 23. The novelist was taken seriously ill on her voyage to England last June and went to a nursing home in Liverpool for treatment. Her condition, however, was not regarded as critical, and in a few days word came from the institution that she was able to spend much of her time out of doors.

Mrs. Wiggin was said to have failed to recover from the effects of an operation which she underwent shortly after her arrival.

Mrs. Wiggin was the author of “The Birds’ Christmas Carol” and other stories, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., on September 28, 1859. She was regarded as one of the most accomplished women engaged in literary and philanthropic work in the United States.

Klan Parade Broken Up in Wild Battle

Pennsylvania Town Scene of Street Fighting in Which Thousands Are Engaged.

By International News Service.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 26.—One member of the Ku Klux Klan was killed and many klansmen and civilians were injured in fighting which broke out just before midnight in the streets of Carnegie, Pa., when the Ku Klux Klan attempted to parade through the streets of the little town after more than 3,000 persons had been initiated into the order.

The klansmen, unidentified and in full regalia, was shot shortly after the parading klansmen had broken through the cordon of about 1,000 civilians who had attempted to halt the parade.

About 15,000 persons marched.

Klansmen Forced Back.

Flats, sticks and stones were used by both spectators and klansmen. The spectators finally forced the klansmen across a bridge at the outskirts of Carnegie.

Women and children were in terror. They sought shelter from missiles and stray bullets.

The klansmen formed again and rushed across the bridge into Carnegie again.

Sing During Fight.

Singing “Onward Christian Soldiers,” the klansmen then continued their march into the center of the little town that never before in its history saw so much excitement.

The fight was slow progress, due to opposition met at every point.

Shortly before midnight, shooting broke out. A short time later the fatality occurred.

Twenty deputy sheriffs, headed by John Dillon, attempted to drive back the anti-klansmen, but their efforts proved almost unavailing against great odds.

At 12:25, Edward N. Jones, superintendent of police, ordered all available motorcycle police and uniformed men to speed to Carnegie to aid the police force there.

Injured in Hospitals.

Some of the injured were taken to Pittsburgh hospitals in automobiles owned by Carnegie undertakers.

Both klansmen and their foes, their heads battered and bruised and their faces and clothing clogged with blood, lay on streets in the vicinity of the fighting and were taken to business houses nearby.

Americans Are Moving Homeward

More Than 20,000 Will Leave England This Week—Steamers to Have Capacity Loads.

Men Buying Clothing

By Universal Service.

London, Aug. 26.—One of the least concerned and easiest mannered of the thousands of American tourists who are moving homeward in the great tide was Miss Helen Barnard, 5, who stood today almost hidden amongst mountains of baggage in Waterloo station, at the end of five months of globe trotting.

“Father and I have visited Italy, France, Germany, Austria and several other countries,” said the tourist. “We are sailing on the Berengaria, and I will be glad to get home, but I enjoyed myself. I like London best of all the places we visited.”

More than 20,000 Americans will leave for home during the week. At the Waterloo station today the crush to board the boat trains was so great that the police had to close the gates several times.

The Leviathan leaves Tuesday with every berth taken. Among her passengers will be William M. Collier, American ambassador to Chile, who has been mentioned as the probable successor of Ambassador Harvey in England. Others to return on the Leviathan are Louis Wiley of the New York Times; W. A. DeFord and Judge DeFord, Congressman W. R. Wood, Courtland Parker and Senator and Mrs. Thomas Brown.

An association representing a number of London business houses estimate today that the American tourists in England this summer spent at least $1,000,000, the greatest proportion being expended on men's clothing. Astonishing amounts of clothing were bought by Americans.

One motor car company which had 500 limousines for hire did not have a single idle car from May until recently, owing to the heavy American demand. Between May 1 and August 15, more than 3,000 Americans traveled between London and Paris by air.

On the sailing list of one of the big liners this week is Barrington Bridgport, Hampton, Mass., which a Massachusetts dog man paid $5,000.

Aid of States Aim in Enforcing Dry Laws

Washington, Aug. 26.—Closely cooperation of the federal and state judicial forces in the government's campaign to enforce the Volstead law will be the prime object of the conference of governors soon to be called by President Coolidge in Washington, it was learned tonight.

Prohibition enforcement authorities meanwhile are working upon a program which governors will be asked to endorse. Government prohibition officials asserted that laws in many of the wet strongholds are being poorly enforced and that violators are getting off with light penalties.

Governors will be urged to expedite the trial of dry law cases in state courts. They will be asked also to impress upon the state courts the necessity for imposing heavier penalties for infractions of the dry law.

Doctor's Offices Are Robbed of Narcotics

Atlantic, Va., Aug. 25.—Offices of four doctors and a drug store in towns within a radius of 25 miles of Atlantic have been entered and robbed of narcotics.

At Neola, the office of Dr. Deitz was robbed of a small quantity of cocaine. Offices of Drs. Campbell and Adair of Anita were ransacked. Damage was done when a safe in Dr. Adair's office was forced open. Hypodermic needles were secured at the Campbell office.

At Adair, the office of Dr. James Maynard and the Mearan drug store were entered and a small quantity of “dope” taken.

Large Felt Sombreros to Become Headgear of Paris Boulevardiers

Paris, Aug. 26.—Large felt sombreros, with high crowns and wide brims, the hem of which will be slightly rolled up, comprise the new headgear to be worn by Paris boulevardiers.

This information comes from Gelot, the famous hatmaker of Paris, whose old firm in Place Vendome came into prominence when King Edward, the then prince of Wales, had his own exclusive models made there.

Dark gray and dark brown will be the only two colors adopted.

The derby is losing its popularity for next winter wear, but the squash hat will replace entirely the usual silk hat for evening wear.

Watch for Shots in Yards

By Universal Service.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 26.—Roy Hand, night watchman for the Harco Lumber company and recently a member of the police force, was shot by one of four men who jumped off a Union Pacific train and were making for the yards.

The officer undertook to search the four strangers. While doing so, one of them, standing about eight feet away, shot at the officer, inflicting a slight wound across the neck, just at the top of the chest.

The wound was slight and the officer assisted a posse of over a dozen men to search the city for the quartet.

Herndon was a night watchman for the Union Pacific about a year ago and is a trained officer.

Judge A. M. Post of Columbus Is Taken by Death

Prominent Nebraska Jurist, Former Member of State Supreme Court, Victim of Pneumonia.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Columbus, Neb., Aug. 26.—Judge A. M. Post of the Sixth judicial district and former justice of the Nebraska supreme court, died at his home here today from pneumonia following an emergency operation for appendicitis performed in a Laramie (Wyo.) hospital a month ago. He was stricken with appendicitis two days after arriving at Running Water ranch, owned by his sons-in-law, H. A. Clarke of Columbus and Dr. C. R. G. Forester of Chicago.

Judge Post was dean of the Platte county bar and with the exception of George L. Loomis of Fremont was the oldest attorney in the Sixth district from the standpoint of length of practice in the district, having established his law practice in Columbus in 1876. For many years he was one of the eminent attorneys and jurists of the state.

Born in Pennsylvania.

He was born in Greenfield, Pa., of an old colonial family, August 19, 1847. He was graduated from Ohio State university in 1868. He taught school in Iowa for a brief period and then entered the practice of law at Leon, Ia., in 1870. In 1874 he was appointed by President Grant as United States consul at Santiago, Cape de Verde, islands, where he served for two years.

Upon his return to America he established his law practice at Columbus. In 1883 he was appointed judge of the district court in the then Fourth district and held that position until the fall of 1891, when he held a position on the state supreme bench. He was justice of the supreme court until January, 1898, and was then appointed one of the United States district attorneys for Alaska by President McKinley.

He resigned after spending one year in Alaska, and returned to Columbus in 1899. From 1911 to 1913 he was chairman of the commission appointed to revise and codify the statutes of Nebraska.

Appointment Unsolicited.

In January, 1920, 37 years after his first appointment to the bench, he was appointed by Governor McKelvie as judge of the Sixth district following the resignation of Judge H. Thomas.

The appointment came to him without his solicitation and upon petition of practically all the attorneys in the district. He was elected in 1920 and was serving at the time of his death.

Judge Post was considered one of the most capable jurists who ever held a position on the state supreme bench, having a profound knowledge of the law. He was a staunch republican long prominent in party councils of the state. He was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and was a member of the Masonic order nearly half a century. He was the oldest member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity in Nebraska his membership dating back to his student days in Ohio State university in the 60's and he never lost his active interest in his fraternity.

Widow, Seven Children Survive.

On October 6, 1872, at Hamilton, Ia., Judge Post married Miss Ella Murray, who survived him, together with their five daughters and two sons. Mrs. H. A. Clarke, Mrs. Gus G. Beck, and Miss Alfreda Post of Columbus; Mrs. C. R. G. Forester of Chicago, Mrs. George B. Hoffman of Wichita Falls, Tex.; W. E. Post of Santa Monica, Cal., and A. M. ## Oh, Nothing, Only It Sometimes Pays to Take the Passengers' Wishes Into Consideration

Re-Election of Cosgrave Held Likely in Erin

Free State Government Is Scheduled to Secure Most Seats in Today's Contests.

Dublin, Aug. 26.—The whirlwind campaign preceding the Irish elections ended tonight in a perfect welter of oratory. More than 4,000 meetings, held in every part of Ireland, have prepared the men and women of Ireland for the most heated election in memory.

All impartial estimates of the results of Monday's polling indicate that President William T. Cosgrave will be returned to power.

The meetings of the campaign have, for the most part, been orderly and good-humored, with few interruptions of speakers.

The polls will open at 10 in the morning and close at 7. There will be a total cessation of work of all kinds.

The government has issued a warning against “personal convention,” but it is feared the size of the register will make it difficult to detect repeaters. It is not expected that the women will make a very heavy showing at the polls, although the women of the younger set will be out in force, many of them being among the workers at the polling places.

As far as it can be estimated tonight, the free state government will secure about 69 seats; the farmers and business men, 35 seats; labor, 15 independents, 15, and the republicans, 15 to 20.

State Offer Refused.

Kearney, Neb., Aug. 26.—Dr. R. R. Ensor, tendered the position of assistant superintendent of the Beatrice feeble minded institution by the state board of control, has officially declined and will continue his practice of medicine and surgery here, he announced today.

Who'll Buy 10 Planes? "You'd Be Surprised," Says Sheriff Endres

Two of the 10 airplanes ordered by District Judge Hastings to be sold at auction August 28 are being assembled and will be demonstrated Monday, the day before the sale, at Ak-Sar-ten field to show prospective bidders “just what kind of animals they are,” as William Koller of the Gordon fireproof warehouse said.

The planes have been in storage for about three years. Sheriff Mike Endres announced that several letters and telephone calls inquiring about the sale had been received.

Flapper Wrecks Hair Net Game

Market Glutted With Single Strand Variety for Which There's No Demand.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The “pig tail” hair net industry of China has gone to “pot” because of the whims and caprices of the American flapper Consul Lupton, at Chefoo, reported to the Department of Commerce recently.

The flapper just won't wear ‘em and the industry has practically collapsed.

Last year the single strand nets were in vogue, but the flapper has now ruled them “passé.” As a result, the industry and importers are glutted with singles for which there is no market. Attempts to palm them off on the trade at prices below cost is not meeting with much success, the department stated.

Food Shop Is Looted in Mexican Strike

Mexico City, Aug. 26.—The fourth day of the general strike in Vera Cruz was marked by the first outbreak of looting, when 40 armed men pillaged and wrecked a food shop. Oversight there was a slight increase in the stoppage of railway traffic, extending the idle zone as far as Puebla. There is no improvement in the maritime service.

Announcement by the war department that the federal troops will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz is interpreted as meaning that the central government is awaiting expected serious disorders before interfering.

The arbitration negotiations here are fruitless because of the refusal of Vera Cruz railway men's organizations, which are vitally concerned with the strike, to send representatives to Mexico City on President Oregon's invitation.

Bluffs Y. M. C. A. to Start Drive for New Members

A special committee headed by Dr. R. C. Williams will endeavor to increase the Y. M. C. A. membership roll in Council Bluffs from 600 to 1,000 during the course of a campaign to be launched at once. Many special inducements are being extended to men and boys, attracting them to memberships at the beginning of the fall and winter season.

Present members will be enlisted in the concerted drive and organization pins and other attractive prizes will be offered to those obtaining certain numbers of new members.

Omaha Man Held for Trial for Robbery in Kearney

Kearney, Neb., Aug. 26.—Lee Daniels of Omaha and Neal Husted of Des Moines have been brought here and stole goods to the value of about $200. Some of the goods were found in their possession.

Lafayette Day Meets Approval of President

Coolidge Endorses Celebration on September 6, Anniversary of Battle of Marne.

New York, Aug. 26.—President Coolidge, in a letter to the Lafayette day national committee, expresses gratification at plans calling for celebration on September 6 of Lafayette day and the anniversary of the battle of the Marne.

The letter, made public by the committee tonight, reads:

“The jointure, in the national celebration of Lafayette day and the anniversary of the battle of the Marne, is a particularly appealing and suggestive arrangement. Each event represented a milestone in the progress of freedom in this world, and it seems more than a striking coincidence that they should have fallen on the same day of the year, though more than a century and a half apart. I am glad to know that there is prospect of an unusual widespread observance of this double anniversary this year.”

The committee is bringing the president's message to the attention of governors, mayors and patriotic organizations whose co-operation has been invited.

The committee also has suggested that the tricolor of France, which Lafayette designed, be flown on his birthday with the Stars and Stripes, under which he fought in the continental army, and that statues and monuments of Lafayette be decorated with the colors of both flags.

Exercises will be held in many American cities, with the principal ceremony at Governors Island in New York harbor.

00-Acre 4Stock Farm at Cotesfield Nets $30,000

Central City, Neb., Aug. 25.—As a strong indication that a better feeling prevails over Nebraska and that conditions are now on the upgrade, the Nebraska Realty Auction company of this city sold a stock farm of 403 acres belonging to John Heselger, located at Cotesfield, for $30,000 at auction. Two hundred acres of the land was rough rolling pasture and taking this into consideration, it is thought that the price of $75 per acre was unusually good. Personal property sold the same day brought $7,500, horses selling for $270 a team.

Daskaloff Is Slain in Bohemia

Countryman Fires Fatal Bullets—Extradition Had Been Asked by Sofia Government.

Second Attempt on Life

By Associated Press.

Prague, Aug. 25.—Three shots were fired at M. Daskaloff, the Bulgarian ambassador, at noon today, and he died a short time later on the operating table. His assailant, Atanas Nikoloff, 26, Bulgarian, was arrested.

M. Daskaloff was appointed ambassador to Czechoslovakia under the regime of former Premier Stambouliski. When Stambouliski was overthrown by the Bulgarian army in June of this year, the new Sofia government requested the authorities to extradite Daskaloff, but the request was never complied with.

In December, last, when M. Daskaloff was minister of the interior, a bomb was thrown at his automobile as he was leaving the parliament.

No one was injured, and no damage was done.

Jazz Classic of Future, Is Claim

Folk Songs Were Once Popular Music, Composer Tells Teachers.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 26.—“Lift up your heads and sing, sing even ‘Yes, We Have No Bananas,’” said E. W. Newton, an eminent Boston composer, to 2,000 school teachers gathered here for the state summer school session at Yale university, and while the teachers looked at each other, Mr. Newton went on to explain maybe that might become a classic some day, and surely children should know the classics of music.

“People come into my office and ask me if I have heard ‘Yes, We Have No Bananas.’ Of course, I answer ‘Yes,’ and then they begin to denounce every popular song that ever was written. Then they turn right around and praise every folk song that was ever written. They do not realize that every folk song, when it first appeared, was a popular song.”

“It is the people and not the critics who determine the value of a song.”

Mr. Newton then had his pianist play “Dixie” in the manner of Wagner, Beethoven, Bizet, et al., and “Belle Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms” in the Berlin manner, while teachers absorbed the idea and are ready to set Connecticut children on the new song road.

Farmer Is Bound Over for Assault on Boy

Tecumseh, Neb., Aug. 26.—Martin Antholz, middle-aged farmer living southeast of Tecumseh, was arrested and bound over for trial in the district court of Nemaha county at Auburn, charged with assault on Marvin Hagelbach, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Louis Hagelbach.

Young Hagelbach, according to the report made by the authorities, was caught by Antholz pilfering his home, and the officials say he beat the boy so badly that his condition is critical.

Dr. Fairall, Tecumseh physician, who is attending him, says a rib was broken, and that he suffered internal injuries, his eyes were nearly swollen shut and he was splitting blood when brought to his office.

Why Sit About Home? Nebraska Roads Are Calling to Motorists Why Not Have Picnic?

There is no necessity for sitting around the house wondering where to go on Sunday, while the faithful benzine cart ticks merrily and laden with cobwebs. There are several spots around Omaha which make ideal picnic locations.

King's lake is 24 miles from Omaha on good roads, where, if a chicken lunch is too much bother, a basket dinner may be obtained.
